Trial of Abe Ruef to Begin Today and Revelations Are Expected.

Strike Upon Strike Now Coming in Poor Pestered San Francisco.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. Tobias Earl of Los Angeles achieved a reputation as a funny fellow by his testimony before the grand jury today.

He arrived in town this morning and was called before the jury this afternoon.

For an hour or more he sat on the witness stand and "kidded" the members of the grand jury with his merry jests. He insisted upon scintillating, to the weariness of the jury and Attorney Heney. He glowed with the light of paste jewelry. He evaded, answered at random, dodged and denied.

For a long time it was impossible to get anything at all from him regarding the Home Telephone affair. He said that he is a trustee of the Western Trust Company which underwrote the Home Telephone bonds. He claimed he did not know anything about the toting of $150,000 boodle to San Francisco to get the franchise. Later he is said to have weakened and to have admitted that he knew of [illegible] to San Francisco [illegible] not to know what was done with the [illegible] alleged bribery.

As he left the jury room, he said to Francis Heney: "I have found out more about graft since I have been in this jury room than I ever heard of before."

Heney looked at him a minute in satirical silence; then said, "Well I guess that's so," which so delighted E. Tobias, that he begged and received formal permission to repeat it to the newspapers.

The other Los Angeles men who have hitherto testified have told their stories and hurried away. Not so E. Tobias. He even took the reporters to lunch with him and related to them with glee his saucy and cunning remarks.

It is said, however, that the prosecutor has decided to subpoena several other Los Angeles men connected with Home Telephone affairs, believing that they can show Tobias to have strayed from the straight and narrow path of truth. This would indeed be a shocking affair.

Dr. John R. Haynes will probably not be called before the grand jury, it having been discovered that he is merely a stockholder and not a director in any of the concerns involved.

HUGHES UNDER FIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

UTICA (N. Y.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Hughes narrowly escaped being hit by a bullet three miles east of this city this afternoon aboard the Empire State Express on the New York Central. The bullet hit a window in the coach in the rear of the parlor car in which the executive was riding, broke the glass and plowed its way through the frame of a ventilator window. The missile passed close to a woman's head and splinters of glass were sprinkled over her gown.

Local police and New York Central detectives are at work on the case tonight, going on the assumption that the bullet was intended to harm, or at least frighten, the Governor, who, however, was unaware of the incident until told about it later.

There are few clews upon which the police are able to work, and the possibility of an early arrest in the matter is remote.

STORK BEATS TRAIN.

Baby Born to Immigrant in Canada While Engineer Speeds To Make Him American.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT (Mich.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the Michigan Central immigrant train was speeding on its way to Windsor this morning, a baby boy was born to Mrs. Mary Rosenbloom, a Russian Jewish immigrant, on her way to the United States.

The proud mother was anxious that the child should be born in the United States, the land of her adoption, and the engineer put on full speed at her request, but the stork took matters in its own hands, and the youngest member of the Rosenbloom family will have to claim Canada as his nativity, though he missed being born under the Stars and Stripes by only a few hours. The little mite of humanity came into existence near Tillbury, Ontario.

One of the Michigan Central surgeons had been notified in advance, and remained with the mother and child until the train arrived at Windsor.

WOULD OUST "EXPERTS."

Assemblyman Argues Use of Hypothetical Question Is So Abused as to Destroy Value.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bill to do away with expert testimony as to the sanity of the defendant in criminal cases has been prepared by a leading member of the Assembly, and will be introduced this week. The bill is the direct outcome of the Thaw trial.

The testimony offered by leading alienists in that case furnishes excellent reasons, according to legislators, for amending the Criminal Code, so as to make the production of such evidence impossible in the future.

The right to put hypothetical questions to the expert as to the sanity of the defendant, it is urged, is abused to such an extent that it no longer serves to promote the ends of justice.

BREWERIES TO FIGHT GAMING.

TEXAS ASSOCIATION WILL POLICE SALOONS OF STATE.

Beer Manufacturers Organize Extensive Corps of Detectives Who Will Report Violators of Law Against Cards, Dice and Slot Machines, and Drive Out "Dives."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Texas Brewers' Association has made a bold move to rid the saloons of all forms of gambling under the new anti-gambling law. The beer manufacturers have put up a bond of $500,000 with the State that they will keep the saloons of Texas free from cards, dice, dominoes and slot machines.

They have organized a secret-service corps of 300 men who are to tour the State and furnish evidence of violations of the law. Counsel has been retained and any saloon-keeper who allow dice, cards or dominoes to be exhibited in his establishment will be prosecuted to the [illegible].

The association has set aside $200,000 to be used in [illegible]. The beer manufacturers [illegible] this police organization [illegible] and will set aside $100,000 annually for this purpose. There are [illegible] "dry" counties in Texas.

SOUTH TACKLES RACE PROBLEM.

TWO MOVEMENTS START, FOSTERED BY NOTED MEN.

One Plan, Said to Be Backed by Five of Nation's Wealthiest Philanthropists, Provides for Co-operation of Moral Forces, While Other Would Revise Laws Affecting Negroes.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) April 1.—Two great movements looking toward the solution of the race problem in the South, especially in Georgia, have been launched and have gained the support of some of the most prominent men in the country, according to a statement made at a conference of the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers' Association today.

One movement is being urged by Dr. John E. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who reported to the conference that it is gaining great headway.

"Five of the wealthiest men in the South," Dr. White stated, "have put all they have back of this movement. We contemplate the organization of all the moral forces of the South in one body and the appointment of a commission, composed of the best and most learned men of the South, to handle the problem and deal with the situation affecting the relationship of the races."

The other movement is being fostered by former Gov. W. J. Northen of Georgia, who has been urging in speeches all over the State the establishment of better relations between the races. The plan contemplates the selection of a State commission, composed of lawyers, whose duty it shall be to have the laws of the State so revised as to do away with the present objections to the legal manner of trying and punishing persons charged with criminal assault and to provide for the punishment of the leaders and members of mobs.

CANADIANS BANQUET BRYCE.

Laurier Declares Canadians No Longer Desire Trade Reciprocity With United States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ambassador Bryce was banqueted hospitably tonight. Earl Grey, the Governor-General, was absent through sickness. The gathering was the annual meeting of the Canadian Club.

Sir Wilfred Laurier plainly intimated that Canada would make no concessions unless for a fair return. He said Bryce, as a diplomat, had established a record, being the first British Ambassador to visit Canada. He said also that the New York newspapers had credited Canada with a yearning for reciprocity were twenty-five years behind the time.

"There was a time when we might possibly have given our right arm for that, but that time is past."

Bryce made a splendid speech, but said nothing really new. He made it plain that both political parties in England are friendly to Canada, and if a closer union with the empire is desired, would welcome overtures from any of the colonies. He said the feeling of Americans generally was yearly growing more friendly to Canada.

DELTA CHI MEETS.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Delegates representing nineteen colleges and three alumni chapters in the Delta Chi Fraternity met in annual convention in this city today. Among the universities represented are Leland Stanford and Washington State.

BLUFFERS WEAKEN.

Trainmen Scale Off Their Demand.

They Accept Managers' Proposition as to Ways, but Stickle for Time.

Arbiters Spend Entire Day Going Between Rooms of Committees.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The railway employés showed signs of weakening today.

They are now making a stand for the nine-hour day, as presented in their modified demands, and it is understood they will concede the 12 per cent. increase they are asking and accept the increase of 10½ per cent. offered by the general managers, if the basis for computing overtime is pushed forward one hour.

The general managers claim they cannot grant the nine-hour day, and positively refuse to advance a step further in the wage scale.

The railroad conference adjourned at 2 a.m., without final agreement. It will resume tomorrow morning. It was not a joint conference, the commissioners conferring separately with managers and employés.

CONFER SEPARATELY.

This was another day of fruitless conferences. Commissioners Knapp and Neill spent the entire day, first with one side and then the other. During the afternoon they had both parties to the controversy in separate [illegible] at the Auditorium Annex, but the joint conference, which was hopefully looked for, failed to materialize.

The [illegible] of the demand for the 12 per cent. is likely to be made tomorrow, and if not accepted by the railway officials will probably end negotiations. The men say in so doing they will have met the situation in the spirit asked by President Roosevelt, and can do no more.

But little of what is going on behind the doors of the apartment of the Washington officials can be gleaned. After the conferences Commissioner Knapp repeats the same stereotyped answer to queries: "We have no statement to be given out as yet."

BOTH SIDES BLUFFING.

The general managers and the union men are equally as secretive and refuse to discuss the situation.

"The railways will not move from the position they have taken even in case of a strike," declared Slason Thompson, spokesman for the managers. "They have gone as far as they can go safely and would like to receue from the offer they have already made."

"We will drop all talk of percentages and make a stand on a nine-hour day," declared the men.

Between the two the Washington commissioners are still waving the olive branch, but it is certain that the present condition of affairs can not remain the same for another day. A break from the employés' side is almost certain tomorrow. Both sides are putting in their final bluff.

SAYS STRIKE IS UNLIKELY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Commissioner of Immigration Sargent has not returned from a trip of inspection through the West. "While in Chicago," Sargent said, "I met and talked with the officials of various trainmen's unions and I can safely say there will be no strike. The men and the officials of the roads are not so far apart, but that an agreement can be reached by mutual concessions. I am confident from my talk that both sides are anxious to affect a settement without a strike."

EMPLOYERS FEAR STRIKE.

The railroads yesterday announced a secret vote just completed among their employés, showing a strong sentiment against calling a big strike and in favor of accepting the wage offer of the roads. The announcement was made to the Federal Commissioners who are attempting to bring about a settlement of the dispute. It may have an important bearing on the peace negotiations.

LUGS IN STORER TO FRENCH ROW.

FIGARO PRINTS NUNCIO'S WORDS TO MERRY DEL VAL.

Among Papers Seized When Diplomat Was Expelled, Figaro Says, Is Report to Cardinal Secretary of State Dealing With American's Transfer.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, April 2.—The Figaro again today turned to the investigation into the possession of the documents at the time of the expulsion from France of Mgr. Montagnani, the former papal nuncio here. The paper says these documents are all in its possession, and it purposes to print separate papers from time to time as seems suitable.

Today's publication consists of three documents, the substance of which has already appeared in the analysis of all the documents made by the paper. The first document is a report to Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State. It begins with reciting the visit of a lady "of a certain name," who desired to sell compromising letters from an archbishop to whom the nuncio had given a little good advice, which the archbishop had promised to follow. It then rehearses the substance of conversations with Jacques Piou, president of the Liberal League, including a statement of the readiness of M. Clemenceau to be bought.

The second document, also a report to Cardinal Merry del Val, takes up principally the opposition to the Liberal League met in religious circles. A most interesting portion of this document refers to efforts to secure the appointment of Bellamy Storer as American Ambassador in succession to Gen. Porter.

"I take this opportunity," the report says, "to inform you that Gen. Porter, the American Ambassador, having manifested his intention to retire, influence has been exterted with President Roosevelt to get him to appoint Mr. Storer, an excellent Catholic and now Ambassador at Vienna, to Paris. It has been pointed out to President Roosevelt that a Catholic as Ambassador to France at the present [illegible] is impossible. President Roosevelt, who after all is a free thinker and believing he would be more acceptable to M. Delcassé, is understood to be disposed to accept the suggestion of a secretary, who proposes George Von L. Meyer, the Ambassador to Italy, for the Paris post. Mr. Meyer does not know French and is of Hebrew origin. I know that some one will make overtures to M. Delcassé and that eventually the President will favor Mr. Storer."

The third document is a letter from Cardinal Merry del Val to the archbishop of Lyons, instructing him to interfere with the League of French Women. The Figaro considers that this letter simply shows that the Pope was acting only in the interests of religion as was his duty and in no way supporting anti-Republican ideas.

The Figaro concludes with a threat to publish certain documents containing alleged conversations with diplomats unless it is sure that the government will not publish them.

SURPRISE KILLS HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lawrence W. Waggowitch, a prisoner serving time in the Toledo workhouse for beating his wife, dropped dead this noon when informed that his wife had paid his fine and secured his release.

Waggowitch has been a particularly tough customer, and when on the 20th of March, last, he was convicted of wife beating and disturbance, he was fine $20 and costs and sent to the workhouse.

The frail little wife, who has four minor children to care for, struggled and saved until she had enough money to obtain the release of the man who had nearly killed her. She went to Supt. Stevens this morning, deposited the money and Stevens went to release Waggowitch.

The joy of prospective freedom and remorse were too much for Waggowitch and he died before a physician could be summoned.

BAY LOVERS FIGHT DUEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—To decide who should be first in the affections of a little girl playmate, John Fuchillo, aged 13, and Rosario Compte, aged 11, faught a duel with pen knives on the slope of Telegraph Hill last night. As a result young Fuchillo lies at the Central Emergency Hospital, with a deep cut in his shoulder.

BOOTH GOES TO ORIENT.

WILL DEPOSIT FUNDS DIRECTLY IN BANKS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nothing short of the ultimate abolishment of the subtreasury system, Wall street thought today, was aimed at in a plan ascribed to Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou. Reports were current in banking circles that he was considering a system of depositing customs receipts direct in banks. If adopted that plan ultimately might do away with a large part of the work now done by the subtreasuries and go a long way toward ending their expenses.

Under the provisions of the recently-enacted Aldrich Financial Law, the Secretary of the Treasury may deposit customs receipts in national banks. Secretary Cortelyou has already placed more than $15,000,000 of accumulated customs receipts in banks of the city. Under the present system the work of depositing and withdrawing this money must be carried on through the local subtreasury.

It is understood Cortelyou is considering the establishment of a system by which he may deposit customs receipts in the banks direct and draw on them by means of checks to pay government expenses, rather than to withdraw such money through the subtreasuries.

HARRIMAN IS THEIR QUARRY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An important move of the government in the investigation of the Harriman railroad merger is promised for next Thursday when the Interstate Commerce Commission resumes its hearings of the case. This date was set for arguments on the proposition as to whether the joining of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific interests does not constitute a combination in restraint of trade.

Frank B. Kellogg, [illegible] the government, has been holding [illegible] conferences with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the President and the Attorney General, and, it is understood, is preparing to spring a surprise on Harriman. The President is deeply interested in probing the Harriman case to the bottom. He blames Harriman for much of the recent disturbances in the financial market.

Little importance is attached to the argument that the attorneys for Harriman will submit on the question of the Union and Southern Pacific merger, as they think this is fully covered by the decision in the Northern Securities case.

It is understood, however, that every fact and authority is being searched in order to lay the foundation for a prosecution of Harriman and that if the prosecution goes into the case further in the hearing Thursday it will be for the purpose of developing some evidence to be used in those expected proceedings.

The commission believes enough has been developed to sustain a prosecution for the dissolution of the Union Pacific combination, but it wants to reach Harriman personally.

There is still hanging over Harriman the menace of the San Pedro contract, about which nothing was asked him at the inquiry in New York. This is a subject that has been gone into by the commissioners' attorneys and it may be sprung Thursday.

FEAR RACE WAR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) April 2.—At 1 o'clock this morning a telephone message received here from Durant, I. T., says that an appeal had reached there for all the deputy marshals at that point to go at once to Cale Station, five miles away on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, to aid the white people who were threatened with attack by a band of negroes who had been to Colbert and armed themselves for the avowed purpose of avenging the lynching of Jim Williams there last night.

Williams was accused of attacking Tillie Mizner, a young white woman. The white people at Cale say they have a force of seventy-five men ready to fight, but are without ammunition. The negroes are said to be well armed and to number 300. Help will be sent at once. The marshals are now forming a posse to start for Cale.

GO REPUBLICAN.

HELENA (Mont.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Municipal elections were held in the chief cities of Montana today. The weather was ideal, and as party lines were closely drawn, an unusually heavy vote was polled.

In Helena seven Aldermen were elected, of which the Republicans captured five. One Independent Republican won and one Democrat pulled through.

In Butte, Joseph Corby, Republican was elected Mayor. In Bozeman, Republicans elected the entire ticket, except Police Magistrate and one Alderman.

Republicans also elected Mayors in Billings and Anaconda, while Democrats were successful in Great Falls. All in all, it was a repetition of last fall's Republican landslide.

REYBURN SUCCEEDS WEAVER.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—John Weaver today completed his four years as Mayor of Philadelphia, a term that was as stormy as any administration in the city's history. He was succeeded at noon by John I. Reyburn, who resigned his seat in Congress. With the expiration of Mayor Weaver's term the Republican organization which was in complete control of municipal affairs until two years ago, when it was defeated in a memorable fight over the leasing of the gas works, again comes into full power.

President Endorses Republican Choice for Mayor of City by Lake.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Amid the waving of 5000 American flags and shouts for Fred Busse, that reëchoed for blocks, the closing shots in the greatest Mayoralty campaign that Chicago ever has had, were fired at the Auditorium tonight. Nearly 6000 people rallied to the call for immediate settlement of the traction question, and gathered at the Auditorium to hear Gov. Deneen, Congressman Boutell, William E. Mason, John Maynard Harlan and Emil C. Wetten, while thousands of persons anxious to cheer the Republican speakers were turned away from the doors.

The election of Fred A. Busse as Mayor of Chicago by a plurality of 40,000, as predicted by former Senator Mason, was cheered until Mr. Wetten, who acted as chairman, was compelled to rap for order.

WOMEN ARE INTERESTED.

The audience presented an appearance different from the ordinary political gathering, for it included men and women, and so represented Chicago's highest type. The boxes were filled with daintily-attired women, and the entire auditorium presented a [illegible] ence, it appeared that the climax of the evening was reached when Congressman [illegible] Hearst, holding him responsible for a campaign of slander and vilification.

Mayor Dunne closed his campaign at the Northwestern University building, where 500 students greeted him as a rival and manifested a deep interest in what he said in defense of his administration.

BETTING IS FOR BUSSE.

No election in the history of Chicago has ever developed such a great volume of betting as was placed on the decided favorite at the polls tomorrow. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were wagered today on the result and in nearly every instance Busse was the favorite at odds of 11 to 7, and finally at odds of 6 to 5.

"Jim" O'Leary, the greatest bookmaker in America, said tonight that he had $350,000 on his books with Busse the favorite, at odds of 11 to 7, 6 to 5, 5 to 4, and even money.

"There will be close to $2,000,000 bet on this election," said O'Leary. "New York bettors are telegraphing large sums to be placed here, and we are getting orders from Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, St. Paul, Denver, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Memphis, New Orleans and Louisville, with orders from $100 to $5,000 on Busse."

PRESIDENT WANTS BUSSE.

President Roosevelt today broke his reserve upon the Chicago Mayoralty fight and [illegible] to say to the people of Chicago that he heartily desires the election of Busse.

The President's position is clearly and emphatically set forth in the following dispatch from the Tribune's Washington correspondent:

"I can wish Chicago no better fortune than to have Mr. Busse as Mayor, because he will see that the work is done [illegible] as postmaster [illegible] make one of the most efficient executives that Chicago ever had."

The Tribune is authorized to state that President Roosevelt wrote the above sentence in a letter he wrote to a friend in Chicago.

The Tribune is further authorized to say that the President has taken the deepest interest in Busse's candidacy. He has followed the career of the Republican candidate for Mayor with close attention and was highly gratified at the work of Busse as postmaster of Chicago.

How One San Francisco Paper Subordinates Large News to Sycophancy to Unions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Trying to pander to labor unions in this crisis is causing some of the San Francisco papers softening of the brain.

The front page of one evening paper tonight was plastered with the following:

Instructs Pickets to Shoot Special Guards.

Mayor and Police Fear Reign of Thuggery.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The machinists' strike situation in Toledo is growing desperate. Following the announcement today that all strikers will, in the future, carry arms, there was held a meeting of the Mayor, Chief of Police and the Police Judge. The meeting was held for devising ways and means to guard against the bloodshed which now seems imminent.

Under the law the men can be kept from carrying concealed weapons, but it is a question whether they can be prevented from carrying weapons in plain sight.

The statement which has caused the worry and trouble was given out by J. Keegan, vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, and, in part, is as follows:

"We have withdrawn our policy of non-resistance. Hereafter we are going to defend ourselves even though we have to resort to thuggery in doing it.

"We are going to arm every man doing picket duty, and every picket will be instructed to shoot if assailed or attacked by the armed guards of the employers.

"We have positive proof," said Keegan, "that Police Judge Steward has told the management of the Toledo Machine and Tool Company that the strike-breakers and guards may carry arms. That being so, the union men will now be armed and told to defend themselves."

SET TRIAL DATE.

HAYWOOD FIRST ON LIST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOISE (Idaho) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the District Court for Ada conunty this morning, with the approval of attorneys on botn sides, who each expressed readiness for trial at once, the trials of Charles H. Moyer, William D. Haywood and George A. Pettibone, charged with the murder of former Gov. Frank Steunenburg, were set to begin at 10 o'clock in the forenoon on May 9 next.

Upon the demand being made by each defendant for a separate trial, the attorneys for the State designated William Haywood as the first to be tried. John Nugent of Boise, and Fred Miller of Spokane represented the prisoners today, and J. H. Hawley and William E. Borah of Boise, and W. A. Stone of Caldwell represented the State.

Nugent asked who would be the second man tried, and Hawley replied that the State had not yet decided, but would make the announcement soon. The prisoners were in court and appeared in excellent spirits, especially Haywood. Mrs. Moyer is ill in the hospital, just recovering from a delicate operation, and was unable to be in court. Mrs. Pettibone was also absent, being with Mrs. Moyer.

The case of the Western Federation officials came to Judge Wood's court from Caldwell, where, on last Monday, Judge Wood overruled the motion of the defense for a change of venue to Washington county and gave the defense their option for trial in Cañon county or at Boise (Ada county.) The defense chose Boise, and, accordingly, the cases were transferred to the regular April term of the District Court.

LABOR BRIEFS.

Juneau Miners Strike.

SEATTLE, April 1.—Advices from Juneau last night report a strike of 800 miners at the Treadwell mine on Douglas Island. The operators refuse to confer with a union committee. Troops have been ordered to the scene by acting Governor Diston, from Fort Seward.

Oakland Laundrymen Quit.

OAKLAND, April 1.—Refusal on the part of the eight steam laundries of Alameda county to grant an increase of from $2 to $2.50 a week precipitated a strike of the operators this morning. Six hundred men and women are out and no attempt is being made by the laundry companies to operate their plants. The local union is preparing to start a steam laundry of its own, with capital subscribed by its members.

Unions' Demands Rejected.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Twelve hundred laundry workers this morning voted to go on strike when their employers refused to grant them an eight-hour day and an increase of wages, and as a result nine laundries were closed down. Only three laundries agreed to the terms proposed by the union. At 8 o'clock this morning the demands of the union were presented to the employers and were rejected. Then the employés marched in a body to the Labor Temple, where they voted to declare a strike.

Montgomery Strike Broken.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) April 1.—Gen. M. Ragland of the Montgomery Traction Company announces that full car service will be resumed today and that cars will be run tonight for the first time at night since the strike was declared. Five strike breakers reached Montgomery last night.

Stone Cutters Take Rest.

MILFORD (Mass.) April 1.—About 350 union stone cutters employed by three granite companies in this town went on strike today because of the refusal of the companies to grant them an increase of 3 cents an hour in wages and a Saturday half-holiday throughout the year.

Painters Walk Out.

NEW YORK, April 1.—A conference committee consisting of five members each of the Amalgamated Painters' Society and the Brotherhood of Painters, which was appointed to take charge of the strike of the two unions this week for the new wage scale, has notified the locals of the unions in all five departments of the city to withdraw their men today from all buildings where the union scale is not paid. Secretary George Finger of the Brotherhood of Painters estimates that about 10,000 painters walked out today on hundreds of buildings and in ship yards. The demands are for an increase of wages of 50 cents a day.

Carpenters and Builders Strike.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) April 1.—All carpenters and painters in Vancouver went on strike this morning and building operations are at a standstill. Seven hundred and fifty carpenters attended a mass meeting this morning, when it was decided to strike until the contractors agree to increase wages by $1 per day.

Miners Like Loafing.

READING (Pa.) April 1.—Most of the mine workers throughout the anthracite regions are idle today. They continued to suspend today in commemoration of the new nine-hour day rule, and demonstrations were held in different towns. The collieries will resume work tomorrow.

OBITUARY.

Charles S. Graham.

NORFOLK (Va.) April 1.—Charles S. Graham, aged 86, who was a purser clerk on one of Commodore Perry's ships during the latter's expedition to Japan more than half a century ago, and which resulted in the opening of the ports of the Mikado's empire to foreign commerce, died Sunday at his home in Portsmouth, Va., where he was a merchant.

P. L. Bunce.

J. R. Kennedy.

MARYSVILLE, April 1.—J. R. Kennedy, a pioneer miner of this county, is dead at Honout, aged 70 years.

S. W. Mahon.

BAKERSFIELD, April 1.—S. W. Mahon, justice of the peace for over twenty years, and City Recorder since the incorporation of the city, died last night from pneumonia. He was a brother of Superior Judge J. W. Mahon of Kern county, and Superior Judge Kirby Mahon of Sutter county. The interment will be at Modesto.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

TRAGEDY AT TRIAL.

The shadow of a tragedy rested for a moment over the trial of Judge Abner Smith and his co-defendants this afternoon, when the name of John I Straw, self-slayer, was mentioned in the trial of the former bankers. That there was any vital connection between the action of the man who shot himself in a West Side pharmacy two months ago and the alleged manipulations of the Bank of America's funds. the prosecution did not bring out. Straw, however, who was president of the druggists' association and a man of wide acquaintance, and some political prestige, had acted as agent for the bank in the sale of stock certificates among Chicago druggists. At the time of his death it was given out that he was ruined financially.

MARINETTE (Wis.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Isaac Stephenson, Jr., has sold the entire plant and holdings of the Ludington Wells and Van Scaad-Schaak Company at Ludington, La., for $3,000,000. The company operated in Menominee, Mich., for thirty years and removed to the South with its mills and machinery when the timber in this section had nearly all been cut.

THINK ALARM, JOKE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KENT (O.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because every one in the village regarded an alarm of fire turned in as only an April fool joke, the Sperry House, a local hostelry, was destroyed early today. No one responded to the alarm and the house was soon in ruins.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police commissioners today ordered the discontinuance of further production of "Mrs. Warren's Profession," and, in turn, were restrained by the Federal courts from executing the order.

DEFENSE RESTS IN THAW CASE.

Will Call No New Witnesses Before Commission.

Want to Hurry Work of Lunacy Board.

Report Expected Thursday on Prisoner's Sanity.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—An important development in the court proceedings against Harry K. Thaw was the announcement today by counsel for the prisoner that the Thaw side rests, so far as further testimony by their side is concerned before the lunacy commission. The defense believes that this will help to bring this particular hearing to an early close, and that the trial will not be delayed by more than a week by the movement to determine Thaw's sanity at the present time.

The defense assumes, of course, that the commission will find that Thaw is now sane. In fact, they are supremely confident of such an outcome, basing their opinion on the splendid showing Thaw is said to have made when questioned by the commissioners.

It is probable that the lunacy commission will report Thursday morning. The case was adjourned last week until this morning. When the jury was called before the court today, Justice Fitzgerald adjourned the trial again until Thursday morning. The lunacy commission will meet tomorrow, and it is expected that they will be ready to report Thursday.

In case the commission finds that Thaw is today insane, within the meaning of the law, the trial will be stopped, but if they find that he is capable of going on, the trial will be resumed at once. It is doubtful if the defense will call any other witnesses. As soon as the defense rests, the summing up will begin, and, under the agreement made between the attorneys, will last for two days.

When Mrs. Evelyn Thaw made her daily visit to her husband in the Tombs she was met by a process server, who handed her a subpoena, directing her to appear before the lunacy commission tomorrow. Mrs. Thaw was told that her presence was merely a matter of routine.

Dist.-Atty. Jerome does not share the opinion of the defense that the commission will conclude its hearing so soon. He said the defense was assuming too much, and expressed the belief that several days would elapse before the commission reported.

Jerome believes that the commission will hear his alienists, and he hopes, besides, that the testimony of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton will be admitted.

There is no doubt that the hearing will be prolonged if the State's alienists are allowed to testify as fully as Jerome wishes, but the defense's lawyers believe that they will only be permitted to tell what they think of Thaw's present condition and facts of the distant past, on which most of their conclusions are based, will be eliminated.

Daniel O'Reilly, who since the commission was appointed, has taken active part in the defense with Clifford W. Hartridge, made the announcement that Thaw will stand on his testimony before the commission, and that counsel would call no witnesses. He said: "The defense will offer no witnesses. We will not call any alienists, although we know that Mr. Jerome has the promise of the commissioners to hear what his experts have to say on the writings of Thaw, on the evidence as adduced at the trial, and on the observations they have made during the trial."

O'Reilly expressed the opinion that Dr. Hamilton would not be allowed to testify.

RUEF BEGS FOR MORE LIBERTY.

APPEALS TO SUPREME COURT AGAINST ELISOR

Says He Is Under Such Strict Guard of Armed Men That He Can Talk to Counsel Confidentially Only in Whispers, and He Palliates His Trocadero Flight.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—On the eve of his trial on the charge of extorting $28,000 from French restaurant keepers of this city, which is to be begun tomorrow morning before Judge Dunne in the Superior Court, Abraham Ruef today asked the Supreme Court of California to free him from the custody of Elisor Biggy, and order him into the charge of the Sheriff whom Judge Dunne disqualified on the ground of personal interest.

Ruef by his attorneys, Messrs. Shortridge, Ach, Fairall and Murphy, filed in the higher court an application for a writ of habeas corpus, so extensive in allegations, arguments and citations of authorities that it occupies twenty-one typewritten pages and embraces sixty-two subdivisions.

Ruef sets up that his imprisonment, detention and curtailment of liberty by Elisor Biggy in the house, No. 2849 Fillmore street, are illegal; that his case was in court for four months prior to March 4, and that on that date, being indisposed he concluded to visit the Trocadero, a suburban resort, and there recuperate, believing on the advice of his counsel that his presence in court was not required owing to an appeal taken by him to the Supreme Court of the United States by means of a writ of error granted by Superior Judge Hebbard; that he was there arrested without legal right; that he has applied to Judge Dunne for admittance to bail and been refused; that he is 42 years old, has lived in San Francisco all his life, has been engaged in the practice of the law for twenty years, and has large business interests at stake; that he is constantly and minutely watched by eight private guards and the court elisor, all of them bearing fire arms, all of them employed by Rudolph Spreckels, Francis J. Heney and William J. Burns, and all of them paid out of a private fund of $100,000 raised and guaranteed by Spreckels; that his indictment by the grand jury was instigated and caused by Spreckels, Heney and Burns; that Spreckels, Heney and Judge Dunne are his political enemies; that so strict is the espionage maintained over him by his guards that it is impossible for him to have privacy even in conversation with his attorneys except by whispering softly; that he has complained to Judge Dunne through his counsel, and been refused more liberty; that persons who are to be witnesses in his defense are not permitted to visit and converse with him in the preparation of his defense; that he is compelled to sleep in a bed chamber occupied by guards and wherein lights are kept burning all night; that he is practically in a state of solitary confinement, not even his attorneys being allowed to visit him except at the discretion of the elisor; that he is being punished, imprisoned and humiliated before trial, and that he cannot properly prepare his defense under existing conditions of confinement; that all this is being done for the express purpose of hindering and hampering himself and his counsel in the preparation of his defense; that he is not held by lawful authority; that he is held without bail on the ground that his trial has begun under section 11,129 of the penal code which is unconstitutional and violative of the fifth and eighth amendments to the Constitution of the United States and of Section 6 of Article 1, of the Constitution of California, referring to bail and to cruel and unusual punishment; that he is being cruelly and unusually punished. He asks to be discharged from the custody of the elisor on reasonable bail and to be then ordered into the custody of the Sheriff, and that pending the hearing of this petition, all order of the court be made directing the elisor to permit any one person at a time to visit and to talk to him within reasonable hours and to permit any person to visit him upon written order of his counsel and to permit him to consult freely and openly with his attorneys outside of the hearing of Elisor Biggy and his guards.

Heney started a sensation among the newspaper men immediately after today's grand jury session by remarking that he had in his possession "one of the notebooks of Halsey's former stenographer, and a typewritten transcript of its contents." He would not discuss the matters contained or give any information as to their importance to the prosecution.

The trials of Supervisor Nicholas, Janitor Duffy and Nathan Adler, the latter the proprietor of a French restaurant charged with conspiracy and petty extortion, have been continued by Judge Dunne for two weeks. They will follow the Ruef and Schmitz cases on the calendar.

TRIAL OF RUEF RESUMES TODAY.

"DELMONICO" RESTAURANT CASE FIRST UP.

Prosecution Selects Charge as Strongest in Group of Five Indictments for Extortion—Heney Will Not Try Curly Boss, but Confine Work to Presenting Evidence to Grand Jury.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The trial of Abraham Ruef on one of the charges of extortion in the French restaurants cases will be resumed before Superior Judge Dunne tomorrow. The case that will be tried first is the one known as the "Delmonico's." It has been selected by the prosecution as being the strongest in this group of five.

Before the grand jury, Malfante, the proprietor of the restaurant, testified that he had paid Ruef $1175, and promised an additional payment of $1000 one year later, because of fear.

This fear is regarded by the prosecution as the basis of the extortion, whereas the defense will contend that the fear was not of Ruef, but of the condition that existed, and that the curly boss was retained and paid to combat the probable loss of license, in which the proprietors of the restaurant stood in fear.

The announcement that Heney will not participate in the trial of Ruef in the French restaurant case has caused surprise. It is known that Heney and Burns secured the testimony on which the indictments were based, and it was the former that presented the evidence to the grand jury, through the witnesses he called before that body. He is, therefore, fully familiar with the evidence in all its details.

But it has been announced that Dist.-Atty. Langdon, assisted by Hiram Johnson, will represent the prosecution. Heney, it is said, will confine himself to work before the grand jury.

THIS IS HENEY'S BUSY WEEK.

GRAFT WORK ACCUMULATES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The coming week promises to be a busy one in the investigation of alleged municipal graft. The grand jury will resume its investigation into the telephone cases tomorrow afternoon. When these are concluded the prize fight trust and overhead trolley franchise will be looked into. It is expected to begin the trial of Abraham Ruef before Superior Judge Dunne Tuesday on the charge of extortion from the proprietors of French restaurants.

BOARD SPURNS FALLEN BOSS.

SUPERVISORS OUST HENCHMAN OF RUEF FROM OFFICE.

Thirteen Supervisors Publicly Jump Into Anti-Graft Band Wagon, and Give Evidence of Their Repentance—Keane's Head Goes on Orders from Langdon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thirteen Supervisors publicly fell in with the Langdon-Heney-Burns prosecution today, when at its dictation they voted to depose George B. Keane from the secretaryship of the Board of Supervisors, an office to which they unanimously elected him only two weeks ago.

Supervisors Lonergan and Sanderson escaped the humiliation of public surrender through the accident of absence from the chamber when the vote was taken. Tveitmoe and O'Neil, who were appointed by Schmitz, protested against this action and declared it was a cowardly surrender.

In dismissing Keane the board members finally and officially cast off Abe Ruef. The resolution deposing Keane was introduced by Gallagher and the Finance Committee, and although Gallagher refused in the board meeting to accede to the demands of O'Neil and Tveitmoe to give any reason, he later stated it in full. He said:

"The Board of Supervisors—that is, the great majority of the members, all but Tveitmoe and O'Neil—agreed this afternoon that the close political fellowship that has existed for the past fifteen months between the board and Mr. Ruef must cease.

SPURN HIM UTTERLY.

"We are no longer to seek his counsel or to take it. Mr. Keane, possessing the regard and respect of every member of the board, has been identified thoroughly with Mr. Ruef's association with the board. This afternoon when we called him before us, he stated that his political fortunes had been with Mr. Ruef and that he did not propose to desert him now. Under these circumstances we had no option but to relieve him from office."

Keane's decapitation came at the end of a long session of the board, almost the whole afternoon having been previously spent by the members in secret conferences. Dist.-Atty. Langdon came to the hall and on hearing that Keane refused to resign and become the scapegoat for the members, exacted a more bitter sacrifice.

Gallagher wrote and Keane himself, acting as secretary, read the resolution, as follows:

"Resolved, that the position of Gorge B. Keane, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, be and is hereby declared vacant and that John H. Ryan be and is hereby appointed to fill said position from and after this date."

ELY EXCHANGE OPENS.

ELY (Nev.) April 1.—After weeks of preparation the Ely Mining and Stock Exchange opened its doors today. The pit was fairly well crowded with members of the exchange and considerable business was transacted. Only local stocks were traded in but negotiations are on foot to post Goldfield stocks in this exchange. William H. Binford of Ogden, who has considerable holdings in and around Ely is secretary and treasurer of the local exchange.

OPEN NEW MART.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The San Francisco Mining Exchange was opened formally today with speech making and entertainments. The new exchange starts with a membership of 126, including a number of local banks. United States Senator George C. Perkins, George A. Knight and State Senator Lukens spoke. The exchange will have its first session in the morning, when the better class of Nevada stock will be traded in.

FINDS RICH LOST MINE.

Rancher Rediscovers Famous Treasure Hole.

Stumbles on Trees Marking Site of Shaft.

Valuable Prospect Has Tragic History.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Nass, a rancher, has rediscovered the Lost Mine of Allen and Kirk on the north slope of Bald Mountain, thirty-five miles east of Fresno, and is now soliciting the aid of capital to reopen the shaft.

The Lost Mine was first discovered by the Indians, but the secret was imparted to several Spaniards. Two years after the miners were murdered and nothing was heard of the mine until it was rediscovered by John Allen and Victor Kirk.

Centerville at that time was a thriving town and the two men made semimonthly trips, carrying into the plains with them a fortune each time. After Allen and Kirk had made a fortune from the property, they decided to return East for a short while.

In order the better to hide their mine they obliterated traces of the work and planted upon the site a cluster of walnut trees. But the men never returned and for forty years nothing was heard of the claim.

Several days ago as Joe Nass was prospecting, north of Squaw Valley, he discovered a clump of English walnut trees on the north side of Bald Mountain at a point near the junction of White Deer and Mill Creeks. After considerable labor he succeeded in uncovering the entrance to the shaft.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAPITOLA, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Young Women's Christian Association conference is now on in full swing with 300 college women gathered together to solve their problems.

Monday morning the regular programme was followed. Classes in mission study were conducted, Miss Parsons of San José having charge of the section on "India," and Miss King, missionary to China, on the "Evangelization of the World."

The class in biographical studies is under the leadership of Miss Margaret Mathews, student secretary of New England. The problems of city work were discussed by Miss Cary Barge. Dr. Francis A. Wilbur of the University of Kansas gave the second of his lectures on the "Foes of the Hebraic State."

Miss Theresa Wilbur, the national student secretary, addressed the student conference at 10 o'clock and some thirty workers met with Miss Simms. Miss Mathews gave a most hopeful talk to the college women on the mental pose necessary in a college girl's life.

She said in part: "The most valuable results are not gained through the following of popular and easy ways. The essential thing is that the work be in accord with God's will. The popularity can take care of itself."

The social side of the conference life was much in evidence in the afternoon, the occasion being Stanford's annual reception. The corridors were thronged wtih bright-eyed maidens in frilly frocks, and ripples of laughter were heard everywhere.

The rotunda was transferred into an Irish-hued bower, hung with varicolored pennants and artistic posters. The Los Angeles delegation was much in evidence, the success of the brilliant programme being largely due to the southern contingent.

Two of the normal girls in minstrel costume were irresistible, and their coon songs brought down the house. The University of Southern California was represented through two members of its faculty, Misses Beulah Wright and Elsie Van Derpool of the department of oratory, who read numbers.

A medley of familiar airs and a collation of animal crackers closed the afternoon's jollification happily.

TINGLEY CASE.

"THE TIMES" LOSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the judgment and order of the Superior Court of San Diego county, awarding Mrs. Katherine Tingley, head of the Universal Brotherhood Home at Point Loma, the sum of $7500 in the libel suit brought by her against the Times-Mirror Company, publishers of the Los Angeles Times.

HORSE STEPS ON DYNAMITE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND, April 1.—A special dispatch to the Oregonian from Prineville, Or., says Rev. Homer N. Street was instantly killed and blown into the Matolis River, together with his horse, at dusk Saturday evening, by an explosion of dynamite caused by his horse stepping on it.

Particulars reached here today. Rev. Street had placed the dynamite under a log, but had supposed that coyotes had scattered the dynamite in the open.

The accident happened in the presence of his wife and children. The body of the horse was located, but no trace of his rider's body has been found.

VICTIMIZE POOR ITALIAN.

ROB HIM OF FOUR HUNDRED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKTON, April 1.—An Italian named Gus Solari, who has been missed from his place of employment for several days, was found to be a victim of Italian bunco men who worked him out of four hundred dollars about a week ago. They led him to draw his money from a bank and deposit it in a trunk with what he supposed was an equal amount of their money and then went away with him to Livermore, leaving their money here. From that point they sent him back to watch the trunk until they returned, giving him $5 to pay his fare. He kept a constant watch for several days and finally looked into the trunk and found himself swindled.

ESPEE REPAIRS LINE.

FIRST RED BLUFF TRAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MARYSVILLE, April 1.—The Southern Pacific Company today completed track repairs between Marysville and Chico and sent its first train through to Red Bluff. The Knights Landing line is still out of commission, but work of restoration has commenced. This line cannot be opened for several weeks, as it was badly wrecked by water. The Yuba River has followed the example of the Colorado River by leaving its banks on the south side where the break occurred during high water.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Mexicans Burn to Death.

REDDING, April 1.—Three Mexicans employed in railroad construction on the Grass Lake branch of the Southern Pacific, near Weed, were burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed the bunkhouse in which they were sleeping. Twelve Mexicans occupied the house, but the others escaped. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Sell School Bonds.

SAN JOSE, April 1.—The Los Gatos $3,000 High School bonds were sold today for $3158.

Estimate Storm Damage.

SAN JOSE, April 1.—The Supervisors today made an estimate that the recent storm damaged and destroyed bridges in this county to the extent of at least $50,000.

Colonist Influx Begins.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Colonists are arriving, it is said, every day in greater numbers than during any previous colonist rate season. During the first twenty-five days of this season 18,556 persons came to California to settle, being an average of more than 742 a day.

Reports received by the California Promotion Committee from all parts of the State show that this new settlement of California is widely diffused, the great majority of the colonists going to the agricultural district.

To Ship Many Horses.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Twelve hundred horses, valued, it is said, at $250,000, will be shipped to the Philippines on the army transport Dix, which is scheduled to leave this port for Manila the latter part of this week.

The steeds are intended for the use of the Ninth Cavalry, which regiment is to sail for the islands on May 5. The Ninth Cavalry is a colored regiment, commanded by white officers. It has been stationed for some time past at Forts Riley and Leavenworth in Kansas, and at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

FINANCES OF THE NATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business March 30, 1907, the total debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $909,106,564, which was a decrease as compared with March 1, of $11,548,288.

The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest-bearing debt, $908,233,440.

Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,095,365.

Total, $1,311,974,568.

This amount, however, does not include $1,130,146,849, in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash, which is held for their redemption.

Gold reserve, $150,000,000.

General fund, $199,520,548.

In national-bank depositories, $165,235,679.

In treasury of Philippines, $3,887,713.

Total, $1,648,790,810.

Against which there are demand liabilities outstanding amounting to $1,245,922,807, which leaves a cash balance on hand of $402,868,002.

The monthly circulation statement shows that at the close of business March 30, 1907, the total circulation of national bank notes was $597,212,063, an increase for the year of $42,545,096, and an increase for the month of $869,041.

The circulation, based on United States bonds, amounted to $547,633,043, an increase for the year of $35,411,512, and a decrease for the month of $2,104,610.

The circulation secured by lawful money aggregated $49,579,000, an increase for the year of $7,133,584, and an increase for the month of $2,973,351.

The amount of United States registered bonds on deposit to secure circulation was $550,137,900.

Bonds on deposit to secure public deposits amounted to $176,324,860, as follows:

Panama Canal, $12,838,000.

Two per cent. consols of 1830, $56,153,100.

Four per cent. of 1907, $9,644,200.

Three per cents. of 1908-1918, $6,577,500.

Four per cents. of 1905, $5,043,750.

State, city and railroad bonds, $72,883,310.

Hawaiian bonds, $1,711,000.

Philippine loans, $9,741,000.

ELECTION COMES HIGH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The election commissioners filed with the Supervisors today a statement that they would need $129,826 to conduct the election department during the next fiscal year. The commissioners ask to be heard on the subject of voting machines, as they do not know whether the company will again rent machines. Those used at the last election will be opened May 7, and a conference with the Supervisors' Finance Committee will be held then to determine if the machines are to be used again or whether the old-time ballots will be used at the elections.

WANT ESTATE SETTLEDD.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The petition for the final settlement and distribution of the $2,000,000 estate of the late James K. Prior was heard in Judge Graham's court today. The petition carries with it the discharge of the administrators, James K. Prior, Jr., Josephine Metzner, Thomas P. Andrews and D. H. Whittimore. Andrews, who is the husband of one of Prior's daughters, was foreman of the preceding grand jury. Receipts of the heirs accompanying the petition show the former distribution of $210,000 and shares in the Prior Estate Company, leaving $69,799 for final distribution. Of the estate shares, Mrs. Andrews received a seventh of the total.

LYNCH IS PROMOTED.

OAKLAND, April 1.—Peter J. Lynch, division manager of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, with headquarters in Oakland, has been promoted to the position of assistant general superintendent, with offices in San Francisco. He has been succeeded here by John Kearns.

FINDS LAW TOO VAGUE.

Federal Court Holds Commerce Act Insufficient.

Roads and Operators Score Point in Legal Battle.

Government Will Carry Coal Cases Higher.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE CITY, April 1.—The Union Pacific Railroad Company, the Union Pacific Coal Company, the Oregon Short Line, Everett Buckingham, general superintendent of the Short Line, and J. M. Moore, manager of the Union Pacific Coal Company, won a partial victory today in the Federal Court in a decision handed down in the coal cases by Judge J. A. Marshall.

The incorporators and persons named were indicted last December by the Federal grand jury on the complaint of D. J. Sharp, a local coal dealer, who declared that when he cut the price of coal the defendants refused to sell or ship coal to him.

The indictment brought against the roads and Buckingham and Moore charge conspiracy and violation of the Interstate Commerce Act. Judge Marshall overruled the demurrer of the defendants to that part of the indictment charging conspiracy, but upheld that part of the demurrer bearing on violation of the Interstate Commerce Act, declaring that Section 3 of the act was vague and insufficient in that it did not specifically define the crime.

The government's attorneys in the case will carry the matter to the higher courts.

Wants Suit Dismissed.

CHICAGO, April 1.—At the opening of the trial of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana on the charge of illegal rebates on the Chicago and Alton Railroad, the attorneys for the defense made a motion that the court instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, upon the ground that the government had not proved its case. The attorneys of the government objected and a lengthy argument ensued.

QUAKE NEWS CONFIRMED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—The report that a severe earthquake, accompanied by loss of life, has occurred at Bitlis, Turkish Armenia, appears to be confirmed, but the number of deaths is not known.

According to advices received in New York from W. W. Peet, treasurer of the American Mission at Constantinople, the Americans and their people in the mission at Bitlis have been rendered homeless, the snow in the vicinity being twenty-five feet deep. Assistance was urgently requested.

According to the records available, the Rev. Royal M. Cole, Lizzie Cole, Dr. H. L. Underwood, Charlotte E. Ely and Marr A. C. Ely of the Eastern Turkey Mission are at Bitlis, and Miss Nellie A. Cole, who had not been appointed a missionary, was working in coöperation with the missionaries of the American board.

Beyond a brief message from the missionaries at Bitlis, reporting that the town is badly damaged, that they are homeless and that the people are encamped in the snow, which in places is twenty-five feet deep, no news of the disaster has reached this city.

MUCH DAMAGE FEARED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, April 1.—The situation at Bitlis, which is built on a rocky slope, with houses constructed of stone, having flat, earthern roofs, causes fear that a great amount of damage has been done. It is described as a picturesque, densely populated town, having but few Europeans among the population. A British vice-consul is stationed there. Instructions have been sent to the local authorities to afford relief to the inhabitants, but there is no doubt that outside help is needed.

EXPENDITURES FOR MARCH.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The comparative statement of the government's receipts and expenditures for March 1907, shows the total receipts to have been $54,221,953, and the expenditures $43,602,007, leaving a surplus for the month of $10,419,946. The surplus for the first nine months of the present fiscal year is over $51,200,000. One year ago the surplus was a little less than $6,000,000.

As compared with March, 1906, the customs receipts show an increase of $1,300,000; internal revenue, an increase of over $2,000,000, and miscellaneous, a surplus of $192,000.

The expenditures for last month are over $2,000,000 less than for March, 1906.

ALGERIA IS QUIET.

LALLA MARNIA (Algeria) April 1.—In view of the satisfactory conditions prevailing in the Oudja region, Gen. Liautey, commander of the French column of occupation, has decided to turn over the command of Oudja to Gen. Delanneau, and return to his regular duties at Oran. He will leave Oudja tomorrow.

A FRIENDLY GROCER

Dropped a Valuable Hint About Coffee.

"For about eight years," writes a Mich. woman, "I suffered from nervousness—part of the time down in bed with nervous prostration.

"Sometimes I would get numb and it would be almost impossible for me to speak for a spell. At others, I would have severe bilious attacks, and my heart would flutter painfully when I would walk fast or sweep.

"I have taken enough medicine to start a small drug store, without any benefit. One evening our grocer was was asking Husband how I was and he urged that I quit coffee and use Postum, so he brought home a pkg: and I made it according to directions and we were both delighted with it.

"So we quit coffee altogether and used only Postum. I began to get better in a month's time and look like another person, the color same back to my cheeks, I began to sleep well, my appetite was good and I commenced to take on flesh and become interested in everything about the house.

"Finally I was able to do all my own work without the least sign of my old trouble. I am so thankful for the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' It has done me so much good. I haven't taken medicine of any kind for six months and don't need any.

"A friend of ours who did not like Postum as she made it, liked mine, and when she learned to boil it long enough, hers was as good as mine. It's easy if you follow directions." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

PRESIDENT RETELLS HIS RAILWAY VIEWS.

Says Present Situation Needs No New Utterance as His Beliefs Have Been Frequently and Carefully Divulged to All Concerned.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Roosevelt has decided not to accept the invitation of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association to deliver a speech at Springfield, Ill., on the railroad situation. He addressed a letter yesterday to C. H. Smith, president of the association, stating that it would be impossible for him to accept their invitation, extended last week, because he did not feel that he had anything to say at this time in a special address on this special subject.

The President has received a great number of requests for a statement by him or a speech to be made by him in connection with the railway situation. He has given these requests the utmost weight and most careful consideration. After fully looking into the matter the President informed his advisers that he had come to the conclusion that there was nothing now that he had to say at this moment on the railway situation; that he did not deem it either wise or proper to say anything with a view to any immediate situation in Wall street, and that as he could only give expression to the definite and settled policy to be carried out wholly without regard to the exigencies of the moment and his views on the question were already a matter of record, it did not seem necessary at this time to repeat them.

To the different men, friendly and unfriendly who have visited him or written to him he has answered verbally or in writing that his words and acts spoke for themselves, and needed no explanations whatever, and that he would not, in his future course, deviate one hair's-breadth from the course he has pursued in the past and was now pursuing.

DOES NOT THREATEN ROADS.

The statement was made from an authoritative source today that even a most cursory examination of what the President has repeatedly said in speeches and in messages will show the utter nonsense of supposing the government has the slightest intention to take any action which would invalidate the safety and stability of the railroad securities now issued, the whole legislative programme of the President having been proclaimed again and again one to insure the future against the mistakes and delinquencies of the past. The President holds that every executive action taken under his administration, whether by the Department of Justice or by the Interstate Commerce Commission has furnished its own ample justification.

It was pointed out today in administrative circles that the President has made no references in his speeches or messages to the question of physical valuation of railroads. This position, it was said, is that the roads themselves will work out this problem as an item of book-keeping, and reference was made to the fact that two roads, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern, have already submitted figures as to their physical valuation.

OPPOSES OVER-CAPITALIZATION.

It can be stated on authority that the President will again ask Congress at its next session for power to deal with the question of over-capitalization of railroads. A similar request was made at the last session, but favorable action was not taken upon it.

In his letter to Smith, the President incloses copies of the speech he made at Raleigh, N. C., October 14, 1905, and the one he delivered before a delegation of railway employés in this city on November 14, 1905, together with his last message to Congress at the beginning of the first and second sessions of the last Congress. The President concludes his letter to Smith as follows:

"You will see in the two speeches and the two messages that I have said about all that I would say if I spoke now. As I said to your body the other day, I have already expressed again and again my carefully-thought-out beliefs. I am more firmly than ever convinced that these beliefs are wise and that the policy I recommended in my message at the opening of each of the last regular sessions of Congress must be carried out. Just at the moment I do not see that I have much to add to what I have already said, and I think that what has occurred since I wrote the two messages in question merely illustrates in striking fashion the desirability of the course I therein outlined."

OPPOSES GOVERNMENT OWNER.

In his address at Raleigh the President said:

"I do not believe in government ownership of anything which can with propriety be left in private hands and in particular I should most strenuously object to government ownership of railroads. But I believe with equal firmness that it is out of the question for the government not to exercise a supervisory and regulatory right over the railroad; for it is vital to the well being of the public that they shall be managed in a spirit of fairness and justice toward the public. Actual experience has shown that it is not possible to leave the railroads uncontrolled. Such a system or rather such a lack of system, is fertile in abuses of every kind and puts a premium upon unscrupulous and ruthless cunning in railroad management; for there are some big shippers and some railroad managers who are always willing to take unfair advantage of their weaker competitors and they thereby force other big shippers and big railroad men who would like to do decently, into similar acts of wrong and injustice, under penalty of being left behind in the race for success. Government supervision is needed quite as much in the interest of the big shipper and of the railroad manager who wants to do right as in the interest of the small shipper and the consumer.

LAWS NEED AMENDMENT.

"Experience has shown that the present laws are defective and need amendment. The effort to prohibit all restraint of competition, whether reasonable or unreasonable, is unwise. What we need is to have some administrative body with ample power to forbid combination that is hurtful to the public and to prevent favoritism to one individual at the expense of another. In other words, we want an administrative body with the power to secure fair and just treatment as among all shippers who use the railroads—and all shippers have a right to use them. . . .

"In my judgment the most important thing to do is to give to this administrative body power to make its findings effective, and this can be done only by giving it power, when complaint is made of a given rate as being unjust or unreasonable, if it finds the complaint proper, then itself to fix a maximum rate which it regards just and reasonable, this rate to go into effect practically at once, that is within a reasonable time, and to stay in effect unless reversed by the courts. I earnestly hope that we shall see a law giving this power passed by Congress. . . .

"If there is in the minds of the commission any suspicion that a certain railroad is in any shape or way giving rebates, or behaving improperly. I wish the commission to have power as a matter of right, not as a matter of favor, to make a full and exhaustive investigation of the rates and expenditures of the railroad, so that any evasion of the law may be detected.

FINDS PRECEDENT EXISTING.

"This is not a revolutionary proposal on my part, for I only wish the same power given in reference to railroads that is now exercised as a matter of course by the national bank examiners as regards national banks. My object in giving these additional powers to the administrative body representing the government—the Interstate Commerce Commission, or whatever it may be—is primarily to secure a real and not a sham control to the government representatives. The American people abhor a sham and with this abhorrence I cordially sympathize. Nothing is more injurious from every standpoint than a law which is merely 'sound and fury,' merely pretense, and not capable of working out tangible results. I hope to see all the power that I think it ought to have granted to the government; but I would far rather see only some of it granted, but really granted—than see a pretense of granting all in some shape that really amounts to nothing.

"It must be understood, as a matter of course, that if this power is granted, it is to be exercised with wisdom and caution, and self-restriction. The Interstate Commerce Commissioner, or other government official who fails to protect a railroad that was in the right against any clamor, no matter how violent, on the part of the public, would be guilty of as gross a wrong as if he corruptly rendered an improper service to the railroad at the expense of the public. Further, when I say a square deal, I mean a square deal; exactly as much of a square deal for the rich man as for the poor man—but no more. Let each receive what is due him and be judged according to his deserts."

DISCRIMINATION IS THE RUB.

In his address to railway employés in this city November 14, 1905, the President said:

"There has been comparatively little complaint to me of the railroad rates being as a whole too high. The most serious complaints that have been made to me have been of improper discrimination in railroad rates. For instance, in two recent cases affecting great corporations, the complaints that have been made to me have been that they are too low as regards certain big shippers; the complaint in both these cases is about the differential, the difference of treatment of two sets of users of the railways, the difference in favor of one set of shippers as against another set of shippers. . . .

"If you will look at my Raleigh speech and my other recent utterances you will see my principles clearly set forth. I have said again and again that I would not tolerate for one moment any injustice to a railroad any more than I would tolerate any injustice by a railroad. I have said again and again that I would remove a public official who improperly yielded to any public clamor against a railroad no matter how popular that clamor might be just as quickly as I would remove a public official who rendered an improper service to the railroad at the expense of the public. But I am convinced that there must be an increased regulatory and supervisory power exercised by the government over the railways. Indeed, I would like it exercised to a much greater extent than I have any idea of pressing at this moment.

TO REGULATE CAPITALIZATION.

"I would greatly like to have it exercised in the matter of overcapitalization. I am convinced that the 'wages' would be larger if there was no fictitious capital upon which dividends had to be paid. I need hardly say that this does not mean hostility to wealth. If you gentlemen here, in whom I believe so strongly, were all a unit in demanding that some improper action should be taken against certain men of wealth, I would defend them against you, no matter how much I cared for you, and in so doing I would really be acting in your interest. I would be false to your interest if I failed to do justice to the capitalist as much as the wage worker. But I shall act against the abuses of wealth just as against all other abuses.

"All I want in any rate legislation is to give the government an efficient supervisory power which shall be exercised as scrupulously in preventing injustice to the railroads as to prevent their doing injustice to the public. Our endeavor is to see that those big railroad men and big shippers who are not responsive to the demands of justice are required to do what their fellows who are responsive to the demands of justice would be glad to do of their own accord."

In his message to Congress, December 1, 1905, the President said:

TREAT ALL ALIKE.

"The people of this country continue to enjoy great prosperity and this ebb and flow will be felt more or less by all members of the community, both by the deserving and the undeserving. . . . A panic brought on by the speculative folly of part of the business community would hurt the whole business community. But such stoppage of welfare, though it might be severe, would not be lasting. . . . Something can be done by legislation to help the general prosperity, but no such help of a permanently beneficial character can be given to the less able and less fortunate, save as the results of a policy which shall inure to the advantage of all industrious and efficient people who act decently; and this is only another way of saying that any benefit which comes to the less able and less fortunate must of necessity come even to the more able and more fortunate. If, therefore, the less fortunate man is moved by envy of his more fortunate brother to strike at the conditions under which they have both, though unequally, prospered, the result will assuredly be, while damage may come to the one struck at, it will visit with an even heavier load the one who strikes the blow. Taken as a whole, we must all go up or go down together.

"Yet, while not merely admitting, but insisting upon this, it is also true that where there is no governmental restraint or supervision some of the exceptional men use their energies not in ways that are for the common good, but in ways which tell against this common good. The fortunes amassed through corporate organization are now so large and vest such power in those that wield them as to make it a matter of necessity to give to the sovereign—that is to the government which represents the people as a whole—some effective power of supervision over their corporate use. In order to ensure a healthy social and industrial life every big corporation should be held responsible and be accountable to some sovereign strong enough to control its conduct.

TO COMBINE IS EPOCHAL.

"I am in no sense hostile to corporations. This is an age of combinations, and any effort to prevent all combinations would not be only useless but in the end vicious, because of the contempt for law which the failure to enforce law inevitably produces. We should, moreover, recognize in cordial and ample fashion the immense good effect by corporate agencies in a country such as ours and the wealth of intellect, energy and fidelity devoted to their service, and therefore normally to the service of the public by their officers and directors. The corporation has come to stay, just as the trade union has come to stay. Each can do and has done great good. Each should be favored so long as it does good. But each should be sharply checked where it acts against law and justice. . . .

STATES CANNOT CONTROL.

"Experience has shown conclusively that it is useless to try to get any adequate regulation and supervision of these great corporations by State action. Such regulation and such supervision can only be effectively exercised by a sovereign whose jurisdiction is coextensive with the field of work of the corporation—that is, by the national government. I believe this regulation and supervision can be obtained by the enactment of law by the Congress. Our steady aim should be by legislation, cautiously and carefully undertaken, but resolutely persevered in, to assert the sovereignty of the national government by affirmative action. . . . It has been a misfortune that the national laws on this subject have hitherto been of negative or prohibitive rather than an affirmative kind, and still more than they have in part sought to prohibit what could not be effectively prohibited, and have in part their prohibitions confounded with what should be allowed and what should not bem allowed. It is generally useless to try to prohibit all restraint in competition, whether this restraint be reasonable or unreasonable, and where it is not useless it is generally hurtful. . . .

EMPHASIZES INFLATION DANGER

"What is needed is not sweeping prohibition of every arrangement, good or bad, which may tend to restrict competition, but such adequate supervision and regulation as will prevent any restriction of competition from being to the detriment of the public as well as such supervision and regulation as will prevent other abuses in no way connected with restriction of competition. Of these abuses perhaps the chief, although by no means the only one, is over-capitalization—generally itself the result of dishonest promotion—because of the myriad evils it brings in its train; for such over-capitalization often means an inflation that invites business panic; it always conceals the true relations of the profit earned to the capital actually invested, and it creates a burden of interest payments which is a fertile cause of improper reduction in, or limitation of wages; it damages the small investor, discourages thrift, and encourages gambling and speculation; while perhaps worst of all is the trickiness and dishonesty which it implies—for harm to morals is worse than any possible harm to material interests and the debauchery of politics and business by great dishonest corporations is far worse than any actual, material evil they do the public. Until the national government obtains, in some manner which the wisdom of the Congress may suggest, proper control over the big corporations engaged in interstate commerce—that is over the great majority of the big corporations—it will be impossible to deal adequately with these evils.

"This power to regulate rates, like all similar powers over the business world, should be exercised with moderation, caution and self-restraint; but it should exist so that it can be effectively exercised when the need arises. . . .

INSISTS UPON INDIVIDUALISM.

"I do not believe in the government taking any work which can with propriety be left in private hands. But neither do I believe in the government flinching from overseeing any work when it becomes evident that abuses are sure to obtain therein unless there is governmental supervision.

"The best possible regulation of rates would, of course, be that regulation secured by an honest agreement between the railroads themselves to carry out the law. Such a general agreement would, for instance, at once put a stop to the efforts of any one big shipper or big railroad to discriminate against or secure advantage over some rival, and such agreement would make themselves agents for enforcement of the law. The power vested in the government to put a stop to agreements to the detriment of the public should, in my judgment, be accompanied with power to permit, under specified conditions and careful supervision, agreements clearly in the interests of the public. But in my opinion, the necessity for giving the commission or administrative body the powers I have enumerated above; and it may well be inadvisable to attempt to invest this particular power in the commission or other administrative body until it already possesses, and exercising what I regard as by far the most important of all the powers I recommend—as indeed the vitally important power—that to fix a given maximum rate which rate after the lapse of a reasonable time goes into full effect, subject to review by the courts.

ASKS INQUISITORIAL POWER.

"A system of examination of railway accounts should be provided similar to that now conducted in the national banks by the bank examiners; a few first-class railroad accountants, if they had proper direction and proper authority to inspect books and papers, could accomplish much in preventing willful violations of the law. . . . Let me most earnestly say that these reductions are not made in any spirit of hostility to the railroads. I believe on the whole that our railroads have done well and not ill, that the railroad men who wish to do well should not be exposed to competition with those who have no desire and the only way to secure this end is to give to some government tribunal the power to see that justice is done by the unwilling exactly as it is gladly done by the willing.

"It is in the interest of the best type of railroad men and the best type of shipper no less than the public that here should be governmental supervision and regulation of these great business operations for the same reason that it is in the interest of the corporation which wishes to treat its employés aright that there should be an effective employers' liability act or an effective system of factory laws to prevent the abuse of women and children. We wish to ensure as fair treatment for the small town as for the big city; for the small shipper as for the big shipper.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IS BAD.

"It is because in my judgment public ownership of railroads is highly undesirable and would probably in this country entail far-reaching disaster that I wish to see such supervision and regulation of them in the interest of the public as will make evident that there is no need for public ownership. The opponents of government regulation dwell upon the difficulties to be encountered, and the intricate and involved nature of the problem. Their contention is true. It is a complicated and delicate problem, and all kinds of difficulties are sure to arise in connection with any plan of solution which plan will bring all benefits hoped for by its more optimistic adherents. While I fully admit the difficulties in the way I do not for a moment admit that these difficulties warrant us in stopping in our effort to secure a wise and just system. At present we face such utter lack of supervision, such freedom from the restraints of laws, that excellent men have often been literally forced into doing what they deplored because otherwise they were left at the mercy of unscrupulous competitors. To assail men who have done as they best could under such circumstances accomplishes little. What we need to do is to adopt an orderly system and such a system can only come through the gradually increased exercise of the right of efficient government control."

In his message to Congress at the beginning of the second session of the Fifty-ninth Congress, December 2, 1906, the President said:

PRAISES COMMISSION.

"The interstate commerce law has rather amusingly falsified the predictions both of those who asserted that it would ruin the railroads and of those who asserted that it did not go far enough and would accomplish nothing. During the last five months the railroads have shown increased earnings and some of them unusual dividends; while during the same period the mere taking effect of the law has produced an unprecedented hitherto unheard of number of voluntary reductions in freight rates and fares by the railroads. . . . It must not be supposed, however, that with the passage of these laws it will be able to stop the progress by increasing the power of the government over the use of capital and Interstate Commerce. For example there will ultimately be need of enlarging the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission along several lines so as to give larger control over the railroads. It cannot too often be repeated that experience has conclusively shown the impossibility of securing by the actions of nearly half a hundred different State Legislatures anything but ineffective chaos in the way of dealing with the great corporations which do not operate exclusively within the limits of any one State. In some method, whether by Federal license law, or in some other fashion, we must exercise at an early date, a far more complete control than at present over these great corporations—a control that will among other things prevent the evils of over capitalization and that will compel the disclosure by each big corporation of its stockholders and of its properties and business whether owned directly or through subsidiary or affiliated corporations. This will tend to put a stop to the securing of inordinate profits by favored individuals, at the expense, whether of the general public or the stockholders, or the wage workers. Our effort should be not so much to prevent consolidation as such, but so to supervise and control it as to see that it results in no harm to the people.

"In enacting and enforcing such legislation as this Congress already has to its credit, we are working on a coherent plan with steady effort to secure the needed reforms before the joint action of the moderate men, the plain men who do not wish anything historical or dangerous, but who do intend to deal in resolute common-sense fashion with the real and great evils of the present system. The reactionaries and the violent extremists show symptoms of joining hands with us. As a matter of fact, our position is as remote from that of a Bourbon reactionary as from that of an impracticable or sinister visionary. We hold that the government should not conduct the business of the nation, but that it should exercise such supervision as will insure its being conducted in the interest of the nation. Our aim is, so far as may be, to secure for all decent, hard-working men equality of opportunity and equality of burden.

COMBINATIONS ARE NECESSARY.

"The actual working of our laws has shown that the effort to prohibit all combination, good or bad, is noxious, where it is not ineffective. Combination of capital, like combination of labor, is a necessary element of our present usual system. It is not possible completely to prevent it, and if it were possible, such complete prevention would do damage to the body politic. What we need is not vainly to try to destroy all combination, but to secure such rigorous and adequate control, and supervision of the combinations as to prevent their injuring the public, or existing in such form as inevitably to threaten injury—for the mere fact that a combination has secured practically complete control of a necessity of life would under any circumstances show that such combination was to be presumed to be averse to the public interest. It is unfortunate that our present laws should forbid all combinations, instead of sharply discriminating between those combinations which do good and those combinations which do evil. Rebates, for instance, are as often due to the pressure of big shippers (as was shown in the case of the Standard Oil Company, and which has been shown since by the investigation of the tobacco and sugar trusts) as to the initiative of the big railroads. Often railroads would like to combine for the purpose of preventing a big shipper from maintaining improper advantages at the expense of small shippers and of the general public. Such a combination, instead of being forbidden by law, should be favored. In other words, it should de permitted the railroads to make agreements, provided these agreements were sanctioned by the Interstate Commerce Commission and were published. With these conditions complied with, it is impossible to see what harm such a combination could do to the public at large."

POPE COUNCILS PATIENCE.

ROME, April 1.—The disappointment of a large number of Americans over the fact that there is not an American among the prelates who are to be created cardinals at the consistory of April 15, has been brought to the attention of the Pope, who said in this connection: "Let them have patience; they will be satisfied later. The number of red hats is limited, while the candidates are many."

COLD STORAGE PLANT BURNS.

COLON, April 1.—The cold storage establishment at Mount Hope, one of the largest and most valuable on the Isthmus, was almost completely destroyed by fire this afternoon. The loss is placed at several hundred thousand dollars. The building was filled with a large variety of foodstuffs and other property.

THE SUPREMACY OF THE KNABE
Apparent, even to the most casual observer, is the supremacy of every creation of the house of Knabe, be it the smallest of their uprights or the largest of their grand pianos. Supremacy in the wonderful depth, breadth and carrying power, the liquid sweetness and sustained singing quality of its tone; in the marvelous elasticity, delicacy and responsiveness, the lightning-like rapidity of repetition of its action; in the superior character and correctness of its architectural design; in the beauty and richness of its veneers, the unrivaled luster of its varnish work, and, in fact, in every characteristic that has conspired to make the Knabe
The Greatest Piano in the World
Knabe Supremacy has been achieved only by nearly three-quarters of a century of earnest industry, of untiring energy, of boundless ambition, of ceaseless experiment and a determination characteristic of the race from which its makers emanate to build only that which shall ever stand a monument to art, industry and honest purpose.
How well that ambition has been realized is shown in every Knabe piano. All styles are found on our floors. Easy payments if desired.

TELEGRAPH MEN UNDER PROBE.

SEEK TO APPLY ANTI-TRUST LAW TO LINES.

Postal and Western Union Companies Face Possible Criminal Prosecution by Government Under the Sherman Act—Question Hinges on What "Trade" Is.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies may be called on by the government to defend themselves on a charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law, for combining to increase telegraph tolls.

Whether the telegraph companies are subject to the anti-trust law is a question the Attorney General must decide before any move is made by the Department of Justice. The Sherman Anti-Trust law makes it a crime for any person or corporation to enter into a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Whether the transmission of messages by telegraph is "trade" or the raising of telegraph tolls is in restraint of trade, are two intricate questions which must be decided before a prosecution can be instituted. If the government cannot prosecute the telegraph companies under the provisions of the anti-trust law, there is no way in which to get at them.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has no jurisdiction over telegraph companies, the laws under which this body operates applying to common carriers only.

SNEEZE PUTS HER EYES OUT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTON (N. J.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Joseph Jack, wife of a resident of Rose street, is entirely blind, with little prospect of ever regaining her sight, the result of a violent attack of sneezing, which she suffered a few evenings ago.

Mrs. Jack was so exhausted by the violence of her sneezes and the prolonged period of attack that she retired immediately after obtaining relief. When she awoke in the morning, she was unable to see. Local physicians were summoned, but their treatment was of no avail.

Then the afflicted woman was taken to Philadelphia, where she is now being treated by specialists. These latter seem powerless to combat the blindness of the woman, and no hope of even temporary relief is given her.

The specialists believe that the violence of Mrs. Jack's sneezing caused a hemorrhage of the blood vessels in the eyes.

SIX BURN TO DEATH.

Trains in Texas Meet "Head On" and Trainmen Perish in Ensuing Flames.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FT. WORTH (Tex.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a terrible head-on collision and wreck of two freight trains on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, a few miles south of this city, about 3:30 o'clock this morning. The two trains were running at such a rate of speed that the impact was fearful, completely wrecking both engines and perhaps as many as twenty cars, including thirteen cars of cattle.

Six members of the two train crews were imprisoned in the wreckage, which immediately caught fire from the demolished engines, and all of these were slowly roasted to death. Those known to be dead and reduced to ashes are:

DOUGLASS WOODEN, engineer, Denison.

WILLIAM CALDWELL, engineer, Denison.

H. M. WALLACE, fireman, Denison.

GEORGE AHERN, fireman, Mendota, Ill.

K. SELVAGE, brakeman, Denison.

W. J. CALLIHAN, brakeman, Denison.

Fully one hundred head of cattle were burned in the fire which claimed the six human victims. Heroic efforts were made to reach the men who were being burned to death, in response to their agonized cries, but were unavailing.

To the time of filing this dispatch none of the bodies have been recovered.

A large force is at work clearing the tracks and building a temporary track around the wreckage.

The trains were supposed to pass at Bethel, but from some unknown cause the north-bound train was permitted to come through that place, and the collision was inevitable.

STORM STOPS LIGHT.

BAKERSFIELD, April 1.—Rain began falling shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, after a heavy sand storm which lasted for more than an hour. The fall is a heavy one and will be welcome, being warm. No reports have been secured from the surrounding country and should the storm be felt in the mountains, a decided raise in Kern River will be imminent. At 9 o'clock the electric current was knocked out by the storm in Kern River Cañon and the city is in darkness.

DISCUSS PEACE PLANS.

Russian Government Submits Revised Programme of Problems for Coming Hague Conference.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, April 1.—The Russian government has submitted to the principal powers a revised programme of the subjects to be discussed at the approaching peace conference at The Hague. Correspondence in this connection between the Russian Foreign Office and the Foreign Office of the powers continues, the object being to reach an agreement in advance of communicating with the minor governments.

Great Britain has not formulated a precise plan for the limitation of armaments and seems unwilling to do so.

The precise position of Germany in this connection will not be disclosed until the programme is finally decided upon, but the assertions made in London that Germany will withdraw from the conference rather than have the question of limitation of armaments discussed are unfounded.

The United States, it is understood, will reserve its decision regarding participation in a discussion of the armaments question, the general view at Washington being that as the United States is outside the European system, it is not in a position to urge the continental powers to reduce their land armaments, while on the subject of naval armaments the authorities at Washington appear to be indisposed to cease their development.

Astonishing.

It's astonishing what profitable results are achieved by a very small expenditure for a "want" advertisement in The Times. The desire for anything can be gratified by the aid of a Times' "Liner," and at so small an expense that it isn't worth talking about. Convince yourself by a trial.

TROUBLES FOR MANAGER MAC.

Alleged Jealousy at Work Against Game.

Meanwhile Lesser Problems Confront McCarey.

Manager McCarey has many problems to solve before the great battle between Tommy Burns and Jack O'Brien is pulled off, in May. He has to face an opposition, more or less strong, against the fighting game; and he has to settle the question of seating capacity and rates of admission to his ..and Junction pavilion.

The opposition has threatened to close down the boxing game, and the first step has been to attempt to declare the building unsafe, in so far as fire danger is concerned. There are allegations that the fight promoters have to deal with much jealousy in this opposition, and that there may be a way out of the scrape by throwing everything open to boxing.

It is said that there is a coterie of sports who envy McCarey's success and want a finger in the pugilistic pie. As present city ordinances confine boxing to a restricted district, the game here is run under a monopoly. It is said that the present city administration is considering the closing down of the game entirely or throwing it wide open—under restrictions of reason, of course.

There are those who are anxious to start an opposition club here, and it is said these promoters desire to inaugurate short-round battles, in the nature of cards similar to those offered in Philadelphia. Then it is said that others would like to bid for the big battles.

ENLARGED ARENA.

If everything goes well and "the goose hangs high," Manager McCarey will have to solve some weighty problems of finance before he can pull off the Burns-O'Brien match. As at present constructed, the arena will not begin to hold the persons who wish to attend, unless the prices are raised over the heads of the common fans. Calculations based on the present seating capacity demand that the general admission price be $7.50, so it is said, while ringside seats will be anywhere up to $50 each.

To obviate some of this high charge, it is said that McCarey can enlarge the pavilion. There is forty additional feet of space available for this purpose, and possibly more could be leased. This would insure additional seats for about 2500 persons. If McCarey remains unmolested, he may decide to make the addition and also raise the tiers of seats.

Meanwhile McCarey has other troubles. He has four matches carded and the first two require immediate attention. It is not believed interference is contemplated at once, but there is no telling what may drop from a clear sky any day.

THOMPSON ARRIVES.

"Cyclone" Thompson expects to begin training this morning in the new camp at Cahuenga Pass selected by Kid Solomon and friends for the use of fighters training for big battles. "Cyclone" has had lots of hard fighting recently, and has been surfeited with boxing. Therefore he expects to cut out the sparring in training for Jimmy Burns, and confine himself to road work and light exercise.

Burns has gone to the Eastside Athletic Club, and it is said he will do very little boxing. It appears that the fundamental features of the training of both men is the endeavor to promote stamina. Burns is by far the better boxer, and probably can hit harder than Thompson, but the latter is boring in always and thrives in the worst of punishment. Burns will endeavor to outbox Thompson and to evade his bull-like rushes until he can put over the finishing punch. Thompson will endeavor to wear down Burns and beat him into submission.

TURK COMES BACK.

Abdo, the terrible Turk, has come back to Los Angeles from Philadelphia, having cleaned up everything he met in the city of brotherly love. His reputation is spotless, and in consequence he was surrounded by a coterie of admirers yesterday. The Turk had little to do in Philadelphia, for he only whipped one man, but he did that little so thoroughly that the Philadelphia fans believe he is the real thing.

Abdo returned home because of "snow blind." In other words, the snow and cold weather in Pennsy was too much for the Turk after living so long in the equitable clime of California, and he hiked for the West without trying for another match, although he could have been carded for wind-ups. The Turk may go East again when the warm weather comes, but until then he prefers to train in sunshine and flowers in dear old Los Angeles.

UNEVEN MATCH.

It looks as though Manager McCarey has made a lop-sided match, as far as weight is concerned, in bringing together Kid Locke and Kid Berry. The latter will be ten or twelve pounds heavier than Locke if they meet, about the same difference as existed in the Berry-Lauder match.

Lauder claims that Berry weighed 138 pounds the night of the fight, or thirteen pounds in excess of his own weight. The next day Berry is said to have weighed 152 with his street clothes on. Lauder and Locke each weighed yesterday afternoon, and Lauder was a pound and a half the heavier. As Locke has not been in training, the relative difference on the night of the fight may be more marked.

Locke knows nothing of Berry, and when McCarey asked him if a match with Berry would suit him, Locke wanted to know how much he weighed, and gave the information that he himself tipped the beam at 142 pounds with street clothes on. McCarey is said to have stated that that was more than Berry weighed, and Locke accepted the match. Later the discrepancy in weights was apparent from comparison with Lauder. Locke is game, and says he will not ask to have the match called off, but that he would prefer to fight a man of his own weight—any one in Los Angeles.

Young Donahue did not come to Los Angeles with Mike (Twin) Sullivan, as expected. He went from Salt Lake City to Denver, and from there expects to go East, as he is disgusted with the West, so far as he has seen it. Probably his opinions would have been changed had he come to Los Angeles.

The Legislature of Tennessee will go on record regarding the boxing question, for a bill providing for limited round boxing contests has been introduced. It is believed by the friends of the bill that Tennessee can be placed in line with Maine, which recently provided a boxing law with the proper restrictions.

Steve Mahoney, who introduced a boxing bill into the Massachusetts Legislature, was invited to withdraw the document, and has complied. This is equivalent to having the bill killed in committee. The provisions contemplated six-round bouts under restrictions.

Harry Baker and Freddie Weeks expect to box six rounds in Philadelphia Saturday night. Weeks is the pride of Denver, and the mountain region, and gained notoriety recently by putting out three men in succession in less than a total of four minutes.

The Chicago sporting fraternity is backing Postmaster Busse in his fight for Mayor, as Mayor Dunne failed to keep an alleged promise to allow six-round bouts. Busse has been liberal with such campaign oratory, and the sports are flocking about his standard.

PETER MAHER OUT.

A LA GEORGE GARDNER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Peter Maher, once aspirant for the world's heavyweight championship, was knocked out in the second round tonight by Marvin Hart of Louisville. Age and youth were pitted against each other, and Father Time gave up the battle. Hart was the agressor, and Maher was unable to block the blows sent in by the Kentuckian.

In the first round Maher was struck in the stomach and sent to the floor. He was saved by the gong. Seconds carried him to his corner, and it was plainly seen that the aged man was exhausted. Hart only struck two blows in the second round, when Maher reeled and fell to the floor. Spectators hissed and shouted fake.

Bezenah Knocked Out.

NEW CASTLE (Pa.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Carsey, of Chicago tonight knocked out Gus Bezenah of Cincinnati, in one minute and thirty-six seconds before the New Castle Athletic Club and will meet Abe Attell, champion featherweight of the world, here, within six weeks.

MANY NAMES SIGNED.

Proposed Revolver Club Promises to Become Actuality Soon—To Hold Meeting.

Organization of a revolver club probably will be effected Thursday evening, when it is proposed to hold a meeting of those interested, for the purpose of taking primary steps toward formulating plans. The place of meeting will be designated today.

It has been suggested that the original contemplated scope of the organization be extended to include a rifle faction, thus forming a rifle and revolver club, and plans with that end in view probably will be adopted.

G. F. Stephenson, who has undertaken the active management of soliciting names for membership, reported sixty-six signatures last night, as follows:

Sergt. W. E. Smith, G. F. Stephenson, Will A. Wright, E. L. Hedderly, Capt. Allen Kelly, Walter E. Whitmore, Irving C. Douglas, Arthur B. Douglas, W. F. Nordholt, William W. Hatton, Fred B. Mills, J. COURT STIRS UP GOLD CUP STINK.

TESTIMONY AGAINST SMATHERS BY FORMER TRAINER.

It Is Alleged That Owner of Major Delmar Made Offer to Have Lou Dillon "Fixed" Before Memphis Match Race—Final Disposal of Case at This Legal Trial.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—In an effort to recover from Elmer E. Smathers the gold cup won by his horse, Major Delmar, in a race with the trotting mare, Lou Dillon, at Memphis, on October 18, 1904, the Memphis Trotting Association, as plaintiff, began today to lay before Justice Greenbaum and a jury in the Superior Court all of the facts connected with the alleged drugging of the mare as a result of a conspiracy planned by Mr. Smathers. The Board of Review of the National Trotting Association in December awarded the cup to Mr. Smathers. The Memphis association claims the Board of Review acted irregularly.

Millard Sanders, trainer of Lou Dillon, testified as to the intimate history of the wonderful race mare, detailing her performances, outlining the daily routine of the life, even to the quantity and character of her food, and gave the record of her trials from the time he took her as a 4-year-old in 1902, and began to develop what he termed a wonderful racing machine.

When adjournment was taken Sanders had carried his narrative of the life of Lou Dillon down to a few days before the famous race of 1904, which, it is declared, was the time the mare was given the drugs that caused her to lose the famous race.

In seeking to recover the cup, the Memphis Trotting Association set up the plea that the action of the board of review was irregular in that the final award of the cup was made at a meeting at which the association was not represented. The Memphis Trotting Association and Mr. Billings, jointly, were represented by former Judge E. W. Hatch of New York, and J. F. Meagher of Chicago. Mr. Smathers is represented by Edward P. Coyne, John J. Adams, and Carruthers Ewing.

In his opening address to the jury, Judge Hatch declared that it should be shown that prior to the deciding race of the gold cup, the defendant Smathers conceived the idea of unfitting Lou Dillon, and that as a result of the conspiracy which followed a drug was administered to the mare.

The Memphis association contended that the cup had been taken by fraud. The attorneys for the defendant moved that the suit be dismissed on the ground that the Memphis Trotting Association was not the rightful owner of the trophy at the time of the bringing of the suit. The attorney declared that if Lou Dillon had been drugged the cup belonged to the owner of the Driving Association, which Mr. Billings represented in the race. The Memphis Trotting Association ceased to have an interest in the cup, after the judges had made their awards.

Justice Greenbaum denied the motions.

HOT TESTIMONY.

George W. Spear, a driver and trainer, who was in Mr. Smathers's employ, was the first witness. Just prior to the Memphis races Spears said:

"Mr. Smathers asked me if I would not see Sanders, a brother of Millard Sanders, the trainer of Lou Dillon, and find out what could be done to have Lou Dillon beaten. I spoke to Sanders and told him Mr. Smathers wanted to win the cup, and wanted to know if Lou Dillon could not be beaten. He wanted to know what Mr. Smathers would give. I said I did not know. The next day 'Eb' Sanders told me the mare could be beaten for $10,000. I took this message to Mr. Smathers, and he said he would not give it; he would pay $5000 and no more. I made this proposition to 'Eb' Sanders, and he said the mare could not be beaten for $5000, that it would take $10,000. Mr. Smathers asked me what Sanders would do to the mare, and I told him Sanders would take the mare's feed away for a few feeds. He asked me if I thought that would be sufficient, and I said I did not think so. He asked me if I did not know of some drug that would be sure. I said I never drugged a horse and did not know. That was all I did in the matter."

On cross-examination by Mr. Ewing, Spear was asked if once he had not been ruled off the turf for fixing a race. That was objected to, but Mr. Ewing said he wished to impeach the witness.

"There is no necessity for that," said Justice Greenbaum; "he has already sworn he tried to fix this race. It is to be presumed he may have fixed others."

"I was in Mr. Smathers's employ, and did all he told me to do," said the witness.

"If he had told you to commit murder, would you have done it?" asked Justice Greenbaum.

"No," said the witness, "my business had to do with horses."

Spear said he was discharged by Mr. Smathers in 1905 and up to that time had not disclosed the fraud in the cup race. He told the story to Murray Howe, secretary of the Memphis Trotting Association.

EXTEND RACING SEASON.

Six Weeks More of Racing Graft at Oakland—Three Gray Horses Take First Places.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—President Thomas H. Williams of the New California Jockey Club announced today that the season at Oakland will be extended six weeks longer than originally scheduled. The meet will run until June 22 instead of ending May 11. The reasons given are that the season last year was curtailed by the disaster, affecting horsemen and the association, and the great amount of bad weather this season deprived owners of many horses from starting them. Instead of opening June 15, the meeting at Seattle will start June 29.

The novelty of three gray horses winning in one afternoon was witnessed at Oakland today, Paddy Lynch, E. M. Brattain and Dutiful were the gray horses to finish first. The favorites fared badly. Results:

Four and one-half furlongs: Ginhee, 110 (A. Brown,) 20 to 1, won; Husky, 114 (Keogh,) 11 to 5, second; Raleigh, 102 (L. Rice,) 12 to 1, third; time, 0:56 1-5. Valoski, Folliel, Rustler, Rupert, Saint Modan, Lake View, Macall, and Willapink also ran.

Six furlongs: Paddy Lynch, 113 (C. Williams,) 10 to 1, won; Lem Reed, 113 (Rettig,) 16 to 5, second; Beknighted, 111 (E. Dugan,) 7 to 1, third; time, 1:15 2-5. Norwood, Ohio, Buchanan, Peter J., Sea Air, Reality, Queen Anne and Quandara also ran.

Seven furlongs: Wicklow, 102 (Kirschbaum,) 8 to 1, won; Convent Bell, 102 (McClain,) 8 to 1, second; Tanana, 107 (C. Williams,) 8 to 1, third; time, 1:28 4-5. Burning Bush, Calmar, Bon Vivant, Blanche C., Handmaiden, Kogo, and E. B. H. finished as named.

Five and a half furlongs: E. M. Brattain, 109 (A. Brown,) 4 to 1, won; The Mist, 102 (Keogh,) 15 to 1, second; Confederate, 110 (Graham,) 5 to 2, third; time, 1:08 1-5. Misty's Pride, Romaine, Nonie Lucille, Princess Wheeler, and Lord of the Forest finished as named.

One mile and a sixteenth: Dutiful, 110 (Palms,) 11 to 5, won; Pal, 118 (Jarrett,) 4 to 1, second; Hugh McGowan, 107 (Fisher,) 10 to 1, third; time, 1:49. Benvolio, San Remo, Theo Case, Talamund, Ed. Sheridan, Susie Christian, Rolla, and Daniel C. finished as named.

One mile: Ruby, 110 (Graham,) even, won; Mabel Hollander, 100 (E. Dugan,) 16 to 1, second; Northwest, 110 (Fischer,) 9 to 5, third; time, 1:42 2-5. Edith James, Sahara, and Ismailian finished as named.

Pioneer in Feature.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Bennings results:

Five and a half furlongs: Anna May won, Rose of Down second, Revenue third; time, 1:02 3-5.

Four furlongs: Lady Powell won, Beckon second, Harriman third; time, 0:50 1-5.

Five and a half furlongs: Jubilee won, Glaucus second, Superstition third; time, 0:57.

Easter Monday steeplechase $750 added, about two miles and a half: Pioneer won, Rouvigny second, Frank Somers third; time, 5:09.

Handicap, six and a half furlongs: Tickle won, Slickaway second, Campaigner third; time 1:21 3-5.

OVERHAULING YACHTS FOR RACING SEASON.

Clement Hebeler's cruising yawl Minerva is hauled out at Terminal Island to be prepared for her long race with the new auxiliary Ketch Arrow, owned by Francis Hay. Minerva is to be thoroughly renovated for the coming season. Mr. Hebeler has ordered from Lewey a new mizzen staysail—a good body sail which the English yawls find valuable in reaching, none of which has ever been made in this region. Mr. Hay is getting a similar canvas from the same lofts, which have supplied him with a capital outfit for all kinds of weather, including a storm jib, canvas sea anchor, and a storm trysail, which has its own sheet and is carried when the mainsail is stowed. This was designed with a gaff, but as this would require a peak halyard, it may be used as a lug sail, sent up on the throat halyard only.

Both these vessels may show some surprises in the way of extra sail, and when it comes to cracking on canvas for lengthy drifts in summer airs, club topsails may appear on both main and mizzen. Among yachts that have no topmasts, the club topsails have to gain their necessary elevation on their own yards, which are made very long, to prevent capsize in hoisting. The peaking up which they get above the top of the yard is gained through using a short sprit which fits in an eye in the roping at the peak corner, while the lower end swings in a snotter half way down the sail part of the yard. These sails have never been used in this neighborhood, but they do valuable work in summer airs; and if previous care be given to their fitting they can be made to stand in the gentle windward work of smooth water—in which case a light line to the top of the yard can be sent up with the sail, to be used as a forestay to the bowsprit end in working, or in quarterly breezes, as a backstay.

There is a lot of sport in these extra kites when the hot airs are lazy; and as these racers have to encircle Santa Barbara Island and also Catalina, they will probably have opportunity to try any kind of new contraption before they get back to San Pedro. Moreover, both competitors are staunch craft which deserve more attention in comparison with the bandbox racers. Mr. Hebeler, who gave the cup for the last Santa Barbara Island race, cares little about racing, but if a contest can be also a cruise he is willing to run his boat. What he likes is a home on the rolling deep, and a clean boat.

DATE OF RACES.

The date for the start has been mentioned as May 4, and until this race is over, Mr. Hay will not put in the propellor which is to be turned by his auxiliary engine. He probably will get Joe Fellows to sail with him on the Arrow, as he is rather too inexperienced in the racing field to be a fair match for the ancient lime-juicers who will hustle Minerva.

There is a good chance for anybody here who will keep different powered gas engines for yachts in stock. The difficulties in getting all these from the East are not lessened by the fact that completed yachts lie useless for months when railways do not deliver. One builder says he has had seven engines somewhere on the rails for ten weeks. The Gosum has just received hers after a wait of nine weeks after completion. Engines of all different powers are used here.

A contrivance of this kind will now be used in the handsome dinghey built by the Fulton Marine Construction Company for Alexander J. Mitchell, to be used with his power yacht, the Lady Charlotte, and also with his new racing yacht, the Columbine. This small craft shows a superior workmanship and has good floating ability for the ferrying of large crews between shore and yacht. She will carry a one and a half powered engine, an arrangement which is making oars obsolete.

Douglas White has put his big schooner Ramona in commission, and as soon as his crew is selected will start for San Diego. The Ramona is to come back under her own engine power. Capt. "Doug." White is a lifelong lover of the sails, but he is a little tired of ratching up the coast when coming home against the everlasting headwind which bothers the passage from the San Diego to this port. He wants an engine that will not own the boat. Here lies a chance for Lipton Cup racers to get home more quickly. White says: "perhaps I will be able to give you a jerk back, after your next race down there."

STAUNCH CRUISER.

The cruising yawl Royal, lately imported from San Francisco, by Mr. Lobesheimer of this city, is now hauled out at Terminal Island to be refitted and made like new. A full set of sails and cushions has been ordered from Lewey, and the hull has taken on a youthful look since the workmen got at her. She is of the solid construction which the high winds of San Francisco require in a cruiser, and with the peculiarly high cabin top (which suggests the houseboat,) she has far more internal room than could be guessed from an outside view. While not promising much speed, the Royal is a valuable addition to the local cruising fleets, being well fitted for the quiet Catalina fishing and cruising, while of a rig to tackle any weather on this coast.

A strong 30-foot cruiser has just been completed at the Fellows yard for Mrs. L. E. Matthews and her son and daughter. A mainsail and jib rig will be used when the winds are fair, and when these are adverse, the auxiliary power will be turned on. The yacht, which has not not yet been named, has a commodious cabin, and she will be kept anchored in the ocean off Long Beach for family use.

The fast yacht Marie of the class A racing fleet, is now in the hands of the Fulton Marine Construction Company for some new planking and general repair. Not counting the Detroit, which was really of a different class, the Marie had the honor of defeating all other local boats in the first race ever sailed for the Lipton Pacific Cup, and therefore proved herself a credit to her amateur designer and builder, C. H. Wedgewood, of this city. While other men were paying big money for professional designs the light creation from Wedgewood's back yard whistled down the wind. She is now owned by Messrs. Day, Ducker and Gray, of Los Angeles, who intend to put the craft outside the back number class if they can.

Knowlton Bradley is making still another addition to the speed of the former champion sloop Venus. When Hub Pease had this boat it was thought she was up to the last notch in the way of improvement, but the present stepping of a light cedar mast unquestionably will add to the chances of this game little racer.

Wins Queen's Prize.

LONDON, April 1.—Maher, the American jockey, won the Queen's prize of 1000 sovereigns at the Kempton Park meeting today on Lord Derby's Bridge of Canny. The event is for three-year-olds and upward, distance one mile and a half.

Diamond Sculls.

BOSTON, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Greer, champion oarsman, tonight declared that he wished to wind up his career, and as a grand finale would go to England to land the famous diamond sculls. The New Yorkers are booming Titus for this event, but rowing experts say that Greer is a much stronger candidate, and should beat the Yankee representative.

Gotch Beats Burns.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Frank Gotch defeated "Farmer" Burns here tonight at catch-as-catch-can wrestling in two straight falls. It took Gotch 20 minutes and 5 seconds to secure the first fall, and 17 minutes, 30 seconds for the second.

DOG TRAINING AS FINE ART.

Task Not Difficult, but It Demands Patience.

Retrieving Hardest to Teach. First Lessons.

Now that the snipe season is past and the shotgun is put away until doves are legally ripe again, the hunter has but little to occupy his spare time other than the breaking in of a new dog or two for the sporting days that are to come.

For the man who loves to shoot quail over the points of a well-broken setter or pointer, or his brother who takes as much delight in the perfect work of a finished retriever on the marsh as in the stirring sights of ducks doubled up on high, there is plenty to do in the late spring and early summer months.

Few men who break dogs for themselves realize the importance of starting in right with the puppy. A young dog is almost as susceptible to the influences around him as a child; undue severity will cow him for the remainder of his natural life; and unwise indulgence after he has passed the first stages of his puppyhood, bears with it the probability of making the animal headstrong and hard to control as he matures.

As a general rule, the beginner will do better at training a male puppy. Females are likely to be more tractable, but they are often very timid—so much so that an expert alone is able to get anything out of them. The novice mistakes fear for obstinacy, and often utterly ruins what might otherwise have become a good, serviceable animal. Dogs as a rule are less easily discouraged than their sisters, and take an occasional correction more gamely.

Then there is the question of breeds. Irish setters proverbially are headstrong. Some experienced men will not waste time trying to break them, yet there are some splendid dogs in the red breed. Of late years they have been conspicuous by their absence at field trial meets, however, and the breed is going out of fashion, largely because as a breed it proved hard for the amateur to handle successfully, and no easy task for the trainer.

SETTERS POPULAR.

In setters the variations of the English Llewellyn-Laverick as they used to be known—are, as a rule, not difficult to break and very serviceable when once educated to their duties. They are tractable, intelligent, courageous and possess plenty of endurance. They are better protected against the brush than a pointer, although not so ably adapted to a hot country in the matter of coat. On the other hand the man who wants an all-purpose dog that he can use on either field or marsh generally takes the English setter, the successful retrieving pointer being the exception always. Such are short-lived, falling easier prey to rheumatism than the longer haired variety. Water work, for that matter, is properly the province of the spaniel, but not all men can afford a dog for each class of sport.

Once the puppy has been secured, the next thing is to train him, and this will not be a work of one week or one month as most tyros seem to expect. No error is commoner among youthful trainers than trying to inculcate in a puppy in one lesson all he ever is expected to know. The beginner orders the pup to come to him, mauls it about if it does not obey at once and with alacrity, and then, with the dog in a terrorized condition, incapable of taking profit by any lesson, starts to put it through the repertoire of "charge," steady," "fetch," "carry," "heel," and all the rest, with the only possible result; the poor animal is dumfounded, afraid of its master, its trust in him shattered, its mind a motley mess of orders which it only connects with summary punishment for offenses it cannot comprehend. The pup is on the high road to worthless cur-hood. A few more such lessons and an expert indeed is needful to make anything out of the animal.

HOW TO PROCEED.

The amateur essaying to train a dog should endeavor to look at the lesson from the dog's limited point of view. The ability to analyze the dog's actions is essential to success. The man who overlooks correcting a pup for some trifling offense when in doubt whether the pup will know what he is punished for is on the high road to success, for too much whip makes a spoiled job.

A pup four to six months old can be taught gently a few things which will get him into the habit of minding. He can be taught to come to call and should be made to do it by the use of as little force as is necessary, else he may learn fear of his master. Short lessons, often repeated, work best with the puppy and make a more lasting impression. Playfulness need not be curbed for it is natural to puppyhood, and only eradicated at the expense of spirit.

To teach the pup to "charge" or crouch down on all fours is one of the easiest things of all. So is "heel" which consists in keeping the pup behind one. A small switch, with which to tap him on the nose whenever he becomes ambitious, and a collar and lanyard should teach "heel" in a dozen lessons, and the same number ought to suffice for "charge." These lessons will lay the foundation of obedience and discipline that is so necessary to a perfectly broken dog which works because his master orders him to, and not because he so desires himself.

RETRIEVING.

Of all the things a dog is taught, retrieving is the most difficult. A thoroughly broken retriever is the rarest of shooting dogs. Pointing is a natural instinct with "bird dogs," so called, and needs only to be restrained and controlled to perfect them for the field. Retrieving is contrary to the dog's natural instincts which are to catch prey and carry it off to devour. Yielding it up to his master is foreign to his desires, and if he does it voluntarily, it is merely for the love of play, and when that dies out, he retrieves no more. It is no fun to plunge into cold water and hence the "natural retriever" generally behaves in a very "natural" manner by refusing to go into it and fetch out a big fat sprig, or canvassback or mallard just when most wanted.

For this, and other reasons the "force" system of teaching retrieving is recommended. It consists in making the dog hold all manner of substances in his mouth that he would rather not. This is the first stage. The second is to make the pup go a few feet to an object thrown there for him to fetch, and to make him bring it back, holding it in his mouth if necessary. A large cork, such as are used on seines, is a good thing, being light. A pup does not particularly object to it, but it is light and answers well for a beginning. A pigeon wing may be substituted later. The throwing of blocks begets chewing and hard mouthing habits, and the less of play there is injected into retrieving the more likely the pup is to work reliably in all kinds of weather and all sorts of conditions.

Patience is the keynote of success. Flattered by his rapid advancement, the beginner expects his pup to retrieve the first day. Better if he does not. The more obstinate he is and the harder to teach, the better the result, if the training be persevered in until the animal realizes who is boss.

Many dogs will retrieve blocks of wood "naturally," seeming to pick it up of themselves. The novice wonders why they do not fetch the birds he shoots with the same alacrity. The answer is easily given—the dog is not a fool. He enjoys the excitement of chasing a wooden block, but his master does not throw birds for him to chase, and, therefore, he feels that he has no business with feathers, which stick in the mouth.

A corn cob cleanly shelled off is a good thing to work a pup on, and some trainers employ an old slipper or shoe for the purpose, as the old leather has a strong scent which helps the puppy to find it. No end of patience is required at this part of the work, and the trainer should never accept slipshod work on the part of his ward, but should make the puppy bring back his mouthful and deliver it right into his hand, correcting him for dropping it a few feet away and running off to play, which is a very puppy-like trick. Too many trainers are satisfied with unfinished work, and that is why there are so few perfect retrievers in this land of duck clubs.

Patience unlimited; short lessons and plenty of them; punishment when needed, not oftener, and unfailing kindness at all other times to afford contrast to needful corrections, will give any amateur success in training his own dog. Field breaking is another chapter of itself.

GREAT RELAY CARNIVAL.

Entries from Forty Colleges Received by Pennsylvania Athletic Officials.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The management of the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival has received entries from more than forty colleges for the annual meet which will be held at Franklin Field, April 27. From present indications the coming meet will be the greatest ever held. Classes which have not filled for years will be in line and by the time the entries close, it is expected that athletes from sixty colleges will be represented.

Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Chicago, Michigan and other universities will meet the Pennsylvania teams in the one, two and four-mile relay championships. The entry of Amherst assures the New England college championship. Brown, Wesleyan, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Amherst and Dartmouth compose a group that should furnish one of the best races of the day.

Special classes have been set apart for high schools and academies and a number of school boy teams from New York are expected to compete with the big school relays of Philadelphia and the vicinity.

The New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club, of Newark, has announced that it will have no connection as an organization, with any motor highway project which may be launched in New Jersey.

WHEN DINNER COMES

One Ought to Have a Good Appetite.

A good appetite is the best sauce. It goes a long way toward helping in the digestive process, and that is absolutely essential to health and strength.

Many persons have found that Grape-Nuts food is not only nourishing but is a great appetizer. Even children like the taste of it and grow strong and rosy from its use.

It is especially the food to make a weak stomach strong and create an appetite for dinner.

"I am 57 years old," writes a Tenn. grandmother, "and have had a weak stomach from childhood. By great care as to my diet I enjoyed a reasonable degree of health, but never found anything to equal Grape-Nuts as a standby.

"When I have no appetite for breakfast and just eat to keep up my strength, I take 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with good rich milk, and when dinner comes I am hungry. While if I go without any breakfast I never feel like eating dinner. Grape-Nuts for breakfast seems to make a healthy appetite for dinner.

"My little 13-months-old grandson had been very sick with stomach trouble during the past summer, and finally we put him on Grape-Nuts. Now he is growing fat and well. When asked if he wants his nurse or Grape-Nuts, he brightens up and points to the cupboard. He was no trouble to wean at all—thanks to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

We are making a specialty of children's and misses' suits and are now showing a very complete and attractive line of Junior suits for misses from 12 to 16 years of age. There is just as much style and just as good workmanship in these suits as you will find in the higher grades of women's suits. Heretofore, it has been almost impossible to find such garments in Los Angeles, but Bullock's opens a new field for mothers who are particular about their daughters' apparel. These goods are displayed on our fourth floor.

Junior Suits at $10

Suits of fine wool tweed; box coat style; double breasted; plain coat sleeve with turn up cuff trimmed with buttons; one upper and two lower side pockets; plain tailored skirt with inverted box plaits front, back and sides; wide hem; green and gray mixtures, with white stripes and three other styles and colors to choose from; ages 12, 14 and 16. Fourth floor today, $10.00.

Junior Suits at $12.50

Suits of all wool fancy mixtures; double breasted box coat, unlined; plain coat collar and sleeves; turn up cuffs, metal buttons; skirt regular tailored gore style; each gore pleated and stitched; skirt falling loose around bottom, giving great fullness; there are five distinct styles and colors in this lot; ages 12, 14 and 16 years; genteel suits that will appeal to the miss and her mother. Fourth floor, today, $12.50.

Two Special Numbers in Children's Coats

Children's spring coats of fine all wool materials; unlined; light in weight; one style plain box back, double-breasted front; coat sleeve tucked at cuffs; velvet collar; excellent colors; ages 8 to 14 years; good $6.00 values, today, fourth floor.............................. $4.50

All wool plaid coats; double breasted style; velvet collars; cuffs trimmed; two-inch strap over shoulders down front and back; stylish blue and white plaids that are neat and girlish; ages 8 to 14 years; regular $7.50 value. Today, fourth floor.............................. $6.00

Altred Benjamin & Co.'s

Swell Attire

Step in and see the superb Alfred Benjamin styles for spring, you will need no other argument.

Every suit is the production of genius, so utterly different from any other ready-made clothing that a mere glance is convincing.

The wealth and influence of Alfred Benjamin & Co., with years of accumulated experience, is devoted to the gathering of fine woolens—patterns that stamp a suit as genuinely exclusive, refined and individual.

These suits make any man attractively, stylishly dressed—not simply well dressed, but dressed with noticeable good taste and becomingness.

It is our privilege to sell twice as many high grade suits as any other firm in Los Angeles. The reason for this is apparent to any man who has once tried Alfred Benjamin quality.

Prices from $18 to $50.

Ultra exclusive styles—just a few of each.

The Shriners are coming! You'll need some evening togs—the correct kind. Our early summer full dress suits and tuxedos are now ready. No local tailor can approach them in fit or imposing style.

Always glad to have you drop in and look. Don't feel compelled to buy

FOR SALE—
MR. RANCH OWNER—
If you want to sell your ranch we can sell it for you and we can do it quicker and at a better price than you can. It makes no difference where it is located. We have our own agents in over six hundred towns and cities throughout the United States, and, mind you, we do not ask for an EXCLUSIVE contract, either; just an assurance of our commission in case WE SELL. You are free to withdraw it or sell it yourself at any time, in which we make absolutely no charge for our service.

FOR SALE— Houses.

FOR SALE—
I wish to call your attention to my house at No. 3021 Brighton ave. I built this place for a home and it contains everything to be found in a modern residence.
I will sell this place for the value of the lot, which is $2500, plus the actual cost of building the house by day labor.
There is not a reliable contractor in the city today that would duplicate this house for less than $7000.
It is an elegant, new, modern 8-room house, thoroughly up-to-date in every detail; cement steps, porch and sidewalks; handsome entrance, plate glass in reception hall, living-room and dining-room; all transoms are bevel glass, with copper ribs.
The reception hall has beamed ceiling, elegant stairway, seats, large mirror, umbrella rack, etc.
The living-room contains beamed ceiling, bookcases, numerous seats and without doubt the finest mantel in the city; this mantel is 6 feet wide and is built from the floor to the ceiling with genuine Caen stone.
The dining-room contains beamed ceiling, buffet 8 feet wide, paneled walls, plate rail, decorated ceiling and hand-painted frieze. The dining-room is 12x18 feet, living-room 17x21 feet; both finished in golden oak.
There is a convenient kitchen and pass pantry white enameled, screen porch extends almost the entire width of the house with toilet. Cement celar with laundry trays, furnace, Ruud heater and storeroom.
The second floor has 4 large sleeping-rooms with large closets, a front and rear balcony and an alcove off the front bedroom; there is a clothes chute from the second floor to the cellar.
The bathroom has cement floor, elegant shower bath adjoining, bath tub, wash basin and toilet; between the 2 rear bedrooms there is an extra wash basin and toilet.
Hardwood floors both upstairs and downstairs.
The lighting fixtures in this house were specially made and are very elaborate, harmonizing with the interior finish.
The back yard contains child's play house, arbor and automobile garage, 17x18 feet.

HUNTINGTON BOULEVARD TRACT

HUNTINGTON BOULEVARD TRACT overlooks the beautiful San Gabriel Valley at an elevation of 650 feet above sea level and has a magnificent and commanding view of the Sierra Madre mountains. The almost total absence of fog and frost gives it perfect climatic conditions that permit the growing of luxurant vines and flowers. With an abundant supply of pure water, a rich soil, close proximity to store and postoffice, HUNTINGTON BOULEVARD TRACT is the homeseeker's opportunity.

HUNTINGTON BOULEVARD TRACT is only 14 minutes from center of city on Pasadena Short Line, and has a three-minute car service. This property offers many advantages to homeseekers and investors which no other tract on the market can duplicate, considering location, prices, terms, improvements, size of lots, building restrictions, car service, view and climatic conditons.

FOR SALE—
CAPITOL HILL TO BE CROWNED.
The exceptional grandeur of an unobstructed view makes these large, rooms lots most desirable for elegant homes. Contracts have been let for seven large houses, most unique in architecture, that will crown Capitol Hill, making it the most picturesque and attractive locality in Los Angeles. The "cut off" through the tunnel subway will greatly increase the value of Capitol Hill. There are some rare opportunities from $700 to $1750, well worth your consideration. A Hollywood or Colegrove car—a 20 minutes' ride—takes you to corner of Sunset blvd. and Golden Gate ave. Office and agent there.

FOR SALE— Acreage for Subdivision.

FOR SALE—

We offer for sale a beautiful tract of land ripe for subdivision. About 34½ acres lying between Hollywood and Los Angeles, fronting Gower street and Melrose avenue, adjoining the Windsor Square on the north.
This property is high and sightly, overlooks both Hollywood and Los Angeles, and is surrounded by high class improvements.
The extension of the new Sixth-street electric line will run with a short distance of the property and will be completed within six months. Price $114,000; $34,000 cash; balance on or before one and two years, interest at 6 per cent. per annum; a reasonable time to form a syndicate can be given parties meaning business; our contract provides for release of lots as same are sold.
There is nothing else in this vicinity less than $3000 an acre.
This property will be on the market a short time only at this figure and will be snapped up at once.
Its in the heart of the "big things" doing in the western addition, where more beautiful homes, and high class improvements are being made, than in any other section of Los Angeles. If you are looking for a tract to develop into gilt edge property see us. There is a fortune in it. We have it and can deliver.

FOR SALE—
PAVING CLOSE-IN HILL.
Notices for PAVING streets on this HILL were posted today.
This should advance realty values there at least 25 per cent.
We can deliver the best corner on this hill for $1000 less than is asked for the corner one block NORTH of it; $5000 less than is asked for the corner one block WEST of it, and $9000 less than is asked for the corner one block SOUTH of it and $5000 less than we were offered for the latter. We would join any responsible party in the purchase of this, as we believe there is a profit in it of not less than 25 per cent. in the near future.

HOLLYWOOD.

FOR SALE—
in BEAUTIFUL HOLLYWOOD.
Between 4 and 5 acres.
Commanding the grandest view conceivable, above frost and fog.
In the midst of palatial homes and next to a hill on which is being expended $100,000.
$75,000 being spent on one of the most palatial homes in Southern California.
I am asking only $6000, which is the greatest bargain on the market. It is at least 50 per cent. under value, by this I mean that property far less desirable adjoining this and in the immediate neighborhood has sold and is valued at more than twice what I am asking.
This is one of the most exceptional bargains ever offered.
I also have an entire block, 200 feet frontage, double corner, on beautiful Prospect ave., which I am compelled to sell immediately. In order to insure immediate sale I am offering this magnificent property for
$6000.
Do you know what this means?
The price of the piece adjoining mine is over $17,000 for same amount of land, and it is not a double corner either, nor, has it the same improvements. Adjoining mine on the other side the same amount of frontage sold recently for $11,000.
CAN YOU BEAT THIS?
WE KNOW YOU CANNOT.

Finest Ready-to-Wear Clothes

MEN AND YOUNG MEN, who occupy commanding positions in the business world, do not want the cheap, made-in-lots clothes. They want in their garments that certain individuality which the world calls "style." We call it unusual workmanship. Realizing that this part of the population did not have a store in Los Angeles, where they could get what they wanted, we opened this shop last November.

We have firmly established ourselves in this community, by giving to our patrons something different and better than they could obtain anywhere else, and at a price—the character of the merchandise considered—not above what either the ordinary clothing or the department stores charge. At either $20 or $50, you can get in this shop a better garment than can be obtained anywhere else at the same price.

"14 Years Under the Same Management and Still Growing."

Globe-Wernicke Card Systems

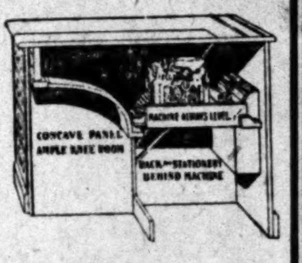
There is not a line of business in which the card systems can not be used to advantage: For ledger outfits, for real estate dealers in listing property, for laundry lists, for library listing, stock quotations, for dentists' lists, for physicians, for mortgage and loan offices, membership lists, customers' lists, bank signatures, etc. In fact, the uses of the card systems are almost unlimited and the advantages are many. If you are not using the card systems, let us explain them to you. We have special printed cards for almost every line of business.

Vertical Filing Cabinets

The vertical filing system is simply the filing of letters, invoices, credit reports, or any other papers that you wish to file, on edge in folders between index guides instead of flat on top of one another. This permits the collecting together, in a single folder, of all correspondence with one party or on one subject with a copy of your reply to each letter. The vertical filing system enables you to locate any desired correspondence by simply referring to a card index which is kept in conjunction with this system.

We are the exclusive agents here for the Globe-Wernicke cabinets; the best on the market.

Typewriter Desks



Accuracy and speed are the essential features of stenographic work. No stenographer can work to advantage without proper equipment. Study the cross-section illustration of the Globe-Wernicke desk. Notice the advantages you will not find in other makes. These are the advantages that should induce you to purchase one of these desks.

RUSSIA.

LAND PROBLEM DEBATE STARTS.

RUSSIAN LOWER HOUSE TAKES UP BIG QUESTION.

Many Members Announce They Will Speak on Subject—Both Parties Fear Effort Will Not Accomplish Practical Results as Throne Will Veto Any Liberal Solution.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1.—The discussion of the agrarian problem, to which the first Russian Parliament almost entirely devoted its legislative activity, began in the lower house today. Over a hundred speakers immediately signified their intention to participate in the debate, to which, according to the plans of parliamentary leaders, one day per week will be devoted.

The question is considered to be of far less importance now than it was last year. Neither the Constitutional Democrats nor the Socialists have much hope of arriving at practical results during the life of the present Parliament. They are convinced that any measure involving the compulsory expropriation of land, which is the basic principle of all the Liberal solutions, will immediately be vetoed by the Emperor, and be regarded by the Cabinet as a justification for dissolution of Parliament.

The House, however, was forced to begin the discussion in the agrarian problem as a concession to the peasant constituents of many of the members. Each political party has put forward three or four spokesmen to explain the features of the programme, but the great mass of the speakers are peasants whose remarks will contribute but little to a solution of the question. The work will be done by the committee to which the various projects will be referred.

The project of the Constitutional delegates is practically identical with last year's draft. It involved the expropriation of all estate above established maximums to be determined in each province by a committee created for this purpose.

The bill contemplates individual ownership, whereas the project of the Group of Toil, which is also reintroduced today, proposes the nationalization of all the land in the empire.

The National Socialists introduced a bill repealing all Premier Stolypin's temporary agrarian legislation, but this probably will be allowed to die a natural death in committee.

The first speaker today was Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, a land owner of Bessarabia, and relative of the ex-Minister of the Interior, who made a long speech in defense of individual property, quoting liberally from American and English authorities on the subject.

Count Lamsdorff Buried.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1.—The funeral of Count Lamsdorff, Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs, who died at San Remo, Italy, March 19, took place here this morning and was attended by many prominent persons, including all the Ministers with the exception of Premier Stolypin and the members of the diplomatic corps.

BLOCK CUPID'S PLAN.

Officers Interfere and Willful Girl Is Locked in the City Jail.

Cupid's plans were frustrated last night when the police locked Madge Klock in the City Jail. At the instigation of Miss Klock's mother, who lives at No. 220 Rice avenue, officers went to an apartment house at No. 773 Ruth avenue. There they found Miss Klock and Frank Henry, who were reported to the police as having eloped.

Two days ago Miss Klock's love affair came to a crisis. Her mother did not favor the suit of Henry, and forbade her daughter keeping company with him. A ride in an automobile is said to have followed, and the young woman and Henry disappeared. All efforts of the mother to locate Miss Klock were of no avail, and she finally appealed to the police.

From what could be learned, Mrs Klock maintains that her daughter is under 18 years of age. Miss Klock says that she is nearly 19 years old. On the ground that her daughter is not of age, Mrs. Klock secured the cooperation of the police, and they took the two young people to Central Station.

Miss Klock is determined to have her way about the affair. She appeared to be more affected by having her will opposed than by being forced to leave Henry. When the officers were seen last night they stated that they had nothing to say about the case. For some reason the officers were rather mysterious about it.

OLD MAN RUN DOWN.

Sustains Concussion of Brain When Auto Collides With His Bicycle. Outcome in Doubt.

Thomas Roy, proprietor of the Planet Apartments at No. 1832 South Main street, was thrown from a bicycle in a collision with an automobile at Eighteenth and Main streets yesterday and sustained serious injuries. D. G. Grant, the owner of the motor, lives at No. 615 Westlake avenue. Roy was taken to the Pacific Hospital.

Roy is over 60 years old and was riding north on the left side of Main street. Grant was driving his machine south on the same side of the street. When within a few feet of Roy, Grant realized that the old man would not be able to get out of the way. The streets were wet, but Grant applied the emergency break.

Roy was thrown violently. Patrolman Walsh ran to his assistance and carried him into the Palms Garden. A physician found that the man was suffering from serious internal injuries and had sustained concussion of the brain.

ANOTHER EXPLANATION.

Mrs. E. J. F. Ottarson yesterday gave The Times a further explanation of her husband's part in the sale of the Arizona properties belonging to E. B. Rivers. In claiming to have brought about the sale of the properties to the Pittsburgh people, she says, Mr. Ottarson meant that he had been the means of bringing them into touch with Mr. Rivers, but that the latter refused to make the sale at the time, but sold them later, after verbally agreeing to sell them to Mr. Todd, and it was not a double sale on his part.

The above is published simply to allow the fullest opportunity for giving Mr. Ottarson's position to the public. It is hoped that the entire deal will be probed by the authorities and the blame for the transaction placed where it belongs. It certainly should not be allowed to pass, but should be thoroughly investigated in justice to both the victims of what seems certainly to have been a gross fraud, and to any who may be wrongfully accused on account of circumstantial evidence. It looks pretty rare.

TELLS OF PILFERING.

Man Taken Into Custody by Police Gives Reason for the Theft of Groceries.

So that more acceptable eatables might be furnished for the table, Earl Kennedy of No. 385 Walnut street, told the officers that he assisted in pilfering a store at No. 755 East Twenty-eighth street. Kennedy's statement was made after the arrest of four men, among whom were he and his father, by the police last night. Those in the City Jail are Kennedy, his son and W. S. Chamberlain, who resides with Kennedy, and Fred Hoffman, No. 1392 East Sixth street.

According to the officers, two of those under arrest went to a storehouse kept by H. Richland on East Twenty-eighth street, and there secured a large quantity of supplies, such as canned goods and articles of various sorts. The officers say that there is a wagonload of stolen property at the Kennedy home. The details of how the goods were stolen the police say that they are not aware of.

AFTER "DEAD TIMBER."

Police Board Programme Includes Changes in City Detective Force, Beginning Today.

If the programme arranged yesterday before the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners today goes through, the first of a series of changes in the personnel of the detective bureau of the police department will be made. Just what the complete programme is has been kept such a secret that even some of the men whose heads hover under the knife do not know they are in danger.

One of the changes proposed today is that of placing Detective McNamara on a beat and giving his place in the higher salaried squad to Pat Murray, who is now one of the jailers. Murray has aspired to plain clothes duty for a long time, and at last he appears to have exercised a pull sufficiently strong to land him in the coveted place. In point of ability, if he exerts himself, it is said, he can make a record far superior to those of some of the detectives with whom he will be associated.

That a general cleaning out of "dead timber" in the detective branch of the service is intended was admitted last night by a member of the Board of Police Commissioners, but he would not state the names of the men who have been listed for other duties.

BANQUET FOR COCHRAN.

His Approaching Marriage and Great March Business Lead Pacific Mutual Men to Rejoice.

George I. Cochran, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, was given a banquet last night by the officers and agents of the company at the Angelus. The affair was given in honor of two very important things—Mr. Cochran is about to be married, and March has been the greatest month in the history of the company in the amount of new business secured. This latter has been so good that the agents have called the month of March "Cochran month."

The affair was held in the red room of the hotel, and there were over eighty-five guests. An excellent menu was discussed, and subsequently addresses were made by several prominent guests. Among the speakers were Lee McKee, F. H. Thompson, D. M. Baker, F. G. Tyrrell, George I. Cochran, J. N. Russell, Jr., Gail B. Johnson, Dr. W. A. Beckett, J. C. Drake, C. W. Monneghan, James H. Blagge and C. S. Montgomery.

During the addresses it was stated that the company had secured over $404,000 new business during March, and that Los Angeles county contributed $347,000 to this total.

CALL STORY FAKE.

Police Disposed to Disbelieve Early Morning Robbery Report and Continue Investigation.

The police admit they are at a loss to explain what motive young Vincent Maher had in robbing himself, though they declare the reported robbery of his apartments at No. 1346 South Hope street Sunday morning is a "fake." Officers at University Station are investigating the circumstances surrounding the peculiar affair, but have made no report.

According to a patrolman of the West Side station the officials are confident that the story of the robbery is a hoax.

There seems to be no reason why Maher should desire to pose as the victim of a mysterious early morning burglary. He declares he has no intention of leaving the city. He also says he has never gambled, and has not attended Ascot Park races. According to his own statement he will make good to the correspondence school which employs him, the loss of the $110 which he claims were stolen.

DEATH OF AGED MAN.

F. R. Slater died yesterday at the Orthopedic Hospital from old age, having reached within a few months of 90 years. A son of the deceased came down from San Francisco to see his father when he was reported ill, but on Sunday, believing that the aged man would recover, he returned home, only to be apprised yesterday of his father's death. The deceased was prominent in Odd Fellow circles in his time, and it is understood the body will be shipped East for burial. At present it lies at the funeral parlors of the Overholtzer-Mills Company awaiting word from relatives. A daughter, Mrs. W. J. Kilbourne, resides in this city.

LEAGUE DIRECTORS.

Sherman Pease, G. G. Johnson and Thomas Hughes were elected directors of the Union League at the annual election of directors yesterday. Johnson succeeds Byron Oliver, who, through stress of business, was obliged to forego another term. He has served six years. Pease and Hughes succeed themselves. The election of officers will be held today. R. N. Bulla probably will be elected president. Miles S. Gregory is certain to be reëlected as secretary.

ISLAND MISSIONARY.

Rev. Philip Delaporte, who has been laboring for six years as a missionary on a lonely island in the mid-Pacific, is passing through the city, and will speak at Peniel Hall tonight. His work on the island is said to have been most successful, and he will no doubt prove an interesting speaker.

AUTO INJURES BOY.

Cecil Kelly was run down and painfully injured by an automobile at First and Freemont streets yesterday. The lad was assisted to his home at the Hotel Portland on Diamond street. He was running across the street when the accident occurred. A member of the Burke Brothers' Realty Company was driving the motor.

TRAIN KILLS TRACK WALKER.

John Salegano, who was employed by the Southern Pacific as a track walker, was killed near River Station yesterday afternoon by a freight train while attempting to cross the tracks in front of it. His body was taken to the morgue.

The Handsomest Clothing Store In America

We are now completing an organization to exploit a fine raisin grape proposition. Vineyards full bearing and sold in small tracts. 2728 acres have been purchased and 1777 acres additional are under option. We will net a profit of a quarter of a million dollars selling this land at $150 to $200 per acre. We can prove to our purchasers that they will clear from 20 acres $1200 to $1800 per year. This sounds GOOD for the land purchaser as well as the company. Over a year has been spent in investigation from all sides. If you have $1000 or more which you desire to invest in a progressive and profitable work with reliable associates, we would be pleased to tell you all about it and show you. It is only 47 miles from Los Angeles. This is a business proposition for shrewd, honest people. Your most careful and immediate investigation is desired, and if the folks back home would buy one of these Vineyards on your judgment we would like you to become a member of our organization.

MARCH WEATHER.

The weather bureau's report for March shows that the highest temperature during the month was 84 degs. and the lowest 39 degs. The greatest daily range was 34 degs. and the least 11 degs. The mean temperature for the month was 56 degs. The total precipitation was 4.12 inches, being about an inch more than the average for the past thirty years. Westerly winds have prevailed, the total movement being 4056 miles. Only six days were clear, fifteen being cloudy and ten partly so. There were six thunderstorms and four light frosts.

WIGGINS AT WORK.

Frank Wiggins, looking very worn and tired, returned to his desk in the Chamber of Commerce offices yesterday. Even a little respite seems impossible to him now, as he must start in a very short time for Jamestown. Mr. Wiggins is enthusiastic over the proposition of direct trade with Hawaii, and says that island talk is very vigorous over the proposed "sunshine route" between the port of Los Angeles and Honolulu.

BOY INTOXICATED.

Ralph Shorb, a 12-year-old lad living at No. 782 San Pedro street, was arrested on Spring street, between Second and Third streets, last night, in a state of intoxication. The police say that they learned where the lad secured the liquor, and that they will secure complaints against the sellers today. An effort will be made to prosecute them.

BOY HURT BY CAR.

An eight-year-old lad, who gives his name as Natygas Kasvtner, was carried into the Emergency Hospital early yesterday afternoon, suffering from a fractured leg. He was struck by a car near Fourth and San Pedro streets. He belongs to a Russian family living at No. 490 San Pedro street.

CONGRESSMAN GOES FREE.

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Inability on the part of a juror to read and write the English language has resulted in quashing the indictment against Congressman Henry George Favrot, who is charged with the murder of Dr. William Aldrich in Baton Rouge last autumn.

In the District Court a demurrer to the indictment was sustained on the ground that one member of the jury, an Italian, could neither read nor write English.

The State apppealed to the Supreme Court, which affirmed the decision of the lower court.

Warm Discussion On Divine Healing.

Bethlehem Begins April Hustle for Fund.

There were interesting doings at the Methodist Ministers' Association yesterday. A warm debate on the subject of "Divine Healing" was precipitated by the reading of a paper by Rev. Frederick Miller, pastor of Haven Methodist Church.

Mr. Miller treated the subject entirely from the biblical standpoint, quoting liberally from the Bible to prove the contention that it is a scriptural doctrine. There were many arguments in both directions, as to how far the principle of healing by divine power without the use of other agencies was to be applied in cases of illness.

Dr. Tanner, the man who became famous many years ago by his notable fast of forty days and forty nights, was present, and wanted to talk on the subject introduced by Mr. Miller, but the ministers refused to permit throwing the subject open to miscellaneous discussion. B. F. Yokum, a professional faith-healer, was also there, and he likewise wished to talk, but was not permitted to do so. It was decided, however, that the latter might present a paper on the subject, at a future meeting.

LOYALTY TO THE FLAG.

The recent reports from labor-union agitators in San Francisco, Nevada and Montana caused the appointment of a committee of the association to draft condemnatory resolutions on the subject. Dr. J. L. Pitner, Dr. F. D. Mather and Dr. S. A. Thomson were the men chosen for the duty, and they brought in the following report, which was adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, violent men have, within the last few weeks, hissed at, torn, trampled upon and otherwise shown their enmity to the national colors, and have uttered words that would have, in times of war, constituted treason against the nation, and have publicly evidenced a growing enmity to our Constitution and form of government, and have incited opposition to law and order, as ordained by State and national authorities; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the ministers of the Los Angeles preachers' meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church, do hereby express our abhorrence of such words and acts, and call upon all in authority to use their utmost powers, if necessary, to quell such disturbances and brin~ all such disloyal rioters to swift accounting and merited punishment.

"Resolved, that we look with growing apprehension upon the widespread disregard of rightly-constituted laws, and the growing irreverence of holy things in many parts of our country, and we pledge ourselves to labor in every legitimate way to promote a revival along ethical lines.

"Resolved, that our sympathies are with those national and State officers now engaged in promoting honesty in public office and commercial affairs, and we pledge them our influence as citizens, voters and pastors, until all who have grown rich on the loot of office or the greed and graft of illegitimate commercial transactions, shall be exposed to the detestation of honorable men and be made to pay the penalties prescribed by law for such offenders."

BETHLEHEM'S BOOM.

GRACE CHURCH PURCHASE.

Rev. Dana W. Bartlett, superintendent of Bethlehem Institution, has begun his campaign for the purchase of the Grace Methodist Church property and lot adjoining.

He wishes to raise $50,000 in the month of April, and comes in at the close of the first day with subscriptions footing up $2699. S. P. Mulford heads the list with $500, and an "Interested Friend" follows with $100, and all other subscriptions are under these figures.

While continuing the original Bethlehem as the "Mother House," it is the desire to make the new location on Hewitt street the center of benevolent activities, and the proposed fund of $50,000 is for its purchase and equipment, and for completing the equipment of the several other branch institutions.

EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY.

FORMER ANGELENO CHOSEN.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Cochran, son of Attorney J. W. Cochran of this city, has just received notable recognition by the Presbyterian Board of Education. He has been chosen secretary to the board, which position became vacant with the death of the well-known Dr. E. B. Hodges in June last, and has been temporarily filled since that time. Dr. Cochran was assistant to Rev. J. L. Russell in Los Angeles, some years ago, when the latter was pastor of the old First Presbyterian Church, which stood on the corner of First and Broadway, opposite The Times building. Dr. Cochran renewed his acquaintance here during the meeting of the General Assembly, several years ago.

Since 1898, he has been pastor of the Northminster Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, and was in that position when appointed to the secretaryship, which is regarded as one of the most important in connection with the activities of the denomination.

After coming out of college, Mr. Cochran engaged in Y.M.C.A. work in San Francisco, then became assistant pastor in a Presbyterian church at Tacoma, coming from there to Los Angeles. Following this he took a course in theology, and was chosen pastor of a church at Madison, Wis., where he remained five years, and went from there to the Philadelphia church.

PAUPER GOES BACK.

Associated Charities Ships Imposter to Louisville, Whither He Had Come to Find Home.

Once more Los Angeles county is shipping back to the country whence he came a pauper and an imposter, who hoped to pass the rest of his days in ease at the expense of this public.

The man is Henry Cates, 50 years old and partially paralyzed, who came here last month from Louisville, Ky., and who quickly found a place of repose at the County Farm. He will be returned to Louisville today, fare prepaid. It is cheaper to send him back than to keep him as a pensioner on the county rolls for a matter of twenty or thirty years.

To Secretary Stuart of the Associated Charities, Cates told a sorrowful tale upon his arrival here. He said he had been in the grocery business at a certain address in Louisville. En route here, he said, his pocket was picked; that the thieves took $275 in cash.

Stuart sent the fellow to the County Farm, afterward writing to the secretary of the Charity Organization Society at Louisville, requesting information about the man. It turned out that the Louisville address he gave was fictitious; that he never had been in business in that city.

At the County Farm the fellow confessed that he had been a beggar on the Louisville streets, making a feint at selling pencils. He said a number of gamblers paid his fare to Los Angeles.

So he will go back to Louisville, which owes him a living far more than does Los Angeles.

Secretary Stuart says the shipment of paupers to this section is being discouraged through the action of Los Angeles in sending them back to their homes.

"WHISTLE WETTERS."

Supervisors Renew Some Liquor Licenses and Hold Up Others Pending an Investigation.

Of a long list of applications for liquor licenses of various sorts, the Board of Supervisors yesterday renewed twenty-five and held up about fifty for further investigation. Licenses renewed were in "wet" districts. A new license to sell liquor was granted to A. B. Smith, a Norwalk druggist.

Saloon licenses were granted to Gilly and Faure, E. Rambaud and H. Heinze, Puente; D. B. Jerrue, Santa Catalina Island Company, and B. Rosin (two,) Pilgrim Club, at Avalon; Santa Catalina Island Company, Isthmus; Harry Sexton, Santa Monica Cañon; M. Matheson, Wilmington; T. McP. Gough, Acton; Hugh Petrie, R. Murphy and George Webber, Lancaster; M. G. Verdugo, Verdugo Cañon; J. L. Griggs, Del Sur; M. A. Powell, Newhall.

Druggists' licenses were granted to Hull Pharmacy Company, and to John F. Rice, Downey; Island Pharmacy Company, Avalon; C. M. McKelvey, Gardena, and S. Sollenberger, Inglewood.

B. Rosin of Avalon secured the renewal of a restaurant liquor license.

THIS SILENCE COSTLY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONG BEACH, April 1.—Much comment has been caused on West Eighth street by the demands of G. W. Ray for delay in repairs to his house, which was nearly destroyed by fire three weeks ago. The flames were discovered by Miss Rivers, a trained nurse in care of Mrs. M. C. Moore, who was lying critically ill next door to the Ray home, and but for her alarm Mr. and Mrs. Ray would probably have been cremated in the building.

Ray secured an adjustment of his losses and was to have begun repairs, but Mrs. Moore was too ill to stand the noise or be removed to a hospital and Ray, on condition that he be paid daily for each day's delay consented to postpone his work. The sum demanded was $25 a day and Mrs. L. S. Moore the daughter of the sick woman exhibits receipts for four day's payment. Ray insists that it is nothing more than right he should be paid and does not think the sum demanded is exorbitant, but some of his neighbors are inclined to disagree with him.

LONG BEACH RIPPLES.

Three hundred strong-lunged boys from the Pasadena grammar schools accompanied by their teachers came to the beach in four special cars and enjoyed the first annual picnic of the "Pasadena Y.M.C.A. Grammar School Anti-Cigarette Athletic League." The morning was spent in the surf and plunge. William Travener winning the diving and swiming races. At noon the boys ate lunch on the sand and spent the afternoon in athletic stunts. Accompanying the boys were City Superintendent Graham, Prof. W. H. Holland, H. Sayre, Van L. Denton, R. G. Sharp, E. W. Ewing and P. E. Stewart, and Physical Director Braden of the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. Late this afternoon a side trip was made to Naples to see the dredgers at work.

Long Beach will have the best legal talent available in defending the proceedings brought Saturday questioning her jurisdiction of West Long Beach, which includes Terminal Island and East San Pedro. Mayor Downs was served with legal papers in the case today. Long Beach is given ten days to reply to the suit. Long Beach has three decisions in her favor on the question, but in the present case the burden of proof rests with Long Beach.

Calm consideration of the recent defeat of the $300,000 school bond issue inclines many citizens to the belief that it was a mistake and a petition, numerously signed has been presented the Trustees asking that another election be called. To get a fair expression of opinion the Trustees have called a mass meeting for April 12, to receive instructions on the proposition.

As an Eastertide memento, Director Vessella of the Royal Italian Band yesterday received a diamond solitaire ring from an old lady in Baltimore, who encouraged the young director when he was striving for success in Baltimore. The director received a handsome gold watch from the same source on Christmas. "She is the best friend I have in the world," is the director's eulogy, when showing his handsome gift today.

Postoffice receipts for March amount to nearly $3800, a 20 per cent. increase over last year, and which makes the total for the fiscal year of about $42,500, which places the city in the ranks of first class postoffices, and adds $200 a year to Postmaster Hirsche's salary. The change in class will go into effect July 1.

Workman this morning began clearing out the rear of the City Hall to make room for the modern twelve-cell jail. Liquors in bottles, jugs and barrels, relics of by-gone raids, were removed to a new storage room in the basement, until they are disposed of by order of court. The new jail will be ready for use July 1.

In March Recorder Hart disposed of thirty-two cases in Police Court, and collected $579.50 in fines, two of which were for violation of the liquor ordinance. Five cases remain to be decided and these will be called Tuesday. All are "blind pig" cases.

Will Frank, who had charge of the Green Wing Gun Club preserves during the shooting season, today resumed his position as special policeman of the Long Beach Bath-house Company.

Bert H. Paul was today elected president of the Butters & Paul Investment company, succeeding W. H. Butters, deceased. Mrs. Butters was elected secretary of the company.

TRAITORS FEAR PUBLIC WRATH.

GOLDFIELD ANARCHISTS SET ASIDE MEETING.

Outcry Against Their Insult to Flag Causes Them to Slink Away. Business Men Issue Statement Defining Attitude Toward Labor in General.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fearing a repetition of such treasonable utterances as came from the anarchistic lips of the I.W.W. Easter's Day and apprensive of a riot as the result the mass meeting planned by Col. R. L. Toplitz for this afternoon was called off.

Col. Toplitz published a cancellation of the appointment, assigning this reason. Goldfield is indignant at the socialists' insult to the flag yesterday and it is fortunate that no violence has resulted. The miners hold a regular meeting tomorrow night, but it will be dominated by the I.W.W. and no good can be accomplished.

Two indictments each have been found against M. R. Preston and Joseph Smith. One is for attempted murder of a cook and a waiter employed at the Silver restaurant and the other is for the murder of the proprietor, John Silva. Smith and Preston have been removed to the State penitentiary at Carson to prevent their rescue by I.W.W. sympathizers. They will be tried jointly soon after April 14.

The following statement was issued today by the Executive Committee of the Goldfield Business Men's and Mine Owens' Association.

"All statements, reports or assertions that the Business Men's and Mine Owners' Association of Goldfield has been formed to combat or oppose organize labor or to overthrow the Western Federation of Miners are unqualifiedly false. Its purpose, as declared at the outset, is to rid the community of the long-continued and intolerable agitations of the anarchistic and un-American organization calling itself the Industrial Workers of the World, that we may permanently settle and adjust the labor and business conditions of this great mining camp, with due regard to the interests and welfare of all.

"To this end we have invited and will welcome the coöperation of all genuine labor unions toward the establishment of industrial peace, which is indispensable to continued law, order and prosperity. We reiterate our original announcement that 'no declaration of war' has been issued or felt by this association against the Western Federation of Miners. We believe that among the miners of Goldfield are some of the best in the world, and we desire to retain them and to remain on the friendliest terms with them.

"The purpose of our resolution was and is that the miners of Goldfield should be independent, and we will be perfectly satisfied if they regain and keep control of their own local union, No. 220, and sever their connection in the Goldfield mining district with the Industrial Workers of the World.

"There is no intention of disturbing present conditions as to hours and wages, and when the object above stated has been accomplished, the association believes that an agreement can be signed between the mine owners and the miners, guaranteeing the present hours and wages for any number of years that may be mutually agreed upon."

DIAZ OPENS CONGRESS.

In Message He Describes Recent Strikes and Prompt Methods of Their Suppression.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEXICO CITY, April 1.—President Diaz tonight opened the second session of the twenty-third Mexican Congress. In a lengthy message dealing with commercial, industrial and financial questions, the Chief Magistrate sets forth the needs of the country.

Dealing with the labor situation and commenting on the recent strike in the State of Vera Cruz, the President says:

"In various parts of the republic there have been movements of labor in the form of peaceable strikes. An occurrence of this nature toward the close of last year took on considerable importance, as the operatives of a large number of industrial establishments in various States and in the Federal districts suspended work.

"Both employés and employers refused to find a solution for the conflict, and after I had conferred with both sides, their difficulties were adjusted to the advantage of all, with the single exception of the operatives of certain factories near Orizaba, where disorders took place and resulted in damage to property. The central government has backed up the local authorities with all promptitude and quickly restored order.

"The finances of the republic are in a good condition, and the outlook for a general prosperity could not be better."

Ninety-four makers are now building six-cylinder cars.

While Mammy was lazily doing the wash,
She said to herself: "Dis labor is bosh,
And nevah come back to worry dis coon."
No sooner she'd spoke, when her wish it came true,
And Kornelia Kinks was the cause of it, too.

Cheerful faces, good digestions and strong muscles belong to those who eat "Korn Kinks" regularly. Delicate, tasty, digestible, sustaining—made of malted corn and a welcome treat for any meal. At your grocer's for only 5c. a package.

The development of the natural crude soda deposits of California is no mysterious thing—the inaccessibility of the supply has held in check until now this remarkable enterprise. Scientists, chemists and mineralogists have marveled at the extent and purity of these wonderful deposits. Nature has made possible here what chemical process only in other sections has done. The fifty million pounds demand for finished soda products on the Pacific Coast alone is our waiting market. Every ounce of the present supply comes from Michigan, Ohio or New York. In the initial work of converting this natural crude soda into soda ash, caustic soda, sal soda, bleaching powders, cooking soda, soda hyposulphite, washing compounds, glauber salts, etc., our engineer has completed a machine that will do in one week what it would take six acres of vats six weeks to accomplish in precipitation and crystallization. This machine, with cheap transportation, places us in a position to dominate the soda market of the world. This machine in ministure is in operation every day at our general office, 512 So. Broadway.

Read what the Local Press and Prominent People Say About Soda

The TIMES of Sunday last, in a review of the Death Valley situation and its marvelous development through the building of the new Tonopah-Tidewater R. R., has this to say about soda (which is part of the soda beds that comprise the more than 4000 acres of natural deposits of the Pacific Coast Soda Company:)

Another of the more important industries that this railroad will be the means of making possible is that of the development of the natural soda beds of California, that so much has been said and written about. The immediate deposit that will be directly developed is that of Soda Lake, which extends for many miles along the margins of Soda Lake Mountains, at the very entrance of Death Valley, and which is paralleled almost the etire way by the new railroad. No mineral deposit of the western country has been more completely isolated than this and few have received more attention on the part of scientific men.

The analysis of the natural soda existing in this lake has been shown by Dr. Chatard and Prof. Laird Stadler, of the University of Southern California, to average about 45 per cent. sulphate and carbonate of soda, with a small percentage of sodium chloride. It has been universally contended that with proper railway facilities it would not require many years for the natural soda fields of California to become an important factor in controlling, or at least depressing, the alkali industry of the United States.

Nestled close to Soda Mountain, about midway between the center of the lake, is the abandoned adobe rooms of the old government fort, that has known so much life and frivolity in the days that have gone.

Buildings have tottered and fallen, but the vast soda beds remain as ever, a ghostly sheet of white on a starless night. To them time has brought no changes. Who can look out upon this great plain of natural soda, extending far beyond the confines of the binoculars, without experiencing a profound admiration of the immense cycle of time that ensued during this wonderful transformation. Soda, soda, nothing but soda. For miles you travel, and yet it is soda. Standing upon the ruins of this crumbled fort on a summer evening, the passing rays of light reflect on the soda, giving the appearance of an immense lake of water; but all is illusion.

Read further what J. Sylvester Brown, one of the greatest commercial chemists in the United States, says of these deposits and their development:

This vast soda tract under judicious management, can easily be converted into a profitable industry. In fact, I risk nothing in saying that its commercial features are almost immeasurable. This great soda bed gives evidence of being formed from the residue obtained by the evaporation of natural alkaline waters, without the aid of artificial heat. It presents an appearance of a partial sink or lake, without an outlet, in which the leechings and drainage of the alkaline plains have been connected and concentrated. Sodium sulphate is among the most valuable of Nature's gifts. Its use is singularly diversified, in fact there are few chemical industries in which soda, either sulphate or carbonate, does not play an important part, and the combination of economic values into which it enters, are numberless. It may be said that sodium sulphate forms the basis of the soda industry. Few other products of Nature permit of such enormous divergency. It constitutes the basis of the following staple and important products:

Chlorate of Soda.
Sodium hyposulphate.
Caustic Soda.
Sodium Bi-carbonate—known as common cooking soda, important constituent of all baking powders.
Hydrated Sodium Carbonate—Sal soda, known as washing compound, etc.

And a vast range of important similar by-products. All of these products are valuable and open up for you, with proper capital, a range of extraordinary possibilities. While the manufacture of many of the above chemicals and compounds would be new to the Western country, yet the subject of the introduction of a new industry always has been and will be recognized by educated men as a subject of importance. It may be said with emphasis, that there is no more occasion or necessity for the importation of sodium carbonate, caustic soda and many of the previously enumerated products, from the East, than there would be for the importation of common lime rock or crude petroleum. You have upon your claims inexhaustible material for the manufacture of these compounds and chemicals, and I urge you to give them the attention which they so justly deserve.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Bankrupt School Teacher.

Charles E. Cargill, Santa Barbara schoolmaster, filed a bankruptcy petition in the United States District Court yesterday. He states that he owes $3906.01, and has but $125.

Justices' Clerks.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, F. J. Gilmore and Sidney N. Reeve were appointed, respectively, as clerks in the offices of Township Justices Pierce and Stephens. The places, created by the last Legislature, pay $100 a month.

Want to Be Cities.

The matter of the incorporation of Watts and Inglewood as cities of the sixth class will be given another hearing today by the Board of Supervisors. It is believed that Watts now has complied with the necessary requirements and that its petition will be granted.

Want a Levee.

Residents of the Laguna district, southeast of Los Angeles, have petitioned the Board of Supervisors for the formation of a levee district to stop the ravages of the Los Angeles River, which is said to be eating its way voraciously through the rich farming lands from Fruitland to the Berry ranch.

"Dry" Verdict Accepted.

The temperance people of that portion of Shorb Precinct east of Boyle Heights, saw all their saloons closed yesterday and the lights all out and the doors locked last night. They watched the manner in which the first "dry" day was received by the saloon men with much interest, and telephoned their gratification at a late hour last night.

Coffee Club Opens.

The coffee club at the new Bethlehem Institution at Railroad and Main streets, was opened to the public yesterday and marks a new era in the neighborhood. It fills a long-felt need among the vast number of men employed in the shops of that section of the city, and with its reading-room and other conveniences will become a factor in the social life of a great many people.

Cadavers Wanted.

Dr. C. A. Whiting of the Pacific College of Osteopathy made application to the Board of Supervisors yesterday for a regular supply of dead bodies from the County Hospital and other public institutions. Under a law recently enacted by the Legislature, osteopaths are placed on a footing with other medical schools in the matter of receiving cadavers at the disposal of the Supervisors.

Charter Day.

The Cosmos Club is preparing to make merry on its third birthday anniversary, holding the charter day celebration tomorrow afternoon in Symphony Hall, Blanchard building. The meetings have been held during the past month in Blanchard Hall, but tomorrow will see the club in its own quarters again. A charming feature of the afternoon will be the series of old English, Irish and Scotch ballads and songs to be sung by that beautiful little singer, Miss Louise N. Hall, in costume.

Mail Congested.

Owing to washouts on the Salt Lake line the eastern mail which formerly arrived via said line is now being dispatched to Los Angeles through Sacramento and San Francisco. This in connection with the wrecks on the Tehachepi Mountains, Saturday last, prevented the arrival of a large quantity of eastern and San Francisco mail, including ten or twelve days' delayed mail from Oregon and Washington, until Sunday, causing such an accumulation of letter and paper mail that it will be two or three days before the carriers can make full and complete deliveries. It is expected that normal conditions will be resumed by about Wednesday.

Of course there is always a reason for an unusual sale like this. This time it is a little out of the ordinary. The manufacturer made a mistake in marking the sizes—they are really smaller than he marked them. They could not be sold at regular price of marked size, so his offer of 60 cents on the $1.00 was quickly taken. Exact sizes, which are large as most housekeepers require, with sale prices above.

If you will take the trouble to visit Beverly Hills, look around at the magnificent improvements, consider the advantages, both natural and artificial, if you will stop to realize the extremely moderate prices and the intrinsic value of the property, if you will compare Beverly Hills with any other residence section or subdivision in Southern California, you will instantly decide to locate your home there.
Beverly Hills is not a speculation. Its distinction lies in this respect: that its success is not dependent on any sales—its success was assured when the capitalists behind it decided to promote the project.
Beverly Hills is the most charming natural location available for residential purposes near Los Angeles.
If any other spot had offered more desirable qualities, it would have been chosen instead of the present location.
It is the intention of the company to discourage speculation and to render all assistance to those who wish to erect homes. Call at office or write for artistic booklet which explains Beverly Hills more in detail.

5000 Yards MOST WANTED Laces

50c to $2 Values for 25c Yd. Tomorrow Wednesday

Our lace buyer—with an eye always open for bargains—was fortunate enough to gather in a 5000-yard lot of new and handsome lace novelties at a figure so absurdly low as to be almost unbelievable—a mere fraction of their actual market value. In truth, there's not a yard in the lot that could be bought today for less than fifty cents. More of them worth seventy-five than fifty, and more worth between one and two dollars a yard than under one dollar.

Tomorrow's the day we've set apart for the sale and we warn you now, in due time, to be on hand as punctually as convenient. Such rare bargains don't last many hours in this town.

Widths range all the way from 4 1-2 to 8 inches.

Among them are some few Arabian colors, also a number of pretty bands and insertions from one to two inches wide. The very styles you'll need most for lingerie waists, summer gowns and millinery purposes.

The specimen's shown today in one of the Spring street windows will corroborate all our claims as to style and value.

HONDURAS LOTTERY DOWNED AT LAST.

Countrywide Chase of Gambling Sharks Ends With Arrest In Los Angeles and East, and the "Lucky" Numbers Go Out of Business, Perhaps Forever.

WITH one more important arrest to be made on the Pacific Coast, the United States government will have what is believed to be a strangle hold on the Honduras National Lottery Company, successor to the Louisiana State Lottery.

Advices received by Federal agents in Los Angeles last night state that the last big captures had just been made in the East.

After scouring the country from Boston to San Francisco and from Alaska to Florida, the authorities say they have run down every agency of the company in the United States.

From the time the list of "lucky" numbers reached this country from Honduras, through the office in Mobile that distributed those numbers throughout the land, through the plant in Delaware where the lottery tickets were printed, through the agencies that sold these tickets and published the lists of drawings—through all these diversified channels, the clever government officials have trailed the guilty ones. They claim to have their hands on all the big conspirators.

Nearly fifty persons, some of them from high social and business stations, east, west, north and south, await the action of the Federal grand jury at Mobile, Ala., before which will be laid the mass of evidence.

LOTTERY CHOKED OUT.

The big lottery has been choked out of existence; its agents have been caught red-handed at every turn; the evidence against them is so strong that they cannot fail to pay a penalty.

Three arrests in this connection have been made in Los Angeles within the last week. Herman Brunner and William and Harry Henderson of Mobile are the accused men. It is said they had an important part in the distribution of the lists of numbers and of the lottery tickets.

Brunner was arrested at Dolgeville and the Henderson brothers at No. 600 East Twenty-third street, where they have been living this winter. The presence of these men in this section has been known for a long time to the government authorities. Their arrest was delayed pending other more important captures. The men are out on bail, pending the time when they shall be summoned to Mobile.

Looming big in the running down of the band of lottery sharps is United States Dist.-Atty. William H. Armbrecht of Mobile of the Southern District of Alabama. Mr. Armbrecht was in Los Angeles yesterday, and is about to return to his home. He is highly elated at the final success of the long chase of the offenders against the Federal laws.

HUNTERS AND HUNTED.

Although Armbrecht began the hunt and has been one of the most important figures in carrying it on, he modestly takes but little of the credit to himself. He passes it up to the office of the Attorney-General of the United States.

Assistant Attorney-General Cooley, a close personal friend of President Roosevelt; Dist.-Atty. John P. Nields of Delaware; Dist.-Atty. Garland of Boston, Dist. Atty. Sims of Chicago, Chief Wilkie of the Federal Secret Service, and Secret Service Operators Irving C. Sauter and Donaghy of Wasington, and Griffin of Philadelphia, have worked with Armbrecht on the big case.

Among those who are in the meshers of the law are Gen. W. L. Cabell, C. M. Bredow and James Rea, officers of the company; John M. Rogers, proprietor of a big printing plant at Wilmington, Del., and a prominent figure in the business and social life of that city; John L. Shaw of Washington, D. C., Frank X. Fitzpatrick, a millionaire of East Cambridge, Mass., E. J. Demarest, of New Orleans, reputed owner of more than a majority of the capital stock of the lottery company; Walter J. Demarest, his brother; John M. Demarest of Brooklyn, his son, and Paul Conrad, Jr., also of Brooklyn, son of the man who was president of the Louisiana company in its palmy days.

LAST BIG ARRESTS.

Shaw and John L. Damerest were arrested last evening in New Orleans. In all, it is said that twenty-eight prominent men throughout the country have been taken into custody, together with more than a score of persons of minor importance, hirelings of the big ones.

The trail of the lottery serpant has been a long and slimy one. The pursuit of the reptile has been carried on with more or less vigor for twelve years. It was quickened and the viper was given what is believed to be its death blow under the leadership of Assistant Attorney-General Cooley and his corps of able lieutenants.

A remarkable fact in connection with this capture is the fact that the principal agents of the government are all young men. Neither Cooley, Armbrecht nor Secret Service Operator Sauter has reached his thirty-fourth birthday.

When the Louisiana Lottery Company went out of business in New Orleans in 1893, it was thought the snake had been scotched. In that year its franchise ran out and, though it offered an immense sum to the State of Louisiana for the privilege of remaining in business, its offer was refused. The money was to be paid to the State school fund. The State needed the money, but it no longer could stand for the lottery.

Prior to this there had been numerous attempts in various cities of the country to stamp out the sale of lottery tickets.

GO TO HONDURAS.

Millions of dollars had been poured annually into the coffers of the big lottery company. Its agencies were in every hamlet of the United States. The big Chinese lotteries of the Pacific Coast were puny in comparison. So fat a snap could not be given up without a struggle.

The lottery promoters, unable to gain a foothold in any other State, turned their attention to a convenient foreign country. Within a few months from the time they were driven out of Louisiana, the company obtained a concession from the government of Honduras. It established headquarters at Puerto Cortez, a city on the northern coast of that country, reached by a direct line of steamers from Tampa.

The same men who were connected with the Louisiana company headed the Honduras company. In the old days, Gen. P. T. Beauregard, one of the old officers of the Confederate army, certified to the honesty of the drawings of the Louisiana company. But he died, and Gen. W. L. Cabell, another Confederate officer, took his place. Cabell was caught in the latest net.

Unable to prevent the drawings in Honduras, the United States government set out to prevent the distribution of the lottery tickets. Laws forbidding the passage of such tickets through the mails had been in force many years. The Louisiana company sent them by express.

SCREWS TIGHTENED.

To make the transmission of the tickets still more difficult, Congress in 1895 enacted a law prohibiting the sending of lottery advertisements or other lottery matter by post, also making it a crime to send such tickets or lists of drawings by express or by person from one State to another.

This led to the arrest in 1893 of an official of a Mexican lottery company. A decision by the United States Supreme Court upheld the statute, although the lottery people, contended that lottery tickets were not an article of commerce, and that their transportation from State to State could not be prohibited.

Under the enlarged powers conferred by this law and by the action of the Supreme Court in upholding it, and through the aggressiveness of the officials now in service, the present successful crusade against the Honduras company was started.

Apparently frightened out of the use of the express lines, the lottery promoters had hit upon the plan of sending their tickets from point to point in the United States by trusted messengers, who carried the tickets from place to place as personal baggage. They used steamer trunks for the purpose. It is said that agents traveled from Boston to San Francisco with great trunks loaded with the slips of numbered paper. The profit was so great that almost any expense was justified in getting the tickets into the hands of purchasers.

THREE GRAND DIVISIONS.

There were three grand divisions in the United States for the purposes of distribution. From the headquarters of each an immense territory was served. The names of the cities that housed these headquarters have not yet been disclosed.

These facts were gleaned by the Federal authorities after a deal of hard work. Whence the lists of "lucky" numbers were sent out, and where the tickets were printed, still remained a secret.

Finally, in March, 1905, the steamer Hiram, en route from Puerto Cortez, to Mobile, was stopped in Mobile Bay by Federal authorities, who searched the personal baggage of Gen. Cabell, C. W. Bredow and James Rea, employes of the Honduras Company. In the luggage were found tickets of prior drawings, together with the winning numbers of the drawing of that month. No prosecution was attempted at that time, but the evidence then gained is in possession of Dist.-Atty. Armbrecht of Mobile.

The next big move of the government was in May of last year. It was moving slowly, but surely, for no step was taken until it was justified by the reports of the secret service agents. This move was the raiding of the big printing establishment of John M. Rogers at Wilmington, Del. It was conducted by Dist.-Atty. Nields of Delaware on the ground that lottery tickets were printed at the plant. Vast quantities of tickets were found, it is said.

MORE PROOF NEEDED.

Still the government needed many more links to forge its chain of proof against those engaged in the distribution of the tickets. They had located the place at which these tickets were sent out as baggage. They claim now to have learned how and by whom the distribution was made.

In December last Asst. Dist.-Atty.-General Cooley called into conference with him at Washington, Dist.-Attys. Armbrecht of Mobile, and Nields of Delaware, together with Chief Wilkie of the secret service. Plans were arranged at that time for the securing of still further evidence.

A few weeks later, Secret Service Operators Sauter and Donaghy were sent to Mobile to make investigation on lines that had been drawn. They watched with vigilance a plant in which it was suspected that the lists of lottery drawings were printed.

Late on the night of January 22 last the presses of the establishment began to hum. Shortly afterward, at 1 o'clock in the morning, a gang of men emerged from the place with big and heavy boxes, which they conveyed to the office of the Southern Express Company. The boxes were placed on a train bound for Atlanta, Ga., Operator Donaghy going on the same train.

When the train pulled into Atlanta, after having made an interstate trip, Donaghy raided the express car and confiscated the boxes.

PRINTING PLANT RAIDED.

In the meantime, Operator Sauter, with United States Marshal Deans and his deputies, raided the printing plant at Mobile, finding thousands of printed lists, with numbers of men packing the slips for shipment. E. L. Penac and Louis S. Graham, foreman and proprietor, respectively, of the plant, were arrested the same night, along with their employés, being admitted to bail shortly afterward.

Agents of the Southern Express Company at Mobile also were arrested, charged with being parties to the conspiracy, and at a conference a few days later between the Assistant Attorney-General and other officials, the officers of the express company offered their services in tracing the shipments. Through this assistance it is believed that much of the evidence was obtained against the distributing agents of the lottery company.

Tickets and drawing lists were traced to every important city in the United States through the efforts of Dist.-Attys. Armbrecht and Nields and Secret Service Operators Sauter and Donaghy. They scoured the country, and the visit of Armbrecht and Sauter to Los Angeles was one of the incidents of their search, the Hender-

They saw Mehegan, and then he vanished.

HIS MYSTERY IS BAFFLING.

NO TRACE OF MEHEGAN, WHO VANISHED ON STREET.

Disappearance the Strangest In Many a Day—Gone in a Moment and No Reason Is Known—Possible Clew Received from the Northern Part of the State.

Among the many strange things which happen in large cities few are more remarkable than the case of Edward Mehegan.

The man walked from a crowded office into a busy street during daylight. Then he became a thing of the past.

His mother, his business partner, his sweetheart and his brother, who have been aided by the Inglewood lodge of Foresters, have found no trace of Mehegan since that moment.

Such disappearance cases are always simple when they are finally solved. But in this instance investigation has led to no hope of solution. Mehegan seemed to have no motive for leaving. He was a man of good habits. There was little money on his person. And in the lists of accidents and robbery victims none who tallies with his description has showed up.

Mehegan is a young Inglewood merchant. He was last seen in Los Angeles, Thursday afternoon, March 21. Though the case was reported to the Los Angeles police department the Sunday following the disappearance, no officer has reported any trace of the man. Through the Sheriff's office came yesterday a report from the northern part of the State that a man who gave the name Mehegan had been seen in some of the smaller towns. Inquiry is now being pursued along this line.

UNUSUALLY STRANGE.

Mehegan's is a case of unusual strangeness. He had been in partnership with L. B. Hardin of Inglewood for a number of years. He was living with his widowed mother, whom he supported. He came to Los Angeles at 2 o'clock in the afternoon to attend to getting an order of wire fencing for a customer. Arriving before 2 o'clock he visited the office of C. L. Hedges, at No. 119 South Spring street.

Hedges sells "business chances." Mehegan had called on him the Sunday before to see about the sale of the grocery. He stated the reason was a partnership disagreement. But his partner says that there was no real disagreement, simply a desire on his own part to live on a farm. He says there was nothing pressing about selling the business. But Mehegan seemed to be a trifle anxious to sell.

When he left Hedges' office Mehegan spent about an hour in town which is not accounted for. An Inglewood acquaintance met him between 4 and 5 o'clock on Spring street on his way to the Union Hardware and Metal Company. This establishment is at First and Alameda streets. Before 5 o'clock Mehegan was in its office. He saw R. W. Taulman there.

From Taulman Mehegan bought the wire screen fencing after which he had come to the city. It was ordered for Mr. Hunt, and Mehegan asked the employé to send it direct to that party. This was the last seen of the man. He had on his person about $11 when he left the hardware store. He was sober and calm. He was known as a

TOTEM POISON FOR TEACHERS.

Laborites Seek to Unionize National Association.

Convention Here Because of Industrial Freedom.

Ruin of Educational System in Haley Plans.

Labor union domination, with walking delegates, strikes, fines, boycotts, dissension and disorder, threatens the National Educational Association, the most influential body of educators in the country.

This great organization will meet in Los Angeles next July. It will meet here because of the beauty of this fair land, and because of the delight of the balmy climate. More than all, it will meet here because this city is unique in having driven to bay the snarling pack of union labor wolves that have infested many other cities of the land and have snapped their red-reeking jaws over the fallen form of industrial freedom.

Not content with laying its stranglehold on the various industries of the country, unionism has succeeded in enlisting in its ranks many of the teachers of America.

An organization known as the National Teachers' Federation is secretly unionizing the teachers of the country, sending its propaganda out from the headquarters at Chicago.

The Chicago Teachers' Federation, which is the heart and center of the larger organization, has allied itself with the Chicgo Federation of Labor, is hand and glove with the walking delegate, of the trades unions, and where it leads, the national organization will follow.

SPREADING THE POISON.

The insidious doctrine of the new régime is being pumped through the arteries of every State in the Union. It is an open secret that its poison has entered the San Francisco school system, where many teachers have enlisted.

Dr. Jesse F. Millspaugh, the clear-sighted, conservative head of the State Normal School of Los Angeles, who is in close touch with the National Educational Association, says it was quietly ascertained by the executive board of the N.E.A. that no great sympathy with the National Teachers' Federation existed in Los Angeles before it was selected as a convention city.

Dr. Millspaugh also said that, after the association had decided to meet in San Francisco last year, great uneasiness was felt by the discovery that San Francisco was not only a stronghold of labor unionism, but that the National Teachers' Federation had secretly enlisted many of the teachers. With the local support afforded the labor union movement by such a condition there was danger to the N.E.A. in meeting there. He sounds a warning against unionism among teachers.

Leading the whole movement in the country is Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago, editor of the national organ, head of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, and delegate from that body to the Chicago Federation of Labor. She openly confesses that one of their aims at present is to get the National Educational Association to adopt resolutions that the federation has framed.

GAINS NO HOLD HERE.

This doubtless will be a difficult matter in Los Angeles. The Teachers' Federation has changed its purposes and has gone from reason to unreason, according to the best educational authorities, since its organization, some years ago, in Los Angeles. In this city at present its new doctrines appear to have comparatively little hold on the teaching force.

Overtures have been made to the Los Angeles teachers by the local union labor council, but they have been turned down cold. The teachers of the public schools of this city have refused to listen to the vitriolic outbursts of the labor agitator. This fact is relied on at the coming convention to suppress any effort to unionize the teachers through resolutions railroaded through the N.E.A.

The Executive Committee of the N. E.A. is unalterably opposed to any suggestion of unionism on the part of the teachers.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and a member of this committee, made a speech in Chicago in the very hot-bed of the labor-union sentiment, not long since, in which he said:

"If I belonged to the Chicago Board of Education, every teacher who belongs to a union would be discharged."

UNION LABEL SCHOOLS.

The Educational Review, edited by Dr. Butler, says of the teachers in the National Federation:

"It may be denied, but it cannot be truthfully contradicted, that it is the aim of these teachers to gain control of the school machinery, to throw the throttle wide open, and dash this great engine of education headlong toward betterment over a road that can be safely traveled only when it is traveled slowly and with great caution."

Under the leadership of Miss Haley in Chicago, the first demands made there were for the betterment of the teachers' condition, but the demands of the federation have grown more and more insistent, until they are impatient of any authority, and would have any supervision of their work of teaching the children abolished entirely.

Teachers who refused to join the organization in Chicago have been branded as "scabs," and are made to feel the penalty of keeping their liberty of action.

Some of the final and most unreasonable demands of the Chicago Federation have caused the ministers of the city to rise up and bitterly denounce this "union of pedagogy and labor."

The National Teachers' Federation, it is thought, will soon openly affiliate with the National Federation of Labor. They are secretly affiliating now every teacher that can be drawn into their ranks in any part of the country. The matter is kept secret for the reason that, were it known, the local school boards would take radical steps to stamp it out before it became firmly rooted.

TENTACLES REACH FAR.

In every organized and partly-organized town, the federation has its correspondents, just as the Chicago federation has its correspondents in every school. It is the duty of the correspondents to keep the central office informed of conditions in each territory.

DR. JESSE F. MILLSPAUGH, the farsighted educator and president of the State Normal, who says California should be on guard against teacher unionism.

Each teacher in the national organization is numbered. Each teacher, upon joining, fills out four slips. One is sent to the president, one to the secretary, one to the treasurer and another to the State director, for each State has a director, who is an organizer or a walking delegate.

Before long this federation is to have a great central office in Chicago, in charge of salaried officials, and from this office all campaigns will be directed.

"This office," says David Swing Ricker, a keen observer of the situation, "will be the source of the streams that will flow to every red schoolhouse in the nation, carrying on their surfaces the gospel of organization.

"And when every teacher charged with the sacred obligation of planting the seeds of good citizenship in the hearts of the men of tomorrow, and with nourishing the instinct of motherhood in the breast of the wife of tomorrow, is branded with the union label and saturated with the stench of ward politics, then will the federation have attained its final goal."

NO FENCES ON PUBLIC LAND.

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY WILL BRING PROSECUTIONS.

Abuses in Antelope Valley Must Be Corrected, and Other Places Will Also Feel Investigation. Movement the Result of Secretary Garfield's First Official Order.

The big land owners of Southern California whose estates abut upon government reserves may again expect to feel a solicitous inquiry from the combined forces of the land agents and the United States Attorney's office.

Unlawful enclosures are said to have been made in a number of instances. Matter was put into Mr. Lawler's hands yesterday leading to an investition of several conditions.

Likewise, yesterday morning, the land office in the Coulter building received the first dictum of Secretary James R. Garfield. The circular letter is relative to these conditions.

Locally, it is said that a contest may be expected in Antelope Valley, where the jealousy between the stock men and the settlers has been perpetual.

A Mrs. Davis, reporting to the special commissioner yesterday morning, said that a new claimant there had found a fence stretched squarely across his land—a fence evidently built for a purpose, and put up to stay.

The Malibu ranch owners are said to have slightly transgressed the government's regulations upon this point, although investigation into their case has not yet been made.

Mr. Garfield's letter to Gen. Prescott reads as follows in its most pertinent paragraph: "You will instruct your special agents that the making of gaps or the making of gateways in illegal fences upon the public domain will not relieve from liability under the act; but that leaving fence posts standing after the wire has been removed will not be considered a violation of the act; that when, on valid claims or patent lands, fences are maintained which cut off access to public lands, prosecutions should be brought in order that an authoritative court decision may be obtained."

WARMINGTON'S STATEMENT.

Engineer of Wrecked Train at Colton Tells Coroner He Had Right of Way at High Speed.

Coroner Van Wie of San Bernardino county yesterday took the deposition of Engineer Warmington, who ran the Southern Pacific overland in the Colton wreck. The engineer's testimony brings an entirely new contention, and one of no small importance, into the matter.

Warmington told the Coroner that he had the right of way in yard limits and had a right to run at high speed. He acknowledged he was going at thirty-five miles an hour when the wreck came. He said it was the duty of the yard crew to keep the main track clear and protected for him.

Van Wie found Warmington hardly able to talk and suffering great pain in the Sisters' Hospital. But the man was frank and free in his statements. His first knowledge of the open switch did not come through the target. He never saw that at all. But he saw the switchman waving him to stop, and he at once shut off steam and threw on emergency air. He "gave her the limit," as he expressed it. This is corroborated by the statements of passengers, who said they felt a hard jolt before the wreck. The fireman said the same thing.

The inquest will continue today. Coroner Van Wie will now have some new lines of questioning to follow in getting the facts from railroad officials concerning who was at fault.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance of intention and resolution preliminary to calling an election for the $23,000,000 bond issue for the Owens River project.

The City Council yesterday bucked against creating the position of billboard inspector, and also postponed action for a week on creating a wholesale liquor zone.

Councilmen declared themselves in favor of placing a monthly tax of $25 on every social club operating under State charter which dispense intoxicating liquors.

The position of disbursing agent for the outfall sewer was created by ordinance. It carries a salary of $200 a month.

Mrs. Florence Taylor yesterday in contesting the action brought by Furness Taylor for divorce, made surprising statements.

L. D. Carter was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Ada Carter. Widow and widower, each with children. They have been one large but not loving family.

Counsel in the Dotter will case yesterday in the Superior Court were still striving for advantages, and the promised sensations remain unsprung.

AT THE CITY HALL.

COUNCIL PLEDGES ITS LOYALTY.

FIRST ORDINANCE PASSED FOR OWENS RIVER PROJECT.

After Attempts to Postpone Action, Obstructing Councilmen Take Occasion to Declare Their Allegiance to the Water Enterprise, and There Is a Unanimous Vote for Ordinance and Resolution.

By a unanimous vote of the nine members the City Council yesterday afternoon adopted the ordinance of intention and resolution declaring that the public interest, convenience and necessity demand the bringing of the waters of the Owens River to this city, and that the cost of such an enterprise, estimated at $23,000,000, is greater than can be met out of the regular revenues of the city, and, therefore, it is necessary that an election shall be called to vote upon an issue of bonds to that amount.

In discussing the subject before the Council, yesterday, Councilman Wallace declared:

"No matter whatever comes before this Council, I am certain that there will never be as important a measure as that which we are considering this afternoon. There are those who would like to stop the movement to get this water; but I am certain that if it were definitely known that we could not get this water supply our property would not be worth 50 cents on the dollar."

Wallace then scored those who have been using dilatory tactics to block the adoption of the ordinance of intention.

Councilmen Healy, Dromgold and Clampitt wanted the resolution and ordinance held over one week. Dromgold declared that before that time reports would be submitted on near-by water sources, and for this reason he wanted to await action on the Owens River project.

The scoring of Wallace had its effect, however, and one after another of the hesitating Councilmen took occasion to express their allegiance to the Owens River project.

Dromgold, whose hot and cold tactics have caused his actions to be watched with a degree of doubt, took the opportunity to place himself on record.

"I think it would be a crime for any member of this Council to stand in the way of getting the Owens River water," said he. "I do not believe for one moment that the bonds for this great project are in danger. I believe they will carry by a great majority. I want to say right here, and I would like to have the newspaper men take notice of it, that I am enthusiastically in favor of the Owens River project."

Then followed declarations of faith in the project by Healy and Clampitt, and finally the motion to postpone action was withdrawn, and the vote was unanimous.

It is probable the call for the bond election will be presented to the Council within the next two weeks, and the election will likely take place the latter part of May.

No Billboard Inspector.

There was a hitch yesterday in the programme to pass an ordinance creating the position of billboard inspector, at a salary of $150 per month. The soft berth some one was figuring on may never materialize. The City Attorney yesterday informed the Council that there is no more warrant for creating this position than there is for the creation of a dozen others taking from the police department and the City Tax Collector's office various duties of those offices. He declared that all the machinery necessary for the enforcement of the new billboard ordinance is now in existence. The Council decided to postpone action for one week.

Hose at One Price.

The City Council yesterday called the Fire Commission before it, and gave that body a genteel spanking. The commission sent a recommendation that three lots of hose be purchased at three different prices, ranging from 75 cents to $1. Councilmen discovered that all bids were under one set of specifications, and they couldn't see why the triple contracts should be let at such a variation in prices. Commissioner McGarry explained that the $1 hose was considered the best made, and was for use with the new engines, but the Council considered the commission's proceedings irregular, and decided to authorize the purchase of fire hose only on the lowest bid. Eight thousand feet will be purchased at 75 cents the foot, from the Bowers Rubber Works of San Francisco.

Robinson Will Plan.

Charles Fawcett Robinson, civic architect, is to plan a "City Beautiful" for Los Angeles. The City Council yesterday voted to set aside $1000 for the services of Robinson in this work, which will be undertaken at once. Councilman Clampitt was the only member voting no on the proposition. He thought the Park Commission should do the work.

Council's Adjourned Session.

Yesterday's hours were not long enough for the City Council to near reach the end of its budget, and there will be an adjourned session tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Wholesale Liquor Zone.

The City Council has set next Monday at 2:30 o'clock as the time for a public hearing on the proposition to create a wholesale liquor zone, which it is proposed shall correspond to the present lines of the retail liquor zone. At that time, also, will be heard the protest of 200 or more people against the location of a wholesale liquor establishment on the west side of the Third-street tunnel.

License for Social Clubs.

Next Monday at 2 o'clock the City Council will have a public hearing on the proposition to place a tax of $25 per month on all clubs operating under a State charter, and which dispenses intoxicating liquors. In his message to the Council, recommending this step, Mayor Harper yesterday estimated that this tax would bring to the city treasury a revenue of $15,000 a year. In connection with this proposition came one from the Mayor, asking the creation of a position of inspector of licensed places at a salary of $200 a month.

Ivers Is Now Elsinore.

Through action of the City Council yesterday, upon recommendation of the Board of Public Works, the street heretofore konwn as Ivers avenue, has its name changed to Elsinore avenue. There was a petition asking that the street name be changed to Hillcrest avenue, but as there is a Hillcrest drive within the city it was thought this would lead to much confusion, and at a meeting of the property owners on Ivers avenue, the name of Elsinore was finally decided upon.

Will Confer on Garbage.

President Anderson and Superintendent of Streets Edwards of the Board of Public Works have been named by that body to confer with a committee from the City Council and a committee from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association to discuss provisions for a new ordinance regulating the collection and disposal of garbage, so as to give relief to the business district. The Council will take the matter up in the committee of the whole.

Will Pay Funeral Expenses.

The City Council yesterday voted to pay the hospital and funeral expenses of the late Patrolman Clyde A. May, who died from a shot wound inflicted by a highwayman while he was attempting the man's arrest. The Council will pay the sum of $288.70. The first hospital bill of $125 was paid by a contribution from May's brother officers.

Punching Up Railways.

The City Council was notified by the Board of Public Works yesterday that it is using every effort to compel the street railway companies to conform with the terms of their franchises, which provide that the companies are to keep in repair that portion of the street on which they are operating, the space between the tracks and a distance of two feet on each side of these tracks.

May Store More Distillate.

An ordinance was adopted by the City Council yesterday, providing that 500 instead of 200 gallons of distillate can be stored within the fire district. This amendment is made to accommodate hotels where inconvenience is felt sometimes over the shortage of distillate, caused by lack of delivery on holidays.

Paving Proceedings Abandoned.

All proceedings for the paving of Fifth street, from Olive street west, are to be abandoned, decided the City Council yesterday, provided the property owners affected pay all expenses thus far accrued. Because of the probable changes in the street, due to the sale of the State Normal School site, this abandonment is desired.

Disbursing Agent.

The City Council yesterday passed an ordinance providing for the position of disbursing agent for the outfall sewer, under the supervision of the Board of Public Works. The salary is to be $200 per month. It is intended to pay the employés directly on the work, so that they will not have to make a trip to the City Hall for their wages.

Old Sewer Condemned.

The City Council yesterday adopted the recommendation of the Board of Public Works that the old defective sewer on Olive street, between Court and Temple streets, be condemned and removed, and that a new sewer be constructed in this street.

Street Vacation.

The vacation of a portion of Larissa drive in Capitol Hill was ordered by the City Council yesterday. Property owners on the frontage affected are to pay all the expenses incident to this vacation.

Electric Line Extension.

The Board of Public Works was authorized by the City Council yesterday to construct an extension of the electric line for the transmission of power from shaft No. 21 on the outfall sewer, at an expense of not exceeding $600.

Circus Offers Animals.

The Sells Floto Shows yesterday offered to sell to the City Council for the park menagerie two female lions, two camels and two tigers. The offer was referred to the Park Commission.

Proceedings Abandoned.

All proceedings for the widening of Forty-ninth street were abandoned by act of the City Council yesterday. A majority of the frontage thus petitioned.

Bids for Boathouse.

Bids will be opened on April 15 for the construction of a new boathouse in Eastlake Park. The City Council decided yesterday on this date.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SHE LEARNS HOW TO HOLD PLOW.

WIFE, SUED FOR DIVORCE, IS INTERESTING WITNESS.

Husband, She Claims, Forces Her to Acquire Agricultural Knowledge and Treats Her Without Consideration—She Is Fighting to Gain Possession of Their Daughter.

"I felt very much wronged in all my family life," declared Mrs. Florence Taylor, who is contesting an action for divorce, now in the fourth day of its trial. For three days she sat by the table in the Superior Court, listening to various recitals of her own alleged shortcomings, the story of the raid at Pomona in which her little girl was taken from her, and of the great kindness her husband has shown her in taking her back after her first desertion of him.

Yesterday it was Mrs. Taylor's turn, and she seemed to make the most of it. Her voice rose and fell in artificial, elocutionary cadences as she talked, giving equal stress to trivial and truly dramatic matters.

Asked if she had thought who would cook supper for her husband and the boarders the night she left her home for the second time, she replied melodramatically:

"Ah, I was not thinking of those meals then."

With no access of emotion she spoke of the night raid at Pomona, where she had gone with her little daughter to stay with a friend. She said a telegram had been sent to her at Pomona, purporting to come from Oscar Lawler. It was sent, she said, as a means of finding what house she was staying in. "I never thought he would try to take my child from me in such a way as that," she exclaimed.

Mrs. Taylor stated her belief that her husband had cared nothing for her except as a person to make money for him. She said he had insisted on her continuing to keep boarders when she had protested. It appears she had been told by friends that it was improper to keep boarders.

"The only reason I went back to my husband the first time," she said, "was because I did not see any way to gain custody of my baby. No, it was not out of any feeling for my husband, for I didn't care anything at all about him. The only reason I offered to go back the second time was the same."

The witness told of her husband making her plow while they were on the farm at Redlands, and of her stepmother making her lie down in the farm wagon, so that neighbors would not see her, when starting for the field:

"Mr. Taylor taught me how to hold the plow. I told him I couldn't do it, but he made me. It was two days before I really began to learn. I had to drive the horses and hold the plow, too. No, I did not hold it very straight; I just tried to hold it in the ground.

"I was very much afraid of my stepmother. She had a very suggestive way, and when she told people to do things they generally did them."

Cross-examination, instead of shaking the testimony given, only brought out more striking statements.

"You say the real reason for deserting your husband was that he insisted on your keeping two boarders?" was asked her.

Dispassionately she replied, though still with the melodramatic lilt: "Oh, no; that was only the direct reason. My life with him was nothing that the life of a wife should be. He was paying a great deal of attention to another woman, Mrs. Francis."

A prompt objection by her own attorney checked her for a moment, and she continued silent while Judge James told her not to mention any more names. Then she went on talking about Taylor's apparent devotion to Mrs. Francis.

"One day, when he had told me he was going to Santa Monica, I went over to see Mrs. Francis, and found my husband there with her in the dining-room. Her little boy told me that Mr. Taylor had been there the Sunday before, too, and had fixed his kite for him. I hadn't known anything about it. I never spoke to Mrs. Francis again."

She told of a visit she had paid to the home of her husband, drawn in spite of her dislike of him by a desire to see her baby.

"I asked him to let me stay with the baby all night," she testified, "because I found her sick and wanted to stay with her. He told me I should not stay under that roof, and that if I did not go down the steps right away he would kick me down."

The mother of Furness Taylor was called to the stand again yesterday afternoon, and told more of the alleged shortcomings of "Nessie," as she called her daughter-in-law.

"A pig could not have lived in the house she kept," asserted the stern old woman under oath. Questions resulted in modified and specific statements that "Nessie" would leave the dishes unwashed and did not sweep until the house became very dirty.

Mrs. Florence Taylor has been teaching music since leaving her husband, and declares she has an easier time and more return for her labors than she ever had in her married life. But every day she longs for her baby, and in order that she may press her claim for custody of the child, she is fighting the divorce.

SURPRISES ARE YET TO COME.

Further hearing in the Dotter will case was had in the Superior Court yesterday, but the promised sensations did not materialize. The array of opposing counsel alertly watched each other, and the witnesses, objecting and excepting profusely over seemingly trivial matters. They are fighting for every hairsbreadth of advantage.

No less alert, and quick to advise their counsel, the sisters sat at opposite ends of the long table; at one end Idella Dotter, heiress under the will and possessor of the entire $50,000, property left by her mother; at the other end the contestants, Mrs. Lottie Barre and Mrs. Conelia Carlson. Adown the table, between, set a long row of famous attorneys.

Mr. Carlson was on the witness stand yesterday, and testified to the gradual breakdown, mental and physical, of his mother-in-law before making the will which his wife and Mrs. Barre are seeking to break.

A copy of the previous will drawn by Mrs. Dotter, in which the property was divided equally among her four children, after a special bequest of $1000 per year additional to Idella should be provided, was introduced to show Mrs. Dotter's change of purpose. The will over which the legal battle is being waged gives all to Idella, except $100 to each of her sisters and her brother, George Dotter.

BANKER'S WIFE FREE.
PECULIAR DIVORCE SUIT.

On the ground of cruelty, arising in a suit for divorce, in which a decree was granted and later set aside, Talma C. Nieble yesterday was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from W. M. Nieble, a banker of Long Beach.

The cruelty consisted in the charge her husband brought against her in his suit for divorce. Though it had been made to appear that the charge was substantiated in the trial of that suit, it was impeached later on.

MIXTURE, NOT BLEND.
FAMILIES DO NOT UNITE.

L. D. Carter yesterday was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Ada Carter.

"Her oldest boy licked my youngest boy," was one of the complaints uttered by Mr. Carter on the witness stand. Apparently, however, he had suffered severer tribulations than that.

Widow and widower, each with children, each with some money, they were married and sought to combine families and fortune. The combination of fortune proved an easy and pleasant matter. Mrs. Carter bought a lot, paying $800, according to the testimony, and keeping it in her own name. Mr. Carter built a house upon it, at a cost of $5500. Thus were the fortunes joined.

Into the house and onto the lot were brought the families which were to mingle in one loving group. There is evidence that they mingled, but not lovingly. Mr. Carter admitted on the witness stand that he had rebuked his oldest stepson. Thereafter, it appears, the mother told her first born that he should keep away from her husband, as the latter was an unfit person for the darling boy to associate with. Other little things occurred to discourage any possible return of serenity into the family group, which had proved a mixture, but not a blend.

Testimony was taken to show that Mrs. Carter had followed her husband to the new home he made, and with villification, demanded the return of a bed, which she claimed he had taken without right from the house which stood on her lot. He returned the bed, but not in time to avoid another visitation, because he had not returned it soon enough.

Carter, on the witness stand, stated that he had never given his wife cause for her anger, and intimated that he had quite an angelic disposition. His daughter, however, while substantiating his testimony on essential points, admitted that her father had a temper which her stepmother had succeeded in ruffling noticeably on one or two occasions.

In looking over the papers, Judge Conrey discovered that Mr. Carter had brought an action for divorce on September 22, filing a complaint which Mrs. Carter answered. The case had not been pressed, and a new complaint was filed. Judge Conrey cross-examined Carter on the allegations of his wife in the answer to the complaint in the former suit, ordered that action transferred to Department Five and dismissed it. Then he granted Carter the interlocutory decree he asked.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

COLLEGE MAN'S GRAVE ERROR.

TRIES TO SELL POLICEMAN A BOOK; IS ARRESTED.

Discharged in Police Court After Explanation—Crib Bosses Plead and Ask for Jury Trials—Four Desperate Horse Thieves Taken Home by Their Mothers.

G. H. Scott, a young college student, was tried in Justice Chambers' court yesterday on a charge of violating a city license ordinance. Scott is earning his education by selling books. He was unfortunate enough to call at the home of Patrolman "Mike" Cahill at No. 206 Avenue 37 and attempt to sell him a book. The policeman, instead of buying the book, pounced upon the student and placed him under arrest. Scott's arm was swollen yesterday from the alleged encounter.

"He seemed crazed with anger," testified Scott yesterday. "I was afraid he would kill me. He dragged me to the rear of his house and asked me if I had a license. I told him I didn't know I was obliged to have a license, and he said: 'Well, I'll fix you.' Then I was arrested.

"Judge, I'm trying to earn my way through college. Besides earning my living I sent $50 to my old mother in the East the other day. I wouldn't tell a lie, judge, and I only wanted to sell that man a good book."

Friends of young Scott testified as to his good character. He has lived in Los Angeles for a year past.

Patrolman Cahill declared that Scott had tried to enter his house, and that he believed the young man was a robber, and so used force in placing him under arrest.

Justice Chambers promptly discharged Scott.

Student Bound Over.

Raymond Killion, the Polytechnic High School student who is accused of burglary, was arraigned yesterday in Justice Chambers's court, and held to answer to the Superior Court under a $1500 bond.

Crib Bosses Plead.

Tom Savage and Charles Armstrong, who were arrested in connection with the recent raid on the crib district, were allowed to plead yesterday before Justice Chambers. Both asked for jury trials.

Savage must defend himself against two charges of conducting a house of prostitution. He will have a hearing on May 20 on the first charge, and on May 21 on the second. Armstrong will be tried on May 22.

Mothers Instead of Jail.

Four youngsters were held in jeopardy of arraignment on a charge of horse stealing yesterday. Throughout the morning and until 3 o'clock in the afternoon two patrolmen strove vainly to secure the issuance of warrants charging them with the grave offense.

The lads are Robert Ellis of No. 212 South Alameda street, Frank Allen of No. 207 East Ann street, Earnest Ramirez of No. 227 North Figueroa street, and Alex Globenfeldt of No. 212 North Figueroa street. These boys, and two others who were picked up on suspicion, were brought before Justice Rose yesterday, but the kind-hearted justice refused to consider the matter seriously. Instead he sent for the parents of the children, and the youngsters were taken home.

The lads celebrated Sunday afternoon with a buggy ride. They did not hire the rig, but took the first one they found handy. They only drove about half an hour, and did not abuse the horse.

NO FUN FOR QUINN.

April Fool Joker Causes the Deputy Jailor to Work Overtime—Reward Offered for Him.

Deputy Jailer Tom Quinn will pay a liberal reward for information which will lead to the discovery of the person who caused him more worry last night than during any former period of his long official career. Quinn worked last night—worked hard—and incidentally he may have said some things which would not look well in print. He was angry by 9 o'clock; by 10 he was furious, and by 10:30 he called assistance and sought relief in a thorough inspection of the upper tanks.

During the first half hour after Quinn went on duty last night there were just eighteen telephone calls, all from women. There are four telephones in the County Jail and all were kept busy. Every woman who called up demanded to know what was wanted, and stated that she had received a request to call up Main 1912 at once, and, of course, she wanted to know who had left the request. When informed that Main 1912 is the County Jail and that the request she had received doubtless was sent by an April fool joker, most of the women became angry and slammed up the receiver. Others took the joke in proper spirit and had it out with Quinn.

It was not annoying during the first hour, but when the thing kept up for more than three hours, Quinn got tired of it and put another deputy on the 'phone.

According to the "Berliner Zeitung," the Kaiser has only just received an acknowledgment of a check he sent to aid the sufferers by the dynamite explosion at Witten four months ago. Investigation which he caused to be instituted showed that during the four months the money had been passed from one official to another and had only just reached the sufferers.

ARE SPOTLESS, THEY CLAIM.

Wholesale Grocers Alleging Persecution.

Deny Issuance of Threats by Their Combination.

Lay Blame for Investigation on Large Retailers.

A protest has gone up from the wholesale grocers that can be heard from Dan to Beersheba. They claim that they are persecuted and not prosecuted, and they lay the blame for the present investigation by the Federal grand jury at the doors of three of the larger retailers in the city. They claim that they are persecuted by a trust far more avaricious than they ever hoped to be.

In substantiation of this claim they state that the large retailers, having corralled the 20 per cent. profit understood to accrue to the retail grocer, are now going after the little 10 per cent. profit said to accrue to the wholesaler.

There will be no session of the Federal grand jury until some time next week, if the present plans are carried out. It is expected that the next session will be taken up with a further investigation of the so-called grocers' combination, which is said to be in restraint of trade. The interim has given the wholesalers an opportunity to gain their second wind and look about them for the origin of the present trouble. They have discovered it, they say, and are looking reproachfully at two large grocery concerns on Spring street and one department store on Broadway which handles groceries.

From these three establishments they say that the present investigation has started and that it had its inception in a desire to corral the additional 10 per cent. of profits now secured by the wholesaler.

WHOLESALER'S STORY.

One wholesaler grocer said yesterday: "This stir resolves itself into a contest between the small corner grocer and the wholesaler and jobber on the one hand and the great specialty stores on the other. The retailer has already had his field encroached upon by the large downtown stores, and he is helpless except that the large downtown store has to pay the same for goods as the small grocer. The fact that the manufacturer has refused to sell to the large store at any less price than to the corner grocer has aided in equalizing the contest for trade between the downtown store and the small concern in the outlying districts.

"Now it seems to me that the large concern has determined to force the wholesaler and jobber out of business and compel the manufacturer to sell to it at the same price offered the wholesaler and at a less price than is asked the small groceryman. The success of this move would abolish the small retailer and centralize the grocery business in the hands of a few who can afford to purchase in large quantities and pay spot cash.

"The wholesalers and jobbers carry credit for the small dealer to an extent that is not appreciated by the consumer. A large number of these small outlying stores could not exist were it not for the credit afforded by the jobber. They could not afford to purchase for spot cash and in quantities necessary to secure jobbers' prices, therefore they would be barred from participating in the privilege of purchasing from manufacturers, which seems to be sought."

Other wholesalers voice the same sentiments and say that their organization is a spotless one and that it is being ruthlessly pushed to the wall.

ORGANIZATION EXPLAINED.

C. M. Carr, secretary of the California Wholesale Grocers' Association, who has been called before the grand jury, did not care to talk yesterday about the investigation, but was perfectly willing to explain the nature of his organization. He said:

"I have no idea what the grand jury may have in mind and know only that I have been asked a few questions which would lead one to think that august body simply desired to find out whether we were obeying the letter of the law. We think we are. We have had the advice of some of the greatest legal minds in the United States as to any action we have taken. The circular letter sent to manufacturers, which The Times published on Sunday morning, was simply a notification of the feeling of this body. There was no threat, or veiled threat in it, and we intended none. The wholesaler and the jobber have been pronounced by the manufacturer as the ideal channels of distribution between the manufacturer and the retailer. The amount of money involved in large purchases puts it beyond the power of a small groceryman to purchase direct from the manufacturer and gives the jobber his opportunity to act as middleman. The manufacturers themselves have determined to sell only to legitimate wholesalers and jobbers.

"Any wholesaler can become a member of this organization and secure what privileges go with membership, but no wholesaler who also sells at retail can secure membership. With these conditions existing, there can be no hue and cry about a combination, for all wholesalers and jobbers are welcome."

ITS SCOPE WIDE.

The present investigation is said to be planned to extend to a large number of manufacturers in the East, who have had dealings with the wholesalers' organization. The San Francisco wholesalers are as deeply involved, and it is stated that the Wholesalers' Exchange of San Francisco has carried on just such a campaign against manufacturers selling to retailers as has the wholesalers' association.

The following is a copy of a set of resolutions adopted by the San Francisco Wholesale Grocers' Exchange, and sent to the secretary of the California Wholesale Grocers' Association:

In order to avoid misunderstanding by manufacturers, agents and others who may be still laboring under conditions as they existed some years ago, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, conditions surrounding the wholesale grocery business are constantly changing, methods and policies considered good five years ago now being obsolete and not affording the protection necessary to the success of the jobbing business of the present, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the members of the Wholesale Grocers' Exchange, the membership of which is composed of the legitimate wholesale grocers of Northern California, with no associate retail members, contend that manufacturers, packers and producers of articles entering into the wholesale grocery business should confine their sales to the legitimate wholesale grocer and not sell to any retailer direct or at jobbers' cost.

ARE SPOTLESS, THEY CLAIM.

Wholesale Grocers Alleging Persecution.

Deny Issuance of Threats by Their Combination.

Lay Blame for Investigation on Large Retailers.

A protest has gone up from the wholesale grocers that can be heard from Dan to Beersheba. They claim that they are persecuted and not prosecuted, and they lay the blame for the present investigation by the Federal grand jury at the doors of three of the larger retailers in the city. They claim that they are persecuted by a trust far more avaricious than they ever hoped to be.

In substantiation of this claim they state that the large retailers, having corralled the 20 per cent. profit understood to accrue to the retail grocer, are now going after the little 10 per cent. profit said to accrue to the wholesaler.

There will be no session of the Federal grand jury until some time next week, if the present plans are carried out. It is expected that the next session will be taken up with a further investigation of the so-called grocers' combination, which is said to be in restraint of trade. The interim has given the wholesalers an opportunity to gain their second wind and look about them for the origin of the present trouble.

They have discovered it, they say, and are looking reproachfully at two large grocery concerns on Spring street and one department store on Broadway which handles groceries.

From these three establishments they say that the present investigation has started and that it had its inception in a desire to corral the additional 10 per cent. of profits now secured by the wholesaler.

WHOLESALER'S STORY.

One wholesaler grocer said yesterday: "This stir resolves itself into a contest between the small corner grocer and the wholesaler and jobber on the one hand and the great specialty stores on the other. The retailer has already had his field encroached upon by the large downtown stores, and he is helpless except that the large downtown store has to pay the same for goods as the small grocer. The fact that the manufacturer has refused to sell to the large store at any less price than to the corner grocer has aided in equalizing the contest for trade between the downtown store and the small concern in the outlying districts.

"Now it seems to me that the large concern has determined to force the wholesaler and jobber out of business and compel the manufacturer to sell to it at the same price offered the wholesaler and at a less price than is asked the small groceryman. The success of this move would abolish the small retailer and centralize the grocery business in the hands of a few who can afford to purchase in large quantities and pay spot cash.

"The wholesalers and jobbers carry credit for the small dealer to an extent that is not appreciated by the consumer. A large number of these small outlying stores could not exist were it not for the credit afforded by the jobber. They could not afford to purchase for spot cash and in quantities necessary to secure jobbers' prices, therefore they would be barred from participating in the privilege of purchasing from manufacturers, which seems to be sought."

Other wholesalers voice the same sentiments and say that their organization is a spotless one and that it is being ruthlessly pushed to the wall.

ORGANIZATION EXPLAINED.

C. M. Carr, secretary of the California Wholesale Grocers' Association, who has been called before the grand jury, did not care to talk yesterday about the investigation, but was perfectly willing to explain the nature of his organization. He said:

"I have no idea what the grand jury may have in mind and know only that I have been asked a few questions which would lead one to think that august body simply desired to find out whether we were obeying the letter of the law. We think we are. We have had the advice of some of the greatest legal minds in the United States as to any action we have taken. The circular letter sent to manufacturers, which The Times published on Sunday morning, was simply a notification of the feeling of this body. There was no threat, or veiled threat in it, and we intended none. The wholesaler and the jobber have been pronounced by the manufacturer as the ideal channels of distribution between the manufacturer and the retailer. The amount of money involved in large purchases puts it beyond the power of a small groceryman to purchase direct from the manufacturer and gives the jobber his opportunity to act as middleman. The manufacturers themselves have determined to sell only to legitimate wholesalers and jobbers.

"Any wholesaler can become a member of this organization and secure what privileges go with membership, but no wholesaler who also sells at retail can secure membership. With these conditions existing, there can be no hue and cry about a combination, for all wholesalers and jobbers are welcome."

MORE COUNTY BIDS.

Five New Propositions for Furnishing Quarters for Officials Outside the Courthouse.

Five more propositions were made to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by bidders who wish to furnish accommodations for county officials crowded from the Courthouse. Action was taken on none, but the Supervisors seem to look with greatest favor on the bid submitted by C. T. Crowell, owner of the two-story building at the southwest corner of Spring and Franklin streets.

Crowell offers the entire building, now occupied as a clothing store, at a monthly rental of $1300. It has a total floor area of 26,492 square feet, 11,100 on the ground floor, and 15,392 in the second story. A three-year contract is offered, with privilege of a two-year renewal at the same terms. Tax Collector Welch says the ground floor is well suited to his needs. The second floor, it is claimed, would accommodate the Assessor and a few other offices. Supervisor Patterson says it probably will be impossible to make provision for the law library and possibly for the Superintendent of Schools in the new suite the county intends to rent at this time.

Through G. M. Giffen, the Barr-Harrington Realty Company proposed to build a three-story reinforced concrete building for county uses on the lot just north of the Broadway Christian Church, and opposite the Courthouse. An area of 8264 square feet is offered on each floor, or a total of 24,792 square feet. Lighting, steam heating and elevator arrangements are included. A rental of $1200 a month on a three-year contract is asked.

As an alternative, the same company proposes to build a four-story building on the same site, similar in arrangement to the three-story building, but with a total floor area of 33,056 square feet, the monthly rental to be $1400 on a three-year lease.

G. R. Johnson submitted plans of a proposed "L" shaped building fronting on Temple and New High streets, to be four stories high over a basement, the total floor area being 34,650 square feet; rental $1200 a month on a three-year lease.

The same bidder offered a five-story building, same location, with 41,000 square feet of floor area, at a monthly rental of $1400 for three years.

Possession of the Crowell building is promised by September 1; the Barr-Harrington say they would complete the three-story building by July 31, or the four-story building by August 31; Johnson agreed to give possession July 1.

NEW OLIVE OIL MACHINE.

Invention Which Will Greatly Increase the Output and Reduce the Waste to a Minimum.

Peter E. Maggini of this city has been granted a patent on a machine which, if it does all that is claimed for it, will greatly benefit olive growers and olive oil makers throughout this part of the State, by increasing the output and correspondingly increasing the receipts from that important industry.

It has been demonstrated by tests made in the presence of experts that the machine makes it possible to extract a much greater proportion of oil from a given quantity of olives than can be done by any other known method. It also reduces the waste material to a fraction of what it is under existing methods.

The machine is an olive crusher, which is connected with a system of pans or cups into which the crushed olives flow, the pits and other refuse being automatically separated from the material from which the oil is to be extracted. At a recent test 1500 pounds of olives were crushed in an hour and the yield of marketable product from that quantity of olives was increased 24 per cent.

Maggini has devoted years to the study of the olive industry. His brother is Superintendent of Agriculture of New South Wales, and for years he studied in that department. He has already received several flattering offers for the exclusive use of his invention, but he prefers to hold it and permit its use throughout the olive-growing district, under the royalty plan.

BRENTWOOD PARK
Grandest Residential Project In Western America

A broad statement, but not the blatant claim of a real estate promoter. Brentwood is as different as extraordinary location, unequaled view of mountains, ocean and valley, and a COOL HALF-MILLION FOR IMPROVEMENTS can make it.

Brentwood is at once a charming spot designed for homes of taste and fashion; and a unique pleasure park—a symphony of floriculture where nature and landscape engineering excel. Every conceivable improvement.

Not a spot picked out at random, but a carefully chosen location for the ambitious ends in view. The finest talent in landscape architeeture was employed for development; Supt. John McLaren of Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, personally supervised the work.

Brentwood is to be the paradise of motorists and equestrians; boulevard and winding driveway curve gracefully through the Park to the foothills and canyons of the stately Sierras.

Through Car Service---Fast Time To Brentwood

Brentwood is now served by the double track Los Angeles-Pacific, which runs through cars out the grand San Vicente Boulevard past the gates of Brentwood Park. The new Harriman lines will afford a star service direct to Brentwood from Los Angeles, providing a 15 or 20 minute service, and bringing this magnificent suburb nearer to the heart of the city than the best residence districts within the city limits.

Big Lots As Low As $1500 and Up

No lots under 100 feet frontage; averaging 30,000 square feet each; lower in price than any other first-class residence properties in or around Los Angeles.

Pen Points

It was just pie for Los Angeles to capture the Sandwiches.

We think that even Job would be sorry for San Francisco were he now alive.

It must have been an odd experience for Frank Wiggins to find himself at sea.

The wonder is that the Ruef-Schmitz gang didn't steal the Golden Gate from its hinges.

The weather has been such that it has made two poppies grow where only one grew before.

After Hawaii, Annexationist Wiggins will still have time to look around for a few more islands.

Honolulu is going to be a very busy town when she gets properly connected up with Los Angeles.

San Francisco will certainly be in a bad fix if the laundries shut down. It is dirty enough without that.

Once he began to squeal, acting Mayor Gallagher appears to have become an enthusiast in that line.

What we want to see is a new map showing dotted lines running out of San Pedro harbor to every place.

And then, when the Panama Canal is ready, we shall also be ready with a line of ships to sail that route, too.

Doubtless the grafters wonder how a man who made his money out of sugar can get so sour as Rudolph Spreckels has done.

It will probably be all right to run Taft for the Presidency. Grover Cleveland broke the fat men's hoodoo when he was elected.

Perhaps the San Francisco labor unions, seeing how well the leaders fared, now want somebody to bribe them in a body.

In every port of the world there shall be ships that bear across their bows in golden letters the magic name of Los Angeles.

There are some men so mean that they grumble when the mocking birds wake them up with a song at 3 o'clock in the morning.

It is stated that $1,000,000 has been wagered on the Mayoralty contest in Chicago. Did John W. Gates take the entire other end?

The political campaign in Chicago, closing today, was the greatest mud-slinging contest on record. Hearst fairly outdid himself.

If Chicago declares for clean government today, the optimists will take it as one of the greatest boosts they have received in years.

If Pittsburgh can produce twenty-eight good men, as she says she can, we think she averages up pretty well with some other cities.

Illinois is dreading a frost. Probably it is thought that during the absence of Uncle Joe Cannon, Fairbanks may determine to stump the State.

We don't see why Pierpont Morgan is spending his time in Europe buying bric-a-brac, when he can get so much in this country merely by following up railroad wrecks.

Mayor Dunne must have had lots of money back of him in his campaign. His followers have actually thrown at the opposition eggs that were worth 53 cents a dozen.

We may not be a nation of gamblers, but in view of the fact that we continue to travel on railroads there can be no question that we are very brash on taking chances.

Since the railroads have gone into the business of killing people in real earnest, the automobile must feel that it is in about the same class as a Central American war.

Galusha A. Grow served more years in Congress than any other man, and still, for all that, he died respected by his neighbors. His strength of character overcame everything.

We learn from one of the copies of the Examiner that are thrown gratuitously into the front door yards, that it is Mr. Hearst and not Heney and Burns who is prosecuting the San Francisco grafters.

We regret to learn that so many of the San Francisco grafters are native Californians. It is difficult to understand how men who should be grateful to God for such a birthplace could turn out to be thieves.

There seem to be at least six or seven men who are determined to lift the curse of labor-union domination from the poor, blistered back of San Francisco. They can do it, too. All they have to do is to stand fast.

When robbers are able to break open a peanut stand late at night and find $6 in it that the proprietor didn't think it worth while to take home with him, there can be no further question that Los Angeles prosperity is "genuine and overwhelming."

THE OWENS RIVER REPORT.

All the facts and data relating to the Owens River project have been given to the Council and to the public in the report of Chief Engineer Mulholland, of which a synopsis, covering the essential features, was published in The Times last Sunday. The full report, including special reports by experts on details of the project, has been transmitted to the City Council and will be printed and distributed in a few days. This report is a convincing, conclusive answer to all the criticism, ignorant and malevolent, that has been circulated diligently for months by opponents of the city's water enterprise.

The city's crafty enemies, inspired by selfish interest, have been perniciously active for some time, and they are now striving desperately to shake public confidence in the judgment and integrity of public officials who have devoted their time and their best energies to solution of the city's most pressing problem and to the service of their fellow-citizens. This campaign against the Owens River project is inspired and carried on by the power corporations as a bluff to force the city into a deal by which they may secure control of the power developed by the aqueduct, and by J. D. Hooker, who is animated partly by personal hostility to William Mulholland and members of the Water Commission, and partly by his desire to make money by selling steel pipe to the city. Hooker and the power companies own and control an evening newspaper, and that organ of private grouch and greed reveals the source of its inspiration in its vicious aspersions on the character and ability of Engineer Mulholland and its persistent clamor for substitution of a steel pipe line for a cement conduit.

The evening paper's assaults upon the Water Board and the aqueduct engineers are comparatively harmless, because their purpose is transparent and their distortion of facts is obvious to all who have intelligent comprehension of the Owens River plans and even superficial knowledge of water supply conditions. Only those who have no acquaintance with the subject and no facilities for acquiring correct information are misled by the mendacity of the pipe organ and its atrocious perversions of fact. It is idle to debate the subject with the power companies' and Hooker's organ or to point out its gross misstatements, for it only reiterates its most outrageous falsehoods and repeats its assaults upon public officials. It remains only to warn the citizens of Los Angeles once and for all that the sheet is the kept creature of the power companies and J. D. Hooker.

There has been danger in the insidious efforts of the city's sordid enemies to mislead members of the City Council and prejudice them against the Owens River project. Men who have had neither occasion nor opportunity to study the water question are likely to be impressed by representations of those who profess to have expert knowledge that there are ample sources of supply in the immediate vicinity of the city, and that the needs of Los Angeles can be met at an expense much less than the estimated cost of bringing water from Owens Valley. Careful perusal of reports on the water supply of Southern California, made by government experts and hydraulic engineers, will convince any intelligent person of the fallacy of all proposed substitute schemes, and expose the ignorance or disingenuousness of their promoters.

The so-called Big Rock project, for example, is a fantastic fake, devised only to confuse the Council. Big Rock Creek, like all the other watercourses in this region, is a raging torrent in seasons of heavy rains, but in summer it is absolutely dry. There are many people now in Los Angeles who know Big Rock Creek to their cost. They were inveigled into attempts to establish farms along that creek, and they were forced by utter failure of water supply to abandon the land and the houses they had built.

The San Gabriel River proposition is another impossible scheme, revived at this time solely to mislead and confuse. The San Gabriel is a torrential stream, and it has discharged a great volume of water this winter. Measurements of its flow at the mouth of the cañon, covering a period of ten years, show that the mean discharge of the river is 63 second-feet, or a little more than 3000 miner's inches. Conservation of the winter floods of the San Gabriel is impracticable. Government engineers have studied the problem, and have found no reservoir sites capable of storing the water. Moreover, the entire summer flow of the river is used for irrigation, and the city could not take the water without condemning existing rights and making an arid desert of the entire San Gabriel Valley.

Engineer Mulholland's report, including in appendices the results of careful investigations made by geologists and hydrographers of the United States Geological Survey, shows clearly the futility of all schemes to obtain a permanent adequate supply of water for Los Angeles from sources within the Southern California watershed. When the Councilmen have read and digested the reports of experts, the situation will be plain to them and they will see the purpose of efforts to divert their attention from the Owens River project.

What Southern California needs is more water, not more drafts upon its already depleted supply. Los Angeles proposes to bring into this fertile valley the floods that are now wasted in the saline sink of Owens Valley. Instead of robbing her neighbors of their scant supply, the city designs to share with them the river that she will bring down from the Sierra watershed. Every inch of Owens River water will add incalculably to the productive capacity and the wealth of Southern California, and upon the prosperity of the whole community depends the growth of Los Angeles.

AMERICAN METHODS PREVAIL.

California is new in the business of producing citrus fruit; but in methods of cultivation, or preparing for the market and marketing, we are far in advance of the countries of Europe, where these fruits have been grown for centuries. Young as we are, from almost the very beginning we fixed upon a standard size for the boxes in which oranges and lemons are packed, graded the fruit according to size, and stenciled on the box the number contained in each.

Our great competitor in the lemon business is the island of Sicily. Here lemons have been grown for generations. The same is true of Southern Italy and Spain as to oranges. Old as the industry is in these countries, very little attention, until the present time, has been paid to the packing of oranges and lemons, or the boxes in which they have been shipped. In a general way it may be stated that the boxes have been about twice the size of ours. In Spain, Sicily and Italy they pack as many as 800 oranges or lemons in a box. The increased size is mainly in the length of the boxes, although they are also higher and wider than ours. They are made of wood with a good deal of spring and tenacity, and then these immense boxes are wound with a cheap rope, spun by hand out of native grass.

Recently the Agricultural League, an association in Palermo, has been induced to take up this matter of standard boxes and marking the number of fruit contained. The first cargo has recently been landed at New York, nearly 20,000 standardized boxes of these Palermo lemons. Of course, in determining upon a size for the boxes, it has also been provided that the fruit should be graded. Otherwise it would be impossible to decide how many a box would hold.

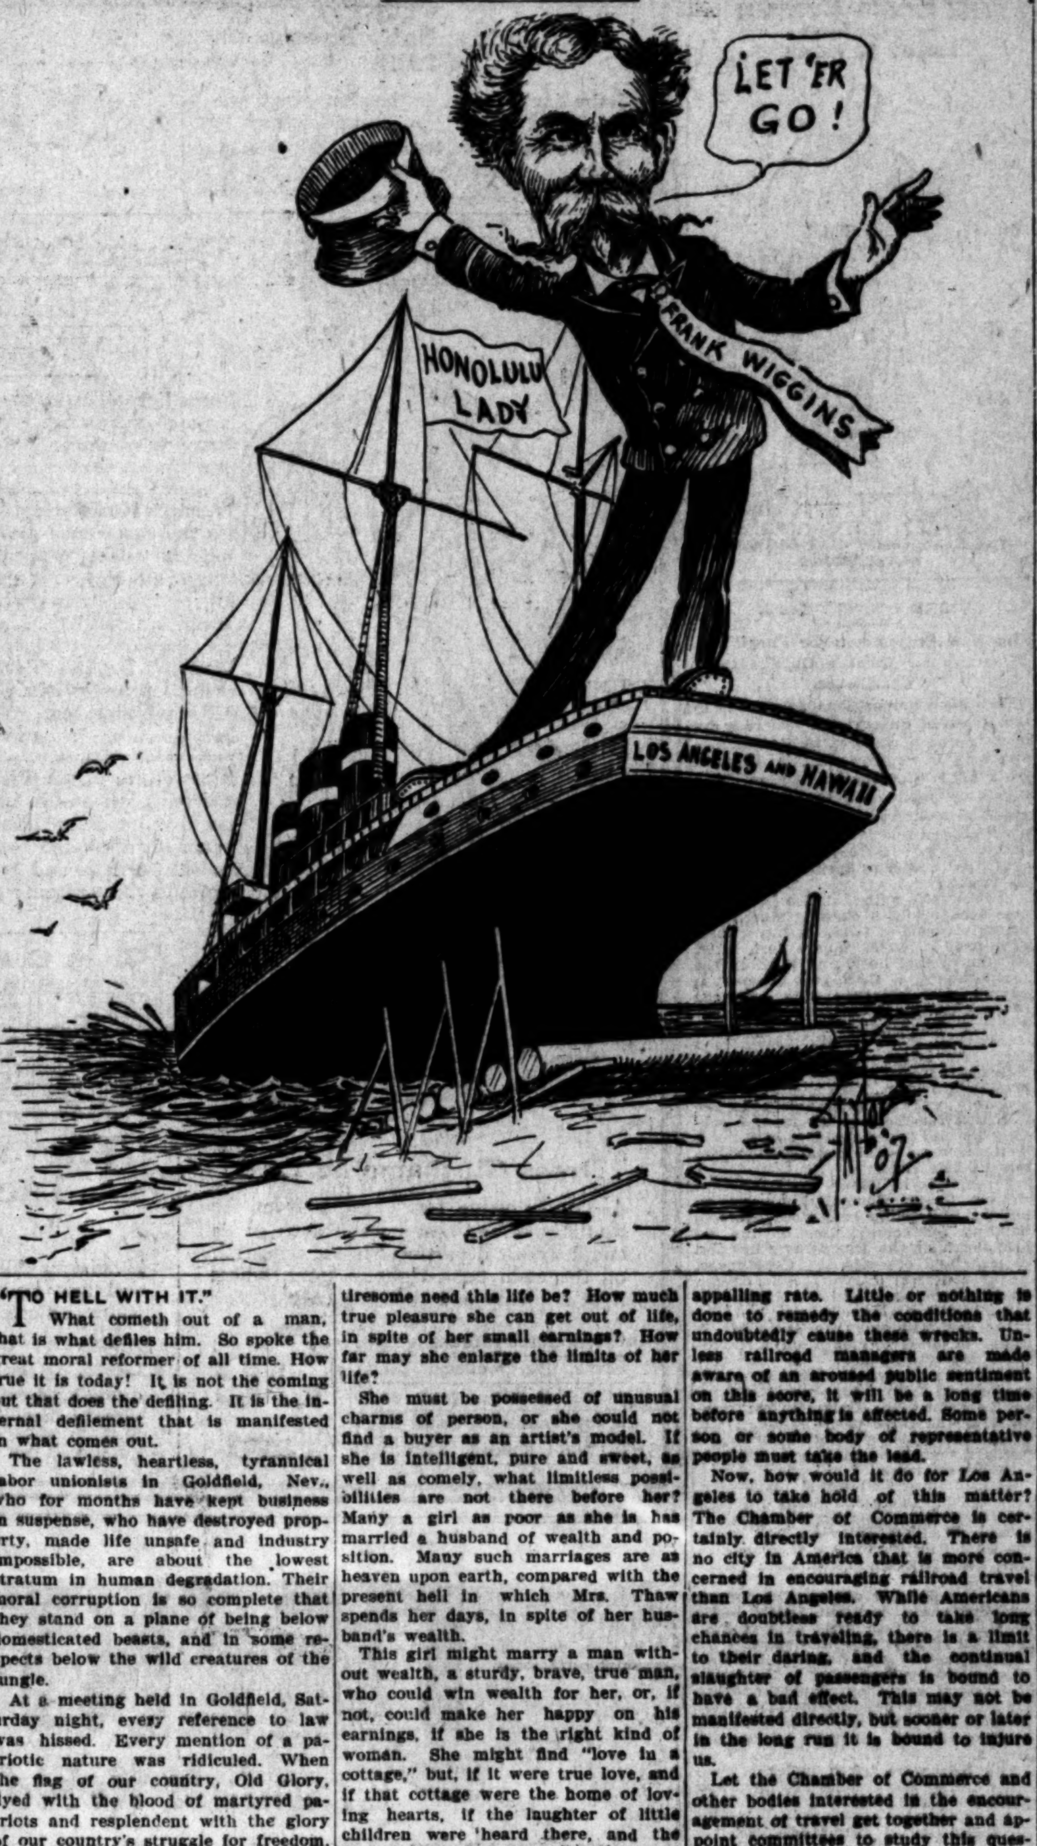
This reform was inspired by the action of a firm of brokers handling Sicily lemons in the New York market. They found their business handicapped by the ungraded fruit and the impossibility of determining beforehand how many lemons were in a box. This firm hopes that by introducing this reform the business of handling Sicily lemons in New York will be facilitated, and that the trade will grow to the volume prevailing before the California lemon practically displaced the foreign fruit in our markets.

They will undoubtedly find it easier to handle the fruit under this reform, and it will also be a benefit to the Sicily growers. They have been subject to robbery in the way of rebates on unmarketable sizes. With the fruit graded properly and the size stenciled on the box, a good deal of this robbery will be prevented.

But the California lemon grower has nothing to fear from this foreign competition, if he will only be both careful and conscientious in the kind of fruit he packs and the way he packs it. It seems to be generally conceded in eastern markets that the California lemon is in every way superior to the imported. There has not only been a difference in marketing the lemons from California and those from Sicily, but there is a difference in the cultivation of the fruit. We give more attention to the business and keep our trees in more vigorous life and growth. The climate of California may not be better than that of Sicily, but the intelligence of the California grower counts in the quality of fruit we send to the market. At the same time, this reform in the handling of the foreign fruit will put our people upon their mettle. They must keep up the quality, improve their methods, and still keep ahead of Sicily by further and better American devices.

Pasadena has made a happy hit in selecting Thomas Earley as her Mayor. Mr. Earley is the type of citizen that we should choose for Mayor whenever it is possible. True blue in his honesty and civic spirit, progressive in his ideas, and, withal, not addicted to fads simply because they are fads. Mr. Earley will make a wise and stirring chief executive. For a dozen years or more he has been one of the most active of the public-spirited citizens working for the advancement of Pasadena. Whenever there has been hard labor to be done or money to be raised, Thomas Earley has put his shoulder to the wheel. When others have been indifferent Thomas Earley has been enthusiastic. If any have been depressed, Thomas Earley has been confident, cheerful and industrious. He knows the needs of Pasadena and how to satisfy them. He will do things. It could not have been possible for Pasadena to turn her back on such a man. And we are not surprised that, although the Examiner elected Mr. Waterhouse (the champion of the "recall," the "dum-dum" and municipal ownership of almost everything,) the voters of Pasadena elected the level-headed Mr. Earley.

LAUNCHING A NEW LINE.



"TO HELL WITH IT."

What cometh out of a man, that is what defiles him. So spoke the great moral reformer of all time. How true it is today! It is not the coming out that does the defiling. It is the internal defilement that is manifested in what comes out.

The lawless, heartless, tyrannical labor unionists in Goldfield, Nev., who for months have kept business in suspense, who have destroyed property, made life unsafe and industry impossible, are about the lowest stratum in human degradation. Their moral corruption is so complete that they stand on a plane of being below domesticated beasts, and in some respects below the wild creatures of the jungle.

At a meeting held in Goldfield, Saturday night, every reference to law was hissed. Every mention of a patriotic nature was ridiculed. When the flag of our country, Old Glory, dyed with the blood of martyred patriots and resplendent with the glory of our country's struggle for freedom, revered by every lover of human liberty and by every respecter of human right, was referred to, the ignorant, vicious mob howled out, "To hell with the flag. To hell with the Constitution!" These words did not defile the hearts or the mouths of these anarchists. They merely reflected the corruption with which their hearts reek.

Every reference to anything remotely connected with a church or with religion was hailed with the same venomous hisses of the reptiles. Priests whose lives are devoted to the uplifting of men and to comforting them in times of distress were treated with gross contumely.

Let it come out. It is better so. The world is getting to know just what lies at the root of this labor-union business. All the members of unions have not this taint. But about all the leaders have it. Thievery, destruction, bribe-taking, riot, incendiarism, violence, murder, contempt of law, of order, of government, of morality, of religion, lie at the root of it. Decent union men must put these scoundrels out of the order or go down with them. This sort of thing cannot stand.

IGNOBLE AMBITION.

A young woman in Portland, Or., is reported as offering herself for sale as an artist's model, provided she can be assured of a career similar to that of Evelyn Thaw. This young woman is a stenographer, and complains that on her slender earnings the luxurious pleasures of life, such as fell to the lot of the Nesbit girl, are impossible.

Would such a bargain be a good one for this Portland girl? It will not be necessary to go over the bourne whence no traveler returns and conjure up the horrors of a theological hell. There is no use making a picture of the line, "Oh, what eternal horrors hang around the second death!" There is as little use to ask that the young woman be lifted to see "the gold doors, the flashes come and go. All heaven burst its starry floors and strew its lights below." This would be more than useless. The girl who could propose this base sale of her own person, if lifted there, would have no eyes to see the beauty of those "Sabbaths of eternity, one Sabbath pure and wide, the light upon the shining sea, the bridegroom with the bride."

In this life what other career is there for this girl? Her life as a stenographer may be tiresome. Her gains may be small. Her life may be comprised within narrow bounds. How tiresome need this life be? How much true pleasure she can get out of life, in spite of her small earnings? How far may she enlarge the limits of her life?

She must be possessed of unusual charms of person, or she could not find a buyer as an artist's model. If she is intelligent, pure and sweet, as well as comely, what limitless possibilities are not there before her? Many a girl as poor as she is has married a husband of wealth and position. Many such marriages are as heaven upon earth, compared with the present hell in which Mrs. Thaw spends her days, in spite of her husband's wealth.

This girl might marry a man without wealth, a sturdy, brave, true man, who could win wealth for her, or, if not, could make her happy on his earnings, if she is the right kind of woman. She might find "love in a cottage," but, if it were true love, and if that cottage were the home of loving hearts, if the laughter of little children were heard there, and the patter of little feet as well as the prattle of little tongues, it would house treasures far more precious than all the diamonds of South Africa, and joys more lasting, and deeper and more satisfactory than ever thrilled the heart of the brazen woman who sought the pleasures of "The Rat," although that resort is near the Champs Elysées, in beautiful, gay Paris, with all its art and beauty.

Nor is marriage indispensable, however desirable and however likely to bring joy as well as contentment. Many a woman spends happy days and lives a useful and contented life all alone. This Portland girl has her home in a beautiful city. There is intelligence all around her, and refinement and pure amusements. There is good work to do for herself and for others. There are entrancing books to read and self-culture to acquire. There are good friends to win, and pleasant companionships to form. There are good plays, good music and other amusements, to lift one out of oneself and above the sordid toil of a poor stenographer. These things cost little. And there are bright summer days to wander in flowery fields, by murmuring streams, in shady woods. And their cost is nothing.

Fools and slow of heart to believe we are! If this girl were a butterfly whose life was ephemeral, whose powers of enjoyment were those of the fly, she might sell all there is of her for one hour in the sunshine among the flowers. But this highly-organized being of ours cannot be snuffed out like a penny candle in a moment and without pain. We have powers of suffering in direct proportion to our powers of enjoyment. Count the cost, young woman, count the cost!

TO ENCOURAGE TRAVEL.

Los Angeles at one time gained quite an unenviable reputation for street car wrecks. Through the efforts of citizens, who got together and talked the matter over with car managers, a new rule was put in force—the same that was already in effect in many other cities—by which cars are required to stop on the near crossing and to always come to a full stop before crossing another car track. The good results have fully justified the change. By minimizing the danger we have lessened accidents.

In one week there have been two shocking railroad accidents at our very doors both of which were entirely avoidable. All over the country the same thing is going on at an appalling rate. Little or nothing is done to remedy the conditions that undoubtedly cause these wrecks. Unless railroad managers are made aware of an aroused public sentiment on this score, it will be a long time before anything is affected. Some person or some body of representative people must take the lead.

Now, how would it do for Los Angeles to take hold of this matter? The Chamber of Commerce is certainly directly interested. There is no city in America that is more concerned in encouraging railroad travel than Los Angeles. While Americans are doubtless ready to take long chances in traveling, there is a limit to their daring, and the continual slaughter of passengers is bound to have a bad effect. This may not be manifested directly, but sooner or later in the long run it is bound to injure us.

Let the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies interested in the encouragement of travel get together and appoint committees to study this question and confer with practical railroad men—officials and train men. A few conferences may accomplish good by bringing about such changes in the rules as will add to safety, prevent careless or incompetent men holding responsible positions, and discourage the demand for reckless speed.

We all want reasonable speed in travel, but we should remember that the proverb that "more haste the less speed" applies to railroads. The train that was wrecked at Colton has not arrived yet. Such passengers as ever will arrive have done so, many hours later than they would have come but for the wreck which might, in all probability, have been avoided but for "too much haste."

If Los Angeles should become headquarters of a movement leading to safer travel, it will be one of the greatest honors our city can have. Action is needed, and some one must lead.

ANECDOTES OF CONGRESSMEN.

Senator Frye's Bill Passed.

On the last day of Congress Senator Frye of Maine startled the Senate. He was on his feet making a report from his Committee on Commerce on several bills, a duty he performs frequently and which, as a rule, attracts little interest or attention. Suddenly raising his voice, Mr. Frye exclaimed:

"If I can get immediate consideration for that dam bill I will promise the Senate not to report another dam bill this session."

Amid general laughter the bill was passed, and a dam will be built across certain shoals on the Savannah River.

Thirteen Silent Senators.

Senator Dryden's successor, Mr. Briggs, is expected to form an addition to the number of "silent Senators." It seems that there are of these thirteen, as follows: Allee of Delaware, who goes out March 4; Ankeny of Washington, Bulkeley of Connecticut, Burnham of New Hampshire, Crane of Massachusetts, Du Pont of Delaware, Kean of New Jersey, Latimer of South Carolina, Millard of Nebraska, who also retires next month; Nixon of Nevada, Platt of New York, Taliaferro of Florida, and Wetmore of Rhode Island. Senator Tillman's name is not printed here—[Charlotte Observer.

PLAYERS AND PLAYHOUSES.

BELASCO. John Daly Murphy's quaint old John Wetherby, captivating, white-headed rogue at the Belasco last night, made us glad that he is here. There is a certain originality and vigor in Mr. Murphy's characterization that marks him undeniably an excellent actor. Just such a man as his John Wetherby might have lived—probably has lived a thousand times. There is very little of staginess about this conception—just hale, comfortable, merry old manhood. Mr. Murphy is merely John Wetherby, and his sleek fit in the role gives one an almost unconscious impression that the part was made for the man, not the man for the part.

In the present play Mr. Murphy is all-sufficient. As to his qualifications in other directions, other plays must prove them. But this week's audiences at least must be very well satisfied with Mr. Blackwood's new actor.

"Because She Loved Him So," one of the Gillette nonsensicals, is pretty well known to the average theater-goer. It is a true farce, based upon real quarrels and make-believe quarrels. When well handled, as at present, it proves entertaining. There are some faults in construction—notably a last act too long drawn out.

The people are so well disposed that first mention is a perilous matter. Yet certainly none of the principals made a better hit than Miss Everhart, in her absurdly prim Margaret, time-worn and time-honored Irish servant. As the two fussing young Wests, models of domestic infelicity, Mr. Stone and Miss Albertson are as delightful as ever. Miss Carey is an exquisite Mrs. Wetherby, and Miss Farrington gives a great deal of art to her interpretation of Señora Gonzalez, Spanish beauty. Excellent small character work is afforded by Messrs. Vivian, Yerance and Martin.

BURBANK. Dr. Bachmann's play, "Under the Bear Flag," possesses dramatic value and local flavor enough to make it of more than ordinary interest. Its second week is now successfully under way at the Burbank Theater.

AUDITORIUM. The fifth performance of Mr. Ferris's "Parsifal" took place last night at the Auditorium. The drama will continue through the week.

Mrs. Leslie Carter commenced her transcontinental tour last night in Norfolk, Va. The actress is presenting her two familiar plays, "Du Barry," and "Zaza." She will be seen in Los Angeles the entire week of May 27. The only other week stands on her tour are San Francisco, New Orleans and Denver.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

HALF-MILLION BARREL SALE.

FIFTY-FOUR CENTS TO BE PAID PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY.

Standard Obtains Options on Santa Barbara Lands—Report That Midway Pipe Line Will Run to Port Harford Via Elkhorn and Carisa Valleys—India Oil as Steamer Fuel.

The Pennsylvania Oil Company at Lompoc has made a contract to sell the Union Oil Company 500,000 barrels of its production at a total price of $270,000, or 54 cents a barrel, a price that is higher than any contract made for some time in the district. Delivery was to commence yesterday, April 1. The Pennsylvania's new wells promise to be among the best in the field.

That the Standard is after lands is shown by the fact that its agents have been busy for some time getting options on territory between Santa Ynez and Lompoc.

Pipe Line to Port Harford.

At Bakersfield it is reported and believed, it is said, by persons in touch with the situation, that the Standard is planning to run its Midway-McKittrick pipe line through to Port Harford by way of the Carisa and Elkhorn valleys. Should this be done the westside lands of Kern will have a double outlet, either via Port Harford or Point Richmond.

With the pushing of production to the limit on the Standard's new land and elsewhere at Coalinga, the Point Richmond line may eventually be unequal to the task of carrying the whole of both this and the Midway-McKittrick output, so that another line will be necessary. A line to Port Harford would also tap the Elkhorn and Carisa regions, where some oil has been found. On the other hand, such a line will have heavy grades, instead of a level route, down the valley to Point Richmond, and this tends to discredit the report. The Standard already has a survey to Port Harford from Midway. The railroad troubles are delaying the laying of pipe to Midway, the material being tied up somewhere en route from the East.

Petroleum in India.

According to an American consular report, the production of petroleum in Burma, India, has increased from 49,441,734 gallons, valued at $1,010,500, in 1901 to 142,063,846 gallons, valued at $2,944,000, in 1905. This is an increase of 92,622,112 gallons in amount and $1,933,500 in value in four years. The output has nearly trebled in amount. Shipments of the distilled product from Rangoon for the fiscal year 1906 were [illegible] gallons, valued at $293,642, to foreign ports, and 52,926,407 gallons, valued at $8,815,741, to coastwise points. A high-grade water white oil is now being refined and is successfully entering into competition. The sale of paraffine wax as a by-product amounted to 46,350 hundredweight, worth $310,854, for foreign trade, and 6441 hundredweight, worth $41,652 coastwise. The candle trade amounted to $545,918 in the fiscal year 1906, Australia being a large purchaser for use in mines, etc. The jute mills of India use large quantities of Burma "batching oil," while a number of steamships are using fuel oil for power.

FOR THE BOULEVARD.

Retaining Wall to Be Built Along Echo Park—Edendale People Want Paved Approaches.

At a meeting of the Sunset Boulevard Association last night, Superintendent Morley of the city parks stated that 600 feet of wall, five feet high, will be built at once on the Lake Shore avenue side of Echo Park, and that within ten days two feet of the wall will be completed the entire length.

Edendale people were present in force and agreed to stand their share of the assessment for the paving of Sunset boulevard, providing they are given four approaches paved with brick, the same as proposed for the main thoroughfare.

It was resolved to favor a perpetual franchise for the Hill-street tunnel, and if a forty-five-foot tunnel is built the people of the northwest section will agree to be in the assessment district.

PEQUOT SHEETS AND PILLOW CASES

New Spring Suits $15

Values $17.50, $20, $25 and $27.50

Today a sale of suits—the very ones you'd choose at full regular prices, because they represent late spring purchases for regular selling; they're not "jobs" nor bought-for-sale-purpose suits; we've simply lopped off a generous share of the profits, and in some instances even the cost, to make this one price of fifteen dollars.

Perhaps the first you'll want to have shown you will be a fine black panama suit, cut with shapely Eton jacket, neatly trimmed with black silk braid, moire collar and cuffs; and circular gored skirt with bias fold above the hem; an excellent afternoon dress. Or, if you like light colors, ask to see a suit of light gray mixed suiting, with hip length fitted coat, trimmed with bias stitched straps and silk braid; full plaited skirt; or a gray plaid with hairline stripe of blue, made with Eton jacket, showing trimmings of gray taffeta, and fancy buttons; full skirt with bias fold above hem.

And so we might go on, describing a dozen different styles, in black and light or dark grays; jackets of all lined with silk or satin; splendidly tailored, and the least expensive well worth $17.50; from that up to $25 and $27.50. A good range of sizes to choose from, so whether you are stout or slender, you can very probably be easily fitted.

A Skirt Free

We've tailors who do nothing else but make skirts—that's their sole business in this establishment. So, when you select your $1-a-yard (or higher) material at the Dress Goods Section, and give your measurements to us, you don't need to worry a minute as to whether the finished skirt will be satisfactory. IT WILL; and the best of all, you need pay us nothing (except a very nominal charge for the best of findings) if your skirt is a seven-gore or circular style. For a trimmed skirt we make a slight additional charge, in any case very much smaller than you could buy an equally good ready-made skirt for.

And we make entire suits, too; suits for $30 that may creditably be compared with ordinary $40 and $50 garments. Because we charge you, not for skillful making, but simply a fair profit on the material, we can do this work so inexpensively for you. Plan to see the made-up models on display today, if you possibly can.

Enough of the fancy colored silks at 75c a yard to make a busy day's selling today—warp prints, stripes, checks, plaids, Jacquards in many shades and combinations. Just the silks you most want for waists or whole dresses this summer. Values up to $1.25 a yard.

Grocery Trust

We are not affiliated with the organization known as the Wholesale Grocers' Association, nor are we members of the Retail Grocers' Association, although to the latter we have alawys given our moral support, believing that much benefit may accrue to its members through a properly handled organization of this kind. We owe allegiance to no one—are in the grocery business not purely for the love of working, but as a legitimate, honest enterprise, wherein we can make a living and probably lay aside something for a rainy day which may come. We do not sell goods at cost—but try to make a profit on everything handled. We do a large business, buy our goods from headquarters, and are striving, by handling only merchandise of known quality, to win the patronage of the buying public. That this policy wins, is evidenced by our largely increased business.

We pay no attention to what others do—attend strictly to our own business—selling high-class "Good Things to Eat" at reasonable prices.

If this accords with your idea of good business policy, then allow us to class you amongst our friends and patrons.

EXCAVATING CASA GRANDE.

An Important Archeological Work in Arizona.

Relics of Predecessors of Indian Tribes.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 24.—In the heart of the Southwest, in a region formerly forsaken by whites and little frequented by Indians, lie the traces of an ancient city buried by desert sands. Many tumbled walls smoothed flat with the burning plain are marked, gravelike, by the still remnants of a building. In the Gila Valley, Ariz., this lone ruin, christened the Casa Grande by the Spaniards of the Territory, has since October been the object of investigations, under a special appropriation of Congress, by an archaeological expedition of the Smithsonian Institution.

The Casa Grande is twelve miles from the Santa Fé system of railroads and eighteen miles from the Southern Pacific—an easy trip across the desert from Florence, Ariz. It has furnished material for much surmise and recently, for actual scientific investigation—surmise dating back to the gold-seeking invasion of Coronado in 1540.

The ruin has been brought three times to the attention of our national legislative body. It lies upon public lands, and is, therefore, under national control. Early, however, it paid the price of many valuable relics by suffering from the too devoted attention of souvenir hunters. About fifteen years ago Congress recognized its importance by appropriating $2000 for its repair and preservation—following upon private investigations which at the time aroused much general interest. Victor Mindeleff, archaeologist, was sent to supervise the construction of a guard against the wear of the elements, and a custodian was appointed to protect it against too curious sightseers. Last year Casa Grande again brought an appropriation—this time $3000, and for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, a like sum has been granted.

As provided by the terms of the more recent appropriations, the work was placed under the supervision of the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and Dr. J. Walker Fawkes of the Bureau of American Ethnology was chosen as the most available member of the Smithsonian staff to undertake the excavations. He set out on October 17, arriving on the scene October 24, and since then has accomplished appreciable results.

A live description of the spot is given by one of the predecessors of Dr. Fawkes. He says:

"The Casa Grande ruin (the single standing building) is located near the southwestern corner of the group, and the ground surface for miles around it in every direction is so flat that from the summit of the walls an immense stretch of country is brought under view. On the east is the broad valley of the Gila River, rising in a great plain to a distant range of mountains. About a mile and a half to the north a fringe of cottonwood trees marks the course of the river, beyond which the plain continues, broken somewhat by hills and buttes, until the view is closed by the Superstition Mountains. On the northwest the valley of the Gila River runs into the horizon, with a few buttes here and there. On the west lies a range of mountains, closing the valley in that direction while toward the southwest and south it extends until in some places it meets the horizon, while in other places it is closed by ranges of mountains blue and misty in the distance."

The accounts of visitors to this particular ancient town on the banks of the Gila River trickle along the course of time ever since white men landed in this "new world."

When the adventurous members of Coronado's expedition in 1540 braved the scorching sands of the north Mexican desert, they halted in amazement at the ruins of a long-deserted, sand-topped city hiding the secrets of a people older than the Indians. Castaneda, the scribe of the invasion, wrote with appreciation of the relic of a supposed fortress, which had been destroyed long before by barbarous tribes, perhaps ancestors of the Apaches. In 1694 a Jesuit father, wandering in penance, chanted a mass within its walls, recalling the spirits of departed chiefs of whom we are left no written record. While the white colonists of New England were struggling in 1775 to throw off a yoke binding them to Europe, an ecclesiast, Padre Font, was living in a room of the Casa Grande, writing the deeds of a nation whose prestige had already waned at the approach of a mightier tribe.

In 1846 an "Army of the West" of this advancing mightier tribe conquered these tottering walls and the territory surrounding them. Lieut. Emory and Lieut. Johnston of this army saw and wrote of the ruins, and Maj. John Russell Bartlett later described them with admiration. Mr. A. F. A. Bandelier, traveling for the Archeological Institute of America, was the next to mention them in notes on a trip as far south as Central America. These accounts were followed by a partial report in 1868 by Mr. Frank Hamilton Cushing of the "Hemenway Southwestern Archeological Expedition" from which the party returned laden with specimens of many carved stone implements, highly decorated pottery and burial urns, but above all with a vivid description of the customs of the extinct people of the region. In settling up affairs of this expedition Dr. Fewkes came into actual touch with the archeology of Arizona.

The Hemenway explorations were general. The work of Dr. Fewkes is limited to the buried city about Casa Grande, which he firmly believes as he writes to the Smithsonian, will be one of the great spectacles of the region—"an American Pompeii for sightseers as well as an object lesson for students of American archeology and history."

"The Casa Grande group of mounds," he says, "is composed of three walled clusters of buildings or compounds now for the most part buried in the earth." In his reports he has labeled them compounds A, B, and C. "Compound A" he is excavating. "Compound B" is close at hand. He describes it writing from his text upon the grounds: "It is a noble ruin and as I see it now looming among the mesquite trees I fancy the stately building that someone, some day, will uncover there."

Dr. Fewkes has already unearthed much of the first group of structures in which stand the walls of the "great house." As the sand is dug out, the mystery of its meaning gradually clears. It can hardly be a massive temple of sun-worshipers, as a former traveler surmised, but is more probably a place of refuge, a stronghold in which there may have resided a powerful chieftain of by-gone days who exacted homage from his vessels. The group proper is slightly over four hundred feet long by two hundred feet wide, surrounded by a solid wall of pressed earth a yard or more thick and now from eight to fifteen feet high. On two corners have already been unearthed an eight-room bastion and a two-room lookout. The great house itself rests about the center of the enclosure, flanked by plazas and groups of smaller houses arranged in an ordered plan. On one side is a large opening, probably the entrance, and about the whole, outside the wall, run traces of a ditch which connects at one corner with an adjacent depression in the ground.

Beyond the walls are mounds of all sizes and shapes—mounds which prodding has proved to be of as many origins. There are mounds formed of ashes and débris. The larger ones are burial mounds—treasure-houses for the archeologist—rich in mortuary offerings and human remains. There are mounds of earth left from clearing out springs. There is a fourth class of many remains of "ultra-urban single houses" which may hold the solution to the whole make-up of the city.

What sort of people were those first Americans who have left only silent evidence of their pre-Columbian life? It is established that they were ancestors of the Indians—that they bore little resemblance either to Asiatics or to Africans. Wherever they came from originally, they must have been Americans for a large total of generations. Closely allied to the Pima tribe of the present day, conservative estimates would place their number well up into thousands in each city.

It has been a pet theory of ethnologists to account for these vast western ruins by a series of many occupations of the same site, marking each return by the construction of a "temple" or "gathering-place" or a "compound," as Dr. Fewkes has termed these large blocks of buildings. One relic at least speaks of a vast population in words that are clear—the net-work of irrigation ditches constructed from the Gila and the Salt Rivers. Dug, as they must have been, with crude stone implements, the dirt was then laboriously carried away in baskets strung across the backs of the women. Imagination will conjure up the number of workers necessary to complete in this manner a ditch found by Mr. Cushing traceable at least calculation for thirty-eight miles.

LICENSED GAMBLING ENDS IN THE TERRITORY.

Many Old-Timers Lament the Change and Say It Will Begin an Era of "Skin" Games Conducted Behind Locked Doors in Upper Stories.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 30.—On Sunday night, open and licensed gambling will absolutely cease in Arizona and gambling by any of the usual games of chance will become unlawful and punishable by fine or imprisonment. Thus will pass one of the distinctive features of the Southwest. Many of the old-timers express regret over the change, for they insist that now will begin an era of "skin" games, conducted behind locked doors in upper stories, as contrasted with the time now closing, when all games are considered "square," conducted in the open.

Receipts from all gambling licenses have gone into the school funds, which hereafter will need replenishing from the proceeds of direct taxation. On the other hand, there is positive evidence that Tucson never has been so prosperous as since she abolished open gambling by municipal ordinance. Mercantile collections are far better and the banks report that their savings funds have been mounting steadily. Few of the gamblers who have been thrown out of an occupation seem to resent the change. Many of them are men of excellent standing for personal integrity, men whose boast has been that they never turned a crooked card.

Few of them are even well-to-do, as the average gambler lives up his income, unless he combines with his occupation also that of a saloon-keeper. A number of the "sports" of Southern Arizona are leaving already for New Mexico, where gambling is to continue the rest of this year, forbidden by legislative enactment after December 31. But most of them will drift into the new mining camps of Nevada, where "things are wide open."

TERRITORIAL STRAYS.

There has been a lull in the talk of erection of a custom smelter in the outskirts of Tucson by the Twin Buttes Mining Company, but a successor to this enterprise appears to have materialized in a scheme of the Arizona Smelting Company, a $500,000 corporation lately organized, which proposes to place a smelter on the Twin Buttes Railroad, five miles south of Tucson. The incorporators are James T. Backe and Charles M. Litchfield of Boston and Josiah Ide and Charles F. Backe of Tucson.

There is a prospect for the erection in Tucson of a tourist hotel, to cost, with ground, $400,000. It is understood that options have been secured by the promoters covering the block between Fifth and Sixth avenues, south of Congress street.

It is probable that an astronomical observatory will be established soon at the University of Arizona, which lately secured as its professor of physics A. E. Douglass, for years connected with the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff.

Preparations are being made for a debate, to be held in this city in April, between representatives of the University of California and University of Arizona.

F. B. King, chief clerk in the office of the general manager of the El Paso and Southwestern system, has been promoted to be superintendent of the western division of the road, from El Paso to Benson. The Southwestern has announced a raise of 5 per cent., effective April 1, in the salaries of its office men.

At Globe has been introduced a novelty in the way of a raffle, something quite distinctively Southwestern in character. Instead of deciding the destination of a diamond ring by the usual and prosaic method of shaking dice, a rifle shot was taken at a whirling disk, which had been painted with all the numbers of the tickets sold. The number struck by the bullet was the winner.

At Douglas a few days ago, a line inspector noticed a Mexican coming across the line, carrying a cased rifle, something very unusual for a Mexican to do. Rifle cases are cumbersome things in a country where rifles really are needed for use and not for ornament. Investigation showed that the case was, in reality, a sort of demijohn, containing not a firearm, but several gallons of equally deadly mescal.

Justice of the Peace Morris Butner of Pirtleville precinct, near Douglas, is of the kind that has peace even if he has to fight for it. The dignity of his court was insulted by a Mexican, who was under trial for disturbance of the peace. A couple of fines for contempt of court availed not, so the magistrate, casting his dignity and his coat aside, proceeded to give the prisoner a beating that filled the spectators with admiration and awe. When the job was properly polished off, the limp Mexican was tied up to a post outside the door and the justice resumed his coat and called the next case.

A border-line doctor has discovered that a distillation of the common Southwestern greasewood, "larrea Mexicana," has all the good qualities of with hazel.

An example to American office holders has just been afforded by the application of Antonio Ponce de Leon of the Mexican Gendarmerie Fiscal, for a vacation of two months, his first in a service of thirty-seven years.

Back East, a gang of swindlers is working on the sale of lots in a beautifully platted city in the Rio Yaqui Valley of Sonora, and every week or so an individual or a party of people drifts into Nogales on the way to the coming metropolis, named "Ciudad Victoria." The townsite is there all right in the Yaqui Valley, but it is in the heart of the Indian country, and thus far has been undisturbed in virgin beauty by the vandal hand of man.

Superintendent Millar of the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern Railroad, lately appreciated the majesty of the law more keenly than he ever had before. He tore down a disfiguring legal notice from the wall of the railroad depot at Fort Thomas, only to be arrested on the spot by a constable and haled off to be fined by the local justice of the peace.

J. N. Porter, president of the First National Bank of Globe, has leased from the United States a grazing body of land of 600 square miles on the Gila River, in the White Mountain Indian reservation.

Yaquis are reported to have fired and destroyed the hoisting works and reduction plant of the Ruby Gold and Copper Company at Batomote, fifty miles from Ortiz, Sonora. The property was not being worked, and the watchman, who escaped, was the only resident.

LID ON IN MONTANA.

HELENA (Mont.) April 1.—The Griffin anti-gambling law became effective today, and as a result all games of chance are strictly tabooed. It is the first time since the discovery of gold in 1863 that nowhere in the State can a public game of faro, roulette, poker, dice and games of all kinds, and even slot machines, be run. All the latter were removed from cigar stands and other establishments yesterday.

ARCHBISHOP RYAN WELL.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—Announcement was made at the cathedral today that the health of Archbishop Ryan has been entirely restored. The Archbishop has been suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis.

It is a splendid investment for the man of large means and just as available for the salaried man and investor of small means.

Investigate through your Banker — The Marshall & Stearns Company is so well and favorably known that none should hesitate in acquiring stock that is bound to bring magnificent returns; but if you are in doubt, ASK THE ADVICE OF YOUR BANKER OR BROKER.

A Demonstrated Profit-Earning Investment — The Marshall & Stearns Company commenced the manufacture of wall beds and other patented space-saving and comfort-affording devices for apartment houses, hotels and private homes, about three years ago, and during this time has revolutionized old methods of construction. The apartment house problem has been completely solved by the use of these patented fixtures which have reached the acme of perfection in every point of manufacture and also in every point of advantage in building construction for which they were originally intended. The demand for these fixtures is so great that the company will do a CASH BUSINESS DURING 1907 OF A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS.

No "Promotion" Stock — Every dollar received from the sale of this 6 per cent. Preferred Stock will be turned into the Treasury of the Corporation and used immediately to increase its working capital, enlarge its facilities, operate new agencies and erect its own manufacturing plant to meet the unprecedented demand for its goods

Nothing Speculative — This stock is not issued to liquidate any indebtedness. All the assets of the company are in plain sight. The profits for the orders now on hand will pay a dividend on the entire Preferred Stock and a substantial dividend on the Common Stock.

Dividends paid on Preferred Stock FIRST — Not one cent in dividends can be paid to the present owners, whose interest in the Company is represented by the Common Stock, until the full dividend of 6 per cent. per annum, payable quarterly, has been paid on the Preferred Stock.

Common Stock as BONUS. — With each share of 6 per cent. Preferred Stock sold, one share of Common Stock will be given AS A BONUS. After the payment of the 6 per cent. dividends on the Preferred and Common Stock, additional earnings will be divided equally, share and share alike.

Possibilities of the Company. — The Marshall & Stearns Company, in the business which it has created, presents possibilities for the future unequaled by any other company in the United States, and it is bound to rank with the leading manufacturing concerns of national fame. All the builders of apartment houses in America recognize the benefits of the Marshall & Stearns system and are trying to obtain these fixtures. Eventually, this Company will have to supply the demand of all buildings where it is necessary to have a sanitary bed.

Fixtures Patented — Each and every one of the Marshall & Stearns Company's fixtures is fully covered by patents, and any infringement or attempted infringement will be vigorously prosecuted.

Send for particulars. — Full particulars will be given of this unusual opportunity to invest in this well-known, established corporation by applying by letter or in person at the offices of the company.

TO CONTINUE OLD SYSTEM.

Receiving Hospital to Have Two Heads.

Council Pays Political Debt Despite Protest.

Committee's Report Calmly Turned Down.

The city's Receiving Hospital is to be a "double headed" institution after all the condemnation that this system, or lack of system, has called forth in the past two years. The City Council so decided, yesterday, in the face of the recommendation of the investigating committee that one definite head be created, and the conduct of the hospital should be his responsibility.

Dr. E. Garrett and Dr. Sumner Quint are the chief surgeons-elect. Dr. R. F. Clark, Dr. E. C. Goodrich and Dr. Charles Bonynge are to be the assistant surgeons. Bonynge is a hold-over under civil service rules. The others were appointed yesterday.

The investigating committee, composed of Councilmen Wren and Wallace, stated that their work had been in conjunction with that of Mayor Harper and that their findings met with his approval.

The report went into detail as to the conditions at the Receiving Hospital, a resumé of which has been given heretofore in The Times. Then followed the various recommendations for general betterment of the institution.

The committe declared emphatically for one head to the institution, who should be responsible for its proper care and conduct, and for three assistant surgeons and two male nurses. This section was rejected by a vote of six of the Councilmen, Blanchard, Healy, Clampitt, Lyon, Peace and Yonkin. Wallace, Wren and Dromgold voted for the retention of the section.

Councilman Wren spoke strongly for the establishment of one chief surgeon. He declared that it was a well-known fact that much of the scandal and friction of the past two years has been caused by the absence of a definite head to the institution, and that the criticisms of the investigating committee were proved to be justified by the resignation of two of the surgeons since they were undertaken.

"In cutting out section 6 of this report," said Councilman Wren, "you are simply cutting out the core of the whole thing. I have not heard a single argument as to why there should be two heads to that department. I believe it is purely and simply politics, and that you men are only endeavoring to pay some political debts."

But when it came to the votes the programme went through with the required six votes, and the double-headed institution will continue under the old régime—unless the Mayor vetoes the measure.

The recommendations as adopted by the Council include the provision that the chief surgeon shall spend at least six hours a day at the Receiving Hospital, and he shall so arrange the time of his nurses and assistants that a surgeon and nurse shall always be on duty.

The report goes into detail as to the past work of the five surgeons attached to this hospital. The records of the hospital between the dates of December 1 and March 18 show that Dr. Quint treated 110 cases and assisted in the treatment of 64 cases. Dr. Smith treated 19 cases and assisted with 10 others. Dr. Bonynge's record shows 162 cases treated and assistance with 10 other cases. Dr. Freedman treated 215 cases and assisted with 18 others, and Dr. Tebbett treated 158 cases and assisted with nine other cases.

It was shown by Councilman Wallace that during the period that Dr. Smith treated but nineteen cases he had drawn $550, the record bearing out the statement of Smith that he was very seldom at the hospital.

The recommendation made in this report that there be a selection of new quarters or an enlargement of the present quarters, was referred to the Council's Finance Committee.

NEW OIL BURNER.

Santa Barbara Man Has Invented One That Consumes the Cheapest Distillate.

A distillate burner that consumes the cheapest distillate—the common stove variety selling at 5 to 6 cents a gallon retail, is the invention of F. E. Nelson of Santa Barbara, who is in the city for the purpose of introducing it here. He states that he has already 130 in use at Santa Barbara.

The special features claimed are that the feed pipes do not enter the burner, but pour their contents into a receptacle on the outside of the body of the stove, which also acts as an overflow chamber in case too much oil is turned on, thus avoiding the troubles that attend this when unchecked, and a pan placed inside the burner designed to catch sediment or other foreign matter in the oil and prevent choking.

In the range in which the burner is being used at the company's office at No. 1504 North Main street, it is seen that a good fire is kept. The distillate is run from a tank placed upstairs by gravity—water or other pressure can be used when tank has to be buried—into the outside receptacle, from which it passes into the burner and settles in the pan. A fire is lighted beneath this (any fuel, such as a few sticks of kindling, being used) and the oil heated so as to generate a gas, which flows into a pipe running under the burner and coming out at a small hole, is lighted, and you have your fire. This flame both does the cooking or heating of the room and generates the gas to feed itself.

The regulation of the flow renders it possible, it is claimed, and makes it safe for any man, woman or child to use. Where cooks are being changed every few weeks, as in many places, this should be an important feature. If too much be turned, it simply goes into the chamber provided for it and the fire is not affected.

It is the intention, Mr. Nelson says, to sell no burners, but to rent them under contract. To prevent difficulty from the use of all kinds of oil, a clause will be in each contract requiring that the user shall purchase no oil for use in it except from the company, which agrees to furnish the same at market prices. When this was not done, some even attempted to burn crude, while nearly all obtained one kind of distillate today and another tomorrow.

It should be understood that the inventer does not claim this as a gas plant in any sense, but as a distillate burner. It generates a temporary gas that passes away with the passing of the fire. This principle is an old one and is not claimed as anything new. The improvements are as stated above.

The company is known as the Nelson Liquid Fuel and Burner Company, and will manufacture in this city, installing the first burners, it is said, within a few weeks.

MYSTERY IS BAFFLING.

HOUR UNACCOUNTED FOR.

The idea of foul play is uppermost in the minds of Mehegan's relatives and friends. No trouble of any description indicating such a thing has become known to the police at the time Mehegan was in the vicinity of First and Alameda streets. Nor in the list of street car and other accident victims does any man figure on or about that time who in any way answers Mehegan's description.

The fact that the man came to order goods and went out of his way to see about selling his place may not mean much, as he had told his partner he intended to see Hedges. But the place where he spent his hour or more time after leaving Hedges, and the company with whom he was at that period, may mean something.

As things now stand, however, this is the case of a sane and sober young man in good spirits with a small amount of money, walking out from a crowded establishment into a comparatively busy street while it was still daylight, and vanishing from the sight of all who know him.

FEW INCHES FROM DEATH.

Twelve Men Lift Huge Automobile to Rescue Five-Year-Old Boy from Beneath Wheels.

Cecil Kelley, not quite 5 years of age, escaped death by only a few inches early yesterday afternoon when he was knocked down and pinned beneath the wheels of a large touring car on First street near Figueroa. So near was the huge body of the machine to the little fellow that the car could not be safely moved by its own power and the boy lay, crying and frightened, while a dozen men who had been attracted to the spot lifted the automobile so that he could be removed.

Cecil, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kelley of Fremont avenue, was at the foot of the steep First-street grade, when the automobile struck him. The machine is No. 470, owned by Burke Brothers, real estate dealers, and was driven by one of the owners. The driver saw the boy when some distance away and stopped his car within a remarkably short distance. The steep grade caused it to slide several feet, however.

Burke then hurried with the boy to a physician, who found only bruises which will heal in a few days.

Richard Mansfield, the actor, who has been seriously ill in New York for several days, was not so well today. He passed a restless night and was much weaker yesterday morning.

Money Saving
Is Increasing

People are gradually learning its enormous value.

Never in the history of this country has the saving habit been so popular as it is today.

The "fever" has attacked both young and old and the savings banks are overflowing with deposits.

The savings banks are safe but the interest paid is only about 3 per cent., which is hardly a fair profit.

Continental Building & Loan Association

which is known as a co-operative bank, pays 6 per cent. interest on deposits.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A PRETTY romance, involving a well-known capitalist of this city and a sweet Illinois girl will be consummated at 7:30 o'clock this morning, when George S. Wilson takes as his bride Miss Katherine P. Norton, the ceremony taking place in the cathedral.

It all started about a year ago, when Mr. Wilson came home from Manila, where he had been four years, in the military service. He comes of one of the old families here, being a son of the late Mrs. Catherine Wilson, and one of the owners of the Wilson Block, and other valuable property. He was born in this city and has grown up with it, and from a prosperous family, he has become wealthy and prominent. He is a brother of Phillip Wilson, whose wedding to Miss Maude Newell took place about a year ago.

MISS BLANCHE RUBY,
who has come here to make her home, and who will be the guest of honor at a large luncheon on Saturday.

Miss Norton has been heretofore the cashier in the Nadeau Hotel, and it was there that Wilson met and lost his heart to her. She has been much admired since her coming here a year ago.

Only a few close friends and relatives will witness the ceremony this morning, and after a breakfast, the young couple will start on a wedding tour, which is to include the United States and Europe, all in a leisurely manner.

Mrs. Solano's Tea.

One of the loveliest of functions was the tea given yesterday afternoon at which Mrs. Alfred Solano was hostess, it being the first function to open her beautiful new home at No. 2421 South Figueroa street. Four hundred invitations were issued, and a large company of beautiful maids and matrons donned their loveliest Easter frocks and hats and made, indeed, a brilliant picture, 'mid the soft-hued blossoms and greenery, forming an exquisite background.

The decorations were arranged with rare taste and in the handsome dining-room, soft yellow acacia blossoms combined with lacy ferns were most effectively arranged, and yellow-shaded candelabra completed the pretty combination. The drawing-room was decorated with stately vases filled with American Beauty roses and ferns, and in the music-room, pink and white carnations and asparagus ferns were arranged gracefully. The reception hall contained baskets and cases filled with pink carnations in the pale shades of the Enchantress.

Mrs. Solano was assisted in receiving by the following-named handsomely-gowned society women: Mmes. Michael J. Connell, M. L. Hinman, William May Garland, Hancock Banning, J. Ross Clark, E. P. Clark, Robert J. Burdette, Wesley Clark, W. A. Briggs, Granville MacGowan, James H. Utley, Henry O'Melveny, Adna R. Chaffee, Walter Jarvis Barlow, Cosmo Morgan, Dwight Whiting, Thomas Lee, Leo Chandler, Roy Koster, Randolph H. Miner, Rufus H. Herron, M. A. Wilcox, Mary Longstreet, James C. Drake, Margaret Hobbs, Hugh L. MacNeil, Kate Vosburg, Dan McFarland, Jaro Von Schmidt, West Hughes, Emmeline Childs, Ozro W. Childs, Earl B. Millar, Milo M. Potter, John F. Francis, John F. Ellis, and Misses Edith Herron, Nina Jones, Eva Keating and Bess Millar.

Miss Bumiller Entertains.

In honor of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Perry Bagg, who have recently returned from Guam, and who will leave soon for Washington, D. C., Miss Emma Bumiller entertained last evening with a dinner at the California Club. Poppies decorated the table and others, for whom covers were laid, included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Toll, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burks and Arthur Bumiller and Miss Bumiller.

Dr. and Mrs. Bagg are the guests of Judge and Mrs. J. D. Bicknell of Seventh and Bixel, father and mother of Mrs. Bagg. They will leave for Washington Friday afternoon, where Dr. Bagg has been stationed for two years.

Climb Mt. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae G. Van Cleve chaperoned a merry crowd of young people up Mt. Wilson on Saturday and Sunday. It was a period of joy, the full moon shining on the vast panorama of snow peaks and foothills and lowlands; the myriads of electric lights twinkling peacefully a mile below in Pasadena and Los Angeles; and the fun derived from the snowballing and sleighing, near the summit, all combined to make the trip, one long to be remembered by the young people, who included, the Misses Irene Wilson, Edith Myers, Anna Caswell, Kate Hazelip, Anna Louise Bernay and Messrs. G. Snyder, L. Long, N. Osborn, L. Janes and P. S. Bernays.

Mrs. Moore Is Hostess.

Mrs. Adolphus J. Moore entertained the members of the Wilshire Five Hundred Club at Hotel Coronado, the rooms being decorated prettily with Easter lilies and purple hyacinths and ferns. Score cards were adorned with fluffy chicks and Easter eggs. The first prize for the women, a handsome cut glass perfume bottle, was captured by Mrs. Logan and the men's, a brass stamp and letter scale, was won by Mr. Feuerborn. Members of the club, who enjoyed the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. William Lyman Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Staats Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Orcutt, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Fennessly, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Feuerborn, and Mr. and Mrs. Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ramsey will entertain the club at their home on West Adams street, next week.

Angelenos Enjoy Mexico.

Among others who are there, are Maj. and Mrs. B. C. Truman and Miss Georgia Truman, who are at present in Guadalajara, Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Modini Wood and family and Mrs. Chateau and Mrs. O. T. Johnson are in the City of Mexico. Col. and Mrs. Seymour of El Toro and of Redondo spent the holy week in the City of Mexico.

Mrs. MacNeil's Musicale.

Mrs. Hugh L. MacNeil will entertain at her home, No. 2408 South Figueroa street this evening with a musicale. Thursday evening she will give a dinner party for Mrs. A. H. McKay of Mexico. On the afternoon of April 17, Mrs. MacNeil is planning to entertain with a bridge whist party for her women friends.

To Give Cotillion.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Ingraham of No. 2000 West Adams street have issued cards for a cotillion to be given at Kramer's Hall on Tuesday evening, April 16, in compliment to their nieces, Misses Hilda Peck and Faith Aleene Ingraham of Bristol, Ct., who are spending the winter with their aunt and uncle.

For Becketts.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. L. Parmalee of South Pasadena, will entertain at Hotel Pleasanton on Thursday with a dinner as a farewell compliment to Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Beckett, who expect to leave soon for a European trip.

Walton-Smith Nuptials.

A recent marriage which came as a surprise to Boyle Heights young people was that of William R. Walton and Miss Fern M. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Smith, formerly of Portland. The young couple were married at Santa Ana Saturday by Rev. Mr. Douglass of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and will be at home to their friends at No. 920 Blaine street, this city.

Entertains With Outing.

Mrs. Ernest Kothe delightfully entertained a party of ladies Friday by taking them for an all day's outing through the most charming and picturesque highways and byways of Southern California. The route taken was over the Salt Lake to Riverside where luncheon was served at Hotel Glenwood, after an exhilarating auto spin in and about Riverside.

At 1 o'clock the party proceeded to Redlands where a tally-ho was awaiting them for a drive through Smiley Heights.

The whole trip was under the guidance and supervision of the popular Balloon Route Excursion Company. Mrs. Kothe's guests were: Mrs. H. L. Angell of Geneseo, Ill., Mrs. F. H. Walcott of Chicago, Mrs. H. N. Manington, Mrs. H. L. Percy, Mrs. P. H. Lyon, Mrs. F. A Brown, Miss Helen Percy and Miss Louise Angell of Los Angeles.

Las Amigas.

Mrs. A. E. Pomeroy of No. 217 West Adams street, served an elegantly-appointed luncheon on Thursday. The guests were members of the Las Amigas Club. The minutes of the first meeting were read, the club reorganized, and were afterwards delightfully entertained with singing by Mrs. Emmet Murray. Those present were: Mmes. Ella Griswold, E. W. Reynolds, L. B. Cook, Charles Forrester, W. W. Widney, H. W. Brodbeck, J. W. Gillette, E. J. Price, J. E. Murray, Jennie Cornish, P. Mulford, C. D. Howrey, Isabella Funk, Miss Anna Funk, Mrs. Anna Farrer, Mrs. Emmet Murray.

Mrs. Kelly a Bride.

The news of the recent marriage of Mrs. Hattie Kelly of Los Angeles to J. A. Knox, a mining operator of Nevada, will come as a surprise to her friends here. The wedding was at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ida Fuller, of Berkeley. The newly-married pair left immediatley on a wedding tour, which is to include nearly every well-known place of interest in the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Knox will reside in Nevada, in which State Mr. Knox is heavily interested. Mrs. Knox is well known in Los Angeles as the widow of Thomas Kelly, who was prominent in the Edison Electric Company before his death, three years ago.

Mrs. Childs Home Again.

Mrs. Ozro W. Childs, who has been enjoying a visit of several months in New York City, is at home again. Mrs. Childs had a most enjoyable visit in the metropolis, and has brought home a great many beautiful New York gowns, which are most becoming and striking.

Burkes Have Left.

Mrs. William R. Burke of Berkeley Square and her daughter, Miss Louise Burke and son, Carleton, left on Saturday evening for New York City, from whence they will sail on April 18 for Europe, going direct to Paris, and from there will spend a year in touring the European cities. Mrs. Burke and her son and daughter contemplate meeting Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Walles in New York City, for they are at present visiting there. This will be a pleasure, as Mrs. Walles was formerly Miss Adelaide Brown, a most intimate friend of Miss Burke's, whose wedding took place some months ago.

Miss Ruby to Be Guest.

Among the other honored guests at the luncheon which the members of the Gamut Club will give on Saturday is Miss Blanche Ruby, a distinguished young soprano, who has come here with her parents to make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Ruby and their daughter have purchased a beautiful new home at No. 1032 South Hoover is the pattern powder for the imitations and substitutes glibly described as being "as good as Mennen's."

The utmost that any imitator can do is to counterfeit the external appearance of Mennen's product. The powder itself cannot be imitated because both the ingredients and the process of manufacture are the secret of the Mennen Company.
To prevent imitations of the Mennen package the Mennen Company has invented the "box that lox"—a box that cannot be refilled with an inferior powder to be sold as "Mennen's."
Buyers of Mennen's Borated Talcum Powder can always protect themselves from fraudulent substitutes and worthless imitations by insisting on Mennen's in "the box that lox."
Facsimile of Box. Facsimile of Box.
Have you tried Mennen's Violet Borated Talcum Toilet Powder? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Talcum fragrant with the odor of fresh-plucked Parma violets. For sale everywhere for 25 cents. By mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Sample free.

street, and intend to make this their permanent home.

This brilliant American girl has spent a large part of her time abroad. Her father was Consul at Belfast, Ireland, for a number of years, and since then the family have lived abroad. Miss Ruby is the possessor of a very beautiful high soprano, sweet and bird-like in quality, and exquisitely trained. She was prima donna for the Hague opera company, and later for the Savage opera company.

She is one of the few Americans who have sung before Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, and who have been presented with a remembrance from that youthful sovereign. The Queen admired the handsome singer immensely, and gave her a beautiful foreign vase, as a tribute to her voice and personality. Miss Ruby sang for the Symphony Orchestra, and was received by the musical coterie with much delight, and later she sang for the exclusive, musical Spinet Club at Redlands.

Miss Carpenter Home.

Miss Clara Carpenter, who has been enjoying a lengthy visit in the East, has returned home, and is with her family at Redondo. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carpenter and their family will leave the middle of the month to attend the wedding of Mrs. Carpenter's niece, Miss Jane Wilshire, and Jack Polhemus, which is to take place April 20.

Mrs. Simmons's Musicale.

Mrs. Jones-Simmons will entertain on Thursday afternoon with the second of her series of studio musicales to be given at her studio in the Blanchard building, at which time she will have a number of talented pupils to present.

Justices Return.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Justice have returned to this city from San Diego, near where they have been living ever since their marriage nearly a year ago. They have taken a home at No. 1050 Orange street, where Mrs. Justice will be at home to her friends on Tuesdays of the month. Mrs. Justice was formerly Miss Pearl Mesmer, a beautiful and popular girl of the city, and her many friends will be glad to learn of her return. She was a popular member of the S. M. Club and other social organizations, and was hostess at numerous social functions.

Mrs. Werner's Reception.

Mrs. Frank Werner, who has just moved into her beautiful new home at No. 2029 West Washington street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon with a handsomely-appointed reception in honor of her house guests, Mrs. Osmun Stubbs and Mrs. Mary Drake, two charming Portland, Or., women.

Notes and Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sale of Hotel Westminster will take the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braly at No. 991 Arapahoe street, while the Bralys are in Europe.

Mrs. John Peckham and her sister, Mrs. Forbes, will act as hostesses this afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Eschscholtzia Chapter, D. A.R., which is to be held at the Ebell Clubhouse at 2:30 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the California Badger Club will be held at Music Hall, Blanchard building, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be a short talk by Mrs. Marie E. Bailey of Boston. The music will be in charge of Mrs. William J. Scholl.

Miss Hannah Moore Furst, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Furst of San José, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Burke and their young daughter, Miss Garce, at their home, No. 601 St. Paul avenue.

Capt. and Mrs. A. B. Fitch of Hollywood are spending Easter week with old friends in Santa Barbara and Montecito.

Brownson House Vaudevillians Please Large Audience at the Gamut Club Auditorium.

Aided by the inspiration of a worthy cause and a responsive audience, the Brownson House vaudeville artists scored a triumph at the Gamut Club auditorium last night. The programme was excellently prepared and excellently rendered, without a dull number, and each participant deserves a part of the credit for an altogether admirable and remarkably successful performance. Applause was well earned and generously bestowed, encores being frequent.

No small part of the programme was that provided by the Brownson vaudeville orchestra, which, under the direction of E. C. Kammermeyer, rendered several delightful selections. The sextette of stalwart Y.M.C.A. athletes who opened the programme, furnished an act worthy of a place on a professional stage, and well earned the liberal applause given them. Miss Mary Thekla Romadka, who, as a whistling soloist, has delighted many audiences in the East, pleasingly rendered several difficult selections, which were greatly enjoyed. Her rendition of the "Dream Song" as an encore number, was especially good. Walter Goldsmith enlivened the programme with a witty monologue sketch, his admirable impersonations causing much merriment. Misses Workman, Porter, Holmes and Sawtelle contributed an amusing one-act comedy entitled, "The Burglar," displaying exceptional ability in portraying the emotions of a bevy of frightened young ladies. Mme. Marie Schallerti and Sig. Emrico Dali sang the prison scene from "Il Trovatore" effectively and melodiously to the evident enjoyment of the entire audience. Misses Benton, Emery, Gartmann and Wolcott, as lightning-change artists, Prof. and Mme. La Rochelle as hypnotic lightning calculators, Mme. Elsa Von Grofe Menasco and G. A. Hancock, 'cellists, contributed features of exceptional merit. The concluding number was unique and entertaining, being the first appearance on any stage of the marvelous living advertisements in which the following young ladies were posers: Misses Hazel Benton, Rose Bernard, Molly Dillon, Nannie Dillon, Lita Murrietta, Grace Schilling, Charlotte Workman.

The entertainment was under the management of the Brownson House Association, which is composed of Catholic women, who, for several years, have been successfully engaged in settlement work in the vicinity of Vignes street. The work has been productive of much good, and it was for the purpose of procuring funds for extending it that the vaudeville entertainment was presented last night. The auditorium was well filled, and the sales made by a number of winsome flower and candy girls swelled the proceeds so that altogether a satisfactory sum was realized.

Information To Investors

How Any Sum, Large or Small, May Be Invested in the Best Business Property in Los Angeles

This Article Shows How It Is Done and Should Be Read By Everyone as a Matter of General Information.

While the advantages of improved centrally located business property from the investment standpoint are quite well known, they are not fully appreciated by a large majority of the people, because such invesments have heretofore been beyond the reach of any except those possessed of large capital. If all the advantages of such property were fully understood by investors of moderate means, they would certainly find a way to own some of it and participate in the double the earnings which it brings to its owners. Such property has two earnings, both of which are large and certain.

Second—Growth in value, always certain and increasing year after year.

The history of business property invsetments in large cities is a true story of large, continuing and increasing profits during the past century, and it will be just as true of the next century.

THE TRUSTEE COMPANIES.

The Trustee Companies which have been organized in Seattle, Los Angeles, Spokane, and other cities have developed a method of property ownership by which such properties are made available to investors in any amount from $100 to $100,000.

An independent company is organized in each of the cities in which this method is put in operation. The officers and boards of directors are chosen from among the most active, energetic and best-known business men in each city, to insure able, efficient and conservative management. These men put their own capital into the business, and their profits are wholly contingent upon successful management.

OWNERSHIP METHOD.

The method by which Trustee Companies divide the ownership of business property into units for individual investment is as follows:

The company first purchases a tract of unimproved property in the best business district of the city and erects thereon a steel frame, fire-proof building, to supply the business needs of that particular locality.

The ownership of the property is then divided into a certain number of units for investment, by a deed placed on record in the county. The units, so recorded, are then sold and conveyed to investors in any amount desired.

The value of each unit is its proportion of the whole value, and it advances as the value of the property advances.

The instruments by which the units are conveyed are issued by the Trustee Company, certified by a trust company and registered in the names of the purchasers.

The manner in which the property shall be managed is definitely fixed by the title deed which provides that the Trustee Company shall manage the property, make leases, collect the rents, pay all the taxes and expenses, distribute the net returns to investors, and do everything necessary to be done in connection with the property.

The property is absolutely free from incumbrance at the time of division, and the title deed provides that no mortgage or incumbrance shall ever be placed upon it.

The owner of each unit is wholly independent of all other investors in the same property, and each piece of property is handled separately, so that an investment in one property is not affected by any other.

NET RESULTS TO INVESTORS.

After the payment of taxes, insurance, repairs and operating expenses, the net rentals and increase value of the property are divided as follows:

QUARTERLY DIVIDENDS—The owners of unit-interests are paid the sum of $50 per annum, on each unit, as a dividend, in four quarterly installments, payable on the 10th day of March, June, September and December of each year.

SURPLUS DIVIDENDS—Two-thirds of the surplus remaining, after paying the expenses and fixed dividends, goes to the owners of units, and the balance goes to the Trustee Company as a compensation for its services.

The Trustee Company receives none of the earnings until all expenses, charges and fixed quarterly dividends have been paid to the owners of the unit-interests.

ILLUSTRATION OF OWNERSHIP DIVISION.

The division of the ownership of Trustee Property No. 2 may be used as an illustration of Unit-Ownership.

The Trustee Company of Los Angeles, being the owner of the lot at 424-426-428 South Broadway, valued at $250,000, is erecting thereon a steel-frame, fire-proof office building, ten stories in height, which will be a "class A" building of the best construction. The cost of the building will be $275,000, making a total investment of $525,000.

The ownership of this property is divided into 525 units which are being sold at the price of $1000 each. These units will also be dvided into even tenths for the benefit of those who desire to invest less than $1000.

During the construction of the building the unit owners will be paid interest upon their investments at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. After completion of the improvements they will receive their pro rata of the income and increase value as above stated.

A handsome booklet has just been published, explaining Unit-Ownership and the advantages of business property investments, at length. It also shows how any one may acquire an interest in such property. This booklet will be furnished upon application.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

DEFEATS WATERHOUSE BY ONLY SEVENTY-EIGHT VOTES.

Hottest Mayoralty Contest in History of Pasadena—Procession of Citizens Marches to Victor's Home. All Councilmanic Candidates on Citizen's Ticket Elected.

Office of The Times, No. 26 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, April 2.—In the hottest political contest ever konwn in the history of this city; Thomas Earley defeated William Waterhouse for the office of Mayor yesterday by a margin of 78 votes. Never before has such enthusiasm been shown in any local election, and the total vote polled exceeded that of any preceding election by a substantial figure. In all nearly 4000 ballots were cast.

There were many surprises sprung form time to time. Many precincts that were supposed to be Waterhouse strongholds turned their support over to Earley, while in the outlying districts the vote polled was much larger than was expected. As was anticipated, Waterhouse won in North and East Pasadena by a substantial majority, while in the downtown districts he was in many cases completely snowed under.

Until a late hour in the afternoon the Waterhouse forces insisted that they were carrying all before them, and they would win by fully 500 votes, but by 7 o'clock even the most sanguine conceded their defeat. Earley supporters were confident from the start, and everything was ready for a rousing celebration as soon as the final returns were made known.

When the work of counting the ballots was completed and it was definitely announced that Earley had been elected, a procession was formed with the band at its head, and a parade of the city was made. That Earley was the popular candidate in the downtown districts, at least, was plainly shown by the number of people who fell into line to take part in the celebration. Everybody was there. Evening clothes rubbed shoulders with overalls, and "billycocks" were next-door neighbors to top hats.

The procession made its way to Earley's home on South Marengo avenue, where the victorious candidate was called upon for a speech. In the course of his remarks he said:

WILL KEEP EVERY PLEDGE.

"I wish to reiterate what I said before the election about carrying out the will of the people, and I wish to say that I will endeavor to keep every pledge which I made to the best of my ability. I will always endeavor to carry out the will of the people. Had Mr. Waterhouse been elected I should have taken it as a sign that the people approved of his course, and I should have helped him to my full ability. [Cheers.]

"There is one thing that pleases me greatly, and that is the fact that the past campaign was a clean one. There was no mud thrown and we did not stoop to personalities. I respect Mr. Waterhouse as a man, and I have not one word to say against him, but I have not approved of all of his proceedings."

The first man to congratulate Mr. Earley on his election, when the procession reached his house, was Victor March, the defeated candidate for Councilman-at-large on the Waterhouse ticket. He followed the parade in his automobile and as the retinue entered the grounds he forced his way through the crowd and shook Mr. Earley enthusiastically by the hand. He was cheered again and again for his action.

Ex-President Linnard of the Board of Trade was foremost in the parade, and he followed Mr. March in congratulating the Mayor-elect. Several other prominent men of the city were also present, and each received a round of cheers as he came to the front.

H. C. Hotaling, the victorious candidate for Councilman-at-large, was then called upon for a speech. In a few words he reiterated what Mr. Earley had said, and pledged himself to carry out the will of the people.

As the procession again wended its way into the city the line kept its formation and as the cortege passed through the streets it was wildly cheered.

ELECTION FIGURES.

With Earley were elected all of the Councilmanic candidates on the Citizens' ticket, Messrs. Webster, Winner and Hotaling. Each of them received a handsome majority over his opponent on the Waterhouse ticket.

H. C. Hotaling, candidate for Councilman-at-large, received the heaviest vote of any of the candidates. He received a total of 2101 as against 1532 given his opponent, Victor Marsh.

Precinct 4—Earley, 105; Waterhouse, 118; Hicks, 12.
Precinct 5—Earley, 115; Waterhouse, 170; Hicks, 30.
Precinct 9—Earley, 162; Waterhouse, 94; Hicks, 4.
Precinct 13—Earley, 160; Waterhouse, 241; Hicks, 12.

The Earley forces made their campaign upon the water issue, and that they rightly judged popular opinion was conclusively shown by the outcome. In the outlying and newly-annexed districts, which have never experienced the troubles of a dry year since coming into the fold, Waterhouse was the more popular candidate. This was largely owing to the fact that his stand with regard to municipal lighting was popular in that territory.

The owners of property in districts where the assessments are high have not approved of the administration plan of building public utilities out of the tax levies, and they went to the polls determined to voice their opposition. In general, the result of the election meets with popular approval, and the new administration will start upon its career under the most favorable of circumstances.

ROOF GARDEN PARTY.

afternoon of a delightful progressive euchre party given in compliment to many of the guests of that hostelry, who have been foremost in entertaining this winter.

Amid the palms, bamboo and fern banks Easter flowers were arranged, giving bright touches of color, and the tea table in an alcove was ornamented with jonquils, white sweet peas and Easter lilies.

Mrs. G. G. Green, Mrs. James H. Holmes and Mrs. W. E. Grattan acted as hostesses and were assisted by Mrs. Edward Stratton and Miss Angie Holmes.

The prize winners were Mrs. Artemus Lamb, first, a handsome cut glass vase; Mrs. Frank Logan, lone hand, a mosaic picture frame; Miss Anderson, second, a silver jewel box; Mrs. John W. Gay, third, an art leather book cover, and Mrs. F. M. Hutchinson, consolation, two pretty handkerchiefs.

After the games Mmes. J. K. Armsby and Mrs. Walter S. L. Parrotte presided over the tea cups and a collation was served at the card tables.

Those present were Mmes. C. H. Hill, W. J. Barton, R. B. Langdon, J. K. Armsby, Edward Tinkham, Winegar, Hutchinson, Osterhout, Talpey, Graft, Crilly, Studebacker, Studebacker, Jr., Logan, Sellars, Wade, Lincoln, Holcomb, Wilas, Ford, Gates, Lamb, Lewis, Goodyear, Hosmer, Gay, Watson, Hodges, Hayes, Rowland, Murphy, Murray, VanLiew, Nielson, B. H. Doyle, Barhight, Alexander, Morey; Misses Doyle, Anderson, Eaton, Green, Thomas, Forbes, Murray, Shafer, Damon and Wade.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Judge and Mrs. William Wirt Dixon of Montana who are spending the winter at the Maryland gave a beautiful Easter Monday luncheon at the hotel yesterday. The table decorations were purple iris and Easter lilies, and in the center of the table was a miniature fountain. Covers were laid for Rt. Rev. Bishop Conaty, Father Farrelly, Father Hughes, Bishop de Silva, Count de Santa Eulalia, Mrs. Carter Harrison, Mrs. Broadwater, Mrs. Hinchcliffe, Miss Lavell.

The guests of the Maryland were treated to a unique function last evening in the way of a Spanish dinner in lieu of the regular dinner. The menu was purely Spanish, and was served under the lights of candles only. During dinner masses of red fire were lighted outside the French windows, and the guests were surprised by a burst of melody from a quartette which was hidden behind a screen of palms.

The dance of the La Crescenta Club which was to have been held at the Shakespeare Club House this evening will be held instead, at the Kinny Kendall Hall at Colorado street and Raymond avenue. Through some misunderstanding the clubhouse had been rented to two different parties for this evening.

George Ade's father will leave his home in Indiana this week and come to Pasadena to spend the balance of the season here with his son. He will be accompanied by Mr. Ade's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

The Tuesday Nighters will meet this evening as usual at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette on South Orange Grove avenue.

The members of the dramatic club of the Saint Andrew's Social Society are to repeat their play, "The Shamrock and the Rose," tomorrow evening at the Hotel Wentworth.

Mrs. Mahlon D. Stambach, for years a missionary in foreign countries, died last evening at her home on North Euclid avenue.

Fountain pens. Morris-Thurston Co.

VENICE.

VENICE, April 1.—A complete outfit of new fixtures has arrived for the Venice postoffice. These are to be installed at the present quarters, as soon as the room can be enlarged and improved to meet the demands of the office. The building is to be enhanced in beauty by the addition of an entire new front. This will be of a style of architecture to conform to the general design of the Venetian city. These betterments will represent an expenditure of about $2000, and will place the postoffice in position to readily handle the summer business, which is large.

The attraction at the Canal City tonight was the Easter Monday ball, given at the Windward-avenue pier dancing pavilion, under the auspices of the Zenda Club of Los Angeles. The beauty and chivalry of both beach and city was in attendance. Special cars were run over the electric line from Los Angeles, to bring the angelic Terpsichoreans. Tomorrow night the drawing card will be the society ball, under the patronage of Mrs. George Sibley and Miss E. J. Slauson. This promises to also be one of the finest parties of the season.

"Admiral" Lawton of the Venice fleet acted as host this evening at a Dutch supper. His guests included the circus folk of the Sells-Floto aggregation, who are just breaking up housekeeping here, after having passed the winter by the sea. The evenin was pleasantly spent.

DUDLEY WINS BY A SPRINT.

IS CHOSEN MAYOR OF SANTA MONICA CITY.

First Set of Officers Elected Under Freeholder Charter of Seashore Municipality—Hemingway for Clerk Without Opposition, Bane for Treasurer, Dales for Assessor.

SANTA MONICA, April 1.—Santa Monica's city election today, the first to be held under the new freeholder charter, proved a lively affair, although the vote polled did not represent the full registered electoral strength of the city's seven wards. Every livery rig and public automobile in town was pressed into service, while there were not a few traps and cars brought from Los Angeles. The day was orderly, and in no instance were the peace officers called upon as arbitrators. There were no eleventh-hour surprises in the form of campaign literature, and those who went to the polls met no interruption of campaign literature.

The fight centered over the choice of a Mayor. Of the three starters it was seen from the tap of the bell that J. C. Steele was not in the running. Between T. H. Dudley and W. J. Hull it was neck and neck, until the home stretch, when Dudley made a spurt and dashed under the wire 106 votes in the lead.

J. C. Hemingway was reëlected City Clerk without opposition. Ralph Bane defeated S. A. Wheeler for City Treasurer and Tax Collector by four votes. C. S. Dales was elected City Assessor.

The new members of the Board of Education are W. S. Vawter, D. G. Holt, E. V. Dales, W. E. Devore and A. B. Clapp.

The victors in the Aldermanic fight were: First Ward, George D. Snyder; Second Ward, R. W. Armstrong; Third Ward, A. S. Reel; Fourth Ward, A. D. Morris; Fifth Ward, Dr. H. L. Coffman; Sixth Ward, J. E. Miles; Seventh Ward, R. H. Dow.

When the new officers take their seats, Santa Monica's Aldermen will for the first time in the history of the city receive compensation for their labors as such. A Mayor will succeed the President of the Board of Trustees, and the initiative, referendum and recall will be a part of the municipal machinery.

SANTA MONICA BRIEFS.

The Sells-Floto circus moved from Venice to Santa Monica this afternoon and is preparing to pitch its tents in the Southern Pacific park for performances on Thursday, which is the opening day of the season for this aggregation.

The building committee of the Methodist Church, after having paid a visit to near-by cities for the purpose of inspecting the church edifices, has decided to copy the design and general arrangement of the First Methodist Church of Pasadena for the new Sunday-school building here. Plans have been ordered drawn. The basement will contain a gymnasium and social room. There will be an auditorium on the first floor, with galleries and classrooms.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson have arrived here from San Francisco and will make their home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Rea have gone to Chicago, where they expect to remain for a few months.

Mrs. S. Hutton has returned to her beach home after a visit to Arrowhead.

The postal receipts of Santa Monica for the month of March amounted to $2999.72, as against $2884.45 for the corresponding month of 1906. The receipts for the year will add another $100 to the annual salary of Postmaster Summerfield. They fell but a few dollars short of adding $200 to his annual stipend.

MASS MEETING PROTESTS.

DOWNEY, April 1.—After the union services at the Christian Church last night the congregation resolved itself into a mass meeting to protest against the opening of a saloon in Downey. Samuel Cohn, formerly a butcher here, has secretly circulated a petition among the friends of the saloon proposition, asking the Supervisors for a license to sell liquor in Precinct Two. The fact was learned late last week and a petition of protest was circulated and widely signed by the voters of the town and vicinity.

Last night a committee, consisting of Dr. E. A. Brunson, Messrs. Squires and Simmons and the five ministers of Downey, was appointed to draft resolutions and present them with the petition to the Supervisors.

The license question has been voted on repeatedly for the last three years here and defeated every time with increasing majorities. At the State election last November the vote was two to one against the saloon.

Large crowds still at Coronado.

OCEAN PARK.

OCEAN PARK, April 1.—There having been no meeting of the Community League for many weeks, and, the Chamber of Commerce having long since entertained the long sleep, a concerted movement is being made for the organiaztion of an active Board of Trade from the ashes of the two association that have apparently gone before. The residents of the beach, with one accord, recognize that great good might be accomplished through a flourishing organization, whose duty it might be to look after semi-public matters. No call for a public meeting has as yet been issued, but the matter is under advisement.

The condition of Mrs. N. A. Beach, who was injured in a street railway accident Saturday evening, is much improved, and hopes are entertained of her complete recovery.

PARK FOR SAN PEDRO.

Trustees Accept Gift of Twenty Acres. Boom Kills Seamen—S. A. Redfern Dead.

SAN PEDRO, April 1.—This afternoon the Board of City Trustees accepted the offer of Mrs. Rudecinda F. S. de Dodson to donate to the city a site of twenty acres for public park purposes. The site is located west of Pacific avenue, and close in. By the terms of the agreement, the city will spend $5000 a year for two years and $2000 a year thereafter in improvements. At the end of the first year the city will get a title to the site through the Los Angeles Trust Company.

KILLED AT SEA.

K. Gustafsen, a sailor on the barkentine James Tufts, Capt. Freeberg, which arrived this morning from Bellingham, was struck by a swinging boom on March 22, during a heavy storm, and instantly killed. The unfortunate seaman, who was a native of Norway, was buried at sea on the following day.

The James Tufts had a stormy passage. She ran into a heavy southeast blow on the night of March 21, and on the morning of the next day the wind blew a hurricane. The crew suffered greatly from exposure and exhaustion. It was while the storm was at its height that Gustafsen was killed

REDFERN PASSES AWAY.

Samuel A. Redfern, aged 60 years, fell dead of heart failure on Eleventh street this morning. He was a man of wealth, and came from Nagano, Mich., to San Pedro about a year ago. He was formerly manager of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company at Nagano.

TICKET ENDORSED.

The Harbor and Home Protective League ticket for the Board of City Trustees was indorsed last night at a mass meeting of Barton Hill residents. The candidates pledged themselves to the improvement of that section of the city, the building of a bridge across Mesa street, and the opening of First street to the water front.

The candidates of the Harbor and Home Protective League are George H. Peck, L. Pierson, W. W. Burke and H. C. Downing. About a dozen candidates are running independently.

BOSSY STOPS THE AUTO.

Cow Chain Gear Beats the Driving Gear and—Quick Brake! Hysterics! Curtain!

LORDSBURG, April 1.—An automobile party from Los Angeles in a large touring car was held up on the Foothill boulevard in La Verne on Sunday afternoon under peculiar circumstances. No masked robbers participated and no money was handed out, but how the ladies did scream.

A La Verne rancher had so far desecrated the Sabbath day as to stake his cow on the roadside, the chain being long enough to allow the cow to graze on both sides of the road. Yesterday afternoon the boulevard was crowded with automobiles, which flew by in quick succession. One, however, was filled with ladies whose headgear was decidedly attractive. The cow looked at them with suspicion as the two front wheels of the auto went over its chain, which lay stretched across the road. Then suddenly catching sight of the ladies' hats, the cow suddenly tightened up on the chain, stuck her feet in the ground and put her whole weight on the chain, which caught in front of the two rear wheels and lifted the rear end of the car and its occupants up in the air.

The chauffeur shut off his motive power and sprang to the rear end of the cow. After much twisting of its tail he succeeded in getting it to release its hold on the chain and allowing the car to proceed, not, however, before two of the ladies had gone into hysterics.

SINGER WILL WED.

First Full Catholic Marriage Service to Be Celebrated in the Hollywood Church.

HOLLYWOOD, April 1.—Miss Eva Twist, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Twist, of Hollywood, and Edwin Tinley of Covington, Ky., will be married at the Blessed Sacrament Church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Murphy will officiate, and the beautiful marriage service of the Catholic Church will be used in full for the first time in Hollywood.

Miss Twist is well known in Hollywood, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, where her parents have hosts of relatives and friends. She is one of the soloists in the Catholic Church here. Her bridal gown is of white broadcloth and real lace, and she will carry bride roses. Attending her will be her cousin, Miss Lulu Larquier. At the close of the service an elaborate bridal breakfast will be served at the new Twist residence, and later Mr. and Mrs. Tinley will leave for a trip South. The bride's going away gown is of tan mixed goods, tailor made, with hat to match.

REALTY MOVES.

Two hundred and fifty feet frontage on Prospect, between Vine and Gower, has been sold by C. H. Denton to Claude Hale for about $50 a foot, through J. B. Irsfeld, and the Lindsey Realty Company. Mr. Hale will improve at once with dwelling houses. The same agencies also report the sale of fifty feet on Whitley, north of Franklin, from S. B. Smith to Ethel Siskron, for a stated consideration of $1200, and seven-room house and lot on Ross Court, north of Franklin, to C. H. Denton for $5000.

Coronado delightful during April.

Judge M. C. Burch, Special Assistant United States Attorney-General in supervisory charge of coal, timber and other land frauds and offences, left New York last night for Boise where, it is understood, he will confer with the District Attorney for Idaho in regard to the prosecution of timber and land frauds in that State.

THREAT IN GLENDALE.

Negro Family Is Ordered in Anonymous Communication to Leave the Town.

GLENDALE, April 1.—For fear of their lives, the members of a well-educated, refined family living in a tent-house on Fifth and M streets, sleep with two loaded shotguns beside the beds, because of an anonymous typewritten letter received yesterday. The letter caused serious fright to a nervous, sick woman for whose sake the family are living in an uncongenial neighborhood. The letter addressed "To the only colored man in Glendale," reads thus:

"Dear Sir: You and your family must leave here at once. You are a negro and are not wanted here. Leave here by April 1st or April 10th or suffer the consequences thereby. You MUST!

[Signed] "COMMITTEE."

Several months ago the colored man in question, who is Dr. H. C. Garrott, a dentist, whose office is in the Wilson Block, Los Angeles, brought his sick wife and three small children, two boys and a girl, to Glendale, to try the effect of the climate upon Mrs. Garrott, who is suffering with tuberculosis. Dr. Garrott tried for weeks before he succeeded in buying a lot, as it seemed that no one would sell to a colored person. Finally succeeding he purchased a key lot on Fifth and M streets, and here erected a tent-house, where the family is living.

Perfect weather at Coronado.

The First Congregational of Avalon Is Presented With New Pulpit and Chairs.

AVALON, April 1.—An unusually large congregation greeted the pastor of the Congregational Church, Rev. C. W. Williams, yesterday morning at the Easter service, and was surprised to find a handsome new pupit-desk in place, with chairs to match, being the gift of Hon. J. Jay Nestell. The evening service was also of unusual interest, a special feature being an original dialogue given by the boys' club, "Knights of King Arthur," assisted by the girls' guild.

GULLS AND SEALS FEAST.

Vincente's fishermen this morning, in making a haul with their net, enclosed a seal and about five tons of sardines. As there were far too many sardines for their needs an apurture was made by which the seal and about three tons of the little fishes were allowed to escape. Several hundred hungry gulls had the time of their lives in picking up the wounded sardines, and an extra layer of fat will mark the event for the seals that were present.

Hotel del Coronado always pleases.

POMONA.

POMONA, April 1.—A largely attended memorial service was held in Cambridge, Mass., last Sunday in honor of the late Francis L. Pratt, who recently died suddenly here from heart failure. Mr. Pratt made hundreds of friends in Boston and Cambridge during his long years of service as an official of the latter city, before removing to Pomona. The services were largely attended, being held in the Prospect Street Congregational Church, and betokened the high esteem and deep affection of Mr. Pratt's old friends and associates. Numerous short addresses were delivered by those who had been intimately acquainted with Mr. Pratt Under Postmaster Avis another clerk, I. F. Ball, has been added to the office working force, and the North Pomona postoffice has been consolidated with the Pomona office. Hereafter it will be known as a branch of the local office. The rural delivery routes are constantly being extended and the service bettered.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

DESERT TRIO'S BONDS LIGHT.

ALLEGED MOB RINGLEADERS HAVE A SMILE.

Charged in San Bernardino Court With Peace Disturbance They Discover That the Case Against Them Is Not as Serious as They Had Supposed.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 1.—"Cyclone" Wilson, W. H. Beck and John Rogers were brought to the County Jail this morning by Sheriff Ralphs and Under Sheriff McNabb, charged with disturbing the peace of Mrs. Don, a restaurant-keeper of the Crackerjack district. They were arraigned this afternoon, and held by Justice Thomas under $100 bonds each.

The light bond caused a smile to sweep over the faces of the accused. Until this announcement was made they had taken their arrest seriously. They have retained Attorney Willis to defend them, and the trial has been set for next Tuesday morning, when a number of witnesses from the Crackerjack will be brought in to explain.

The accused are declared to be ringleaders of the lawless mob which bore down on Mrs. Don's restaurant, and drove her Chinese cook from the camp, on threat of death should he delay his departure. He was willing enough to leave under this pressure, and was aided by the owner of an automobile, who helped him escape from the mob to [illegible].

The movement against Japanese and Chinese is widespread, and the miners throughout the eastern end of the desert declare that it will be death to the Mongolian who attempts to enter that section. As a warning, notices threatening death to these undesirables have been freely posted at Daggett, Barstow and other points along the Santa Fé and Salt Lake railroads.

INSANE AT NINETEEN.

Judge Oster this afternoon issued an order adjudging Albert Coe insane, and issuing a commitment to the State asylum at Patton. The patient is 19 years old, and from his second year has been demented. At the early age of 12 months he showed remarkable precocity. His mental power astounded all until the second year, when a sudden loss of power resulted, and since then he has been almost a raving maniac, never a moment at liberty. During all these years his parents have kept him at home under private treatment, expecting that he would recover. Lately he has steadily become worse. In the courtroom the unfortunate made a violent demonstration.

DISTRIBUTE STORY ESTATE.

The murder of Mrs. Ella Story and suicide of her husband, Chester, was recalled this morning by the granting of decrees of final distribution in their respective estates. The Storys lived at Needles. He was employed as an engineer. Differences arose between them and a separation was effected, they signing property division agreements. A week later Story entered the house and shot his wife. A struggle ensued. He then committed suicide. The couple left three children, to whom are given the estates, which have an aggregate value of $10,000.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

An orange grower named Faulkner has commenced an action for damages against the Board of Horticultural Commissioners, asking $1900 for alleged damage to his orange grove near Upland, as a result of the fumigation. It is considered that this suit is merely an effort to escape payment for the work, which was needed, as the grove was infected.

Francisco Candelleria was sent to the County Jail by Judge Bledsoe this afternoon to serve three months for assault upon Engineer Milmne, employed at the Declez quarries. The Mexican, while intoxicated, attacked the engineer with a beer bottle, injuring him severely on the head and face, and might have beaten out the white man's brains but for the appearance of other whites.

Frank Johnson, who alleges that he is an employe of the Los Angeles water department, was sentenced by Judge Bledsoe this afternoon to serve two years and a half in San Quentin for the theft of a satchel from the Union Depot. A prior conviction rested against the accused, who was found guilty by a jury last week.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, April 1.—The recent cold snap is reported to have played havoc with the cherry blossoms in the Yucaipe Valley and from all that can be learned there will be a short crop this year. The recent heavy rains also injured the apricot blossoms somewhat but it is not thought the injury is serious.

J. M. Cadwell has traded his fifteen-acre orange grove at Redlands Junction to Joseph Fairchild for a consideration of $16,000, Mr. Fairchild trading in his Olive avenue property at [illegible].

O. T. Higgins, son of the late Gov. Higgins of New York, has purchased a ten-acre grove lying just back of Charles Putnam's home on Crescent avenue. Mr. Higgins will erect a fine residence on the ground for his future home.

Charles N. Archer left this afternoon for Atlanta, Ga., where he goes as a delegate to the world's convention of the Baracas. Mr. Archer will be one of the speakers at this convention. His subject being "The Baraca Idea and How It Works in California."

A party of prominent railroad officials of the Southern Pacific, Milwaukee and Pennsylvania systems visited the Yucaipe Valley yesterday in company with George W. Hopkins, who is at the head of the scheme to colonize the whole of Yucaipe Valley.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Contemporary Club was held this afternoon. The meeting takes the nature of a book symposium and is in charge of Miss Lucy Foote. Mrs. George Robertson of Mentone read a paper on religious books. Mrs. William Spoor read a paper on boys' books. Mrs. Worthington Green read a paper on "Present Appreciation and the Future Outlook of Poetry." Miss Janet Johnston and Miss Jane Shepard then discussed the relative merits of earlier and later fiction. Mrs. E. E. Spoor contributed a vocal number and Miss [illegible] played a piano solo.

The vocal pupils of Señor José Rodriguez, from both San Bernardino and Redlands, will give a recital April 20, in the Contemporary Clubhouse, which will be followed by a tea.

SAVING TIMBER IS THEIR AIM.

FOREST LOVERS GET TOGETHER IN RIVERSIDE.

Tri-Counties Committee Meets and Listens to Report on Progress in the Conservation of the Watersheds—Permanent Firebreaks Established.

RIVERSIDE, April 1.—The Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee, comprising forest lovers of Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties who are interested in protecting the timber growth of the San Bernardino watershed, held their quarterly meeting this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Francis Cuttle of Riverside, chairman of the committee, presided.

With much gratification the committee listened to Mr. Cuttle's report of the work done in the past three months. Mr. Cuttle reported that soon after the completion of the organization last November the work of building fire lanes and trails in the San Bernardino mountains was begun, and that this work is still in progress. One lane fifty feet wide has been built on the ridge of Mount Harrison from the valley to the summit. All trees and brush are dug out by the roots, thus making the work permanent so the lane may easily be kept clear.

Mr. Cuttle reported success in securing an appropriation of $5000 from the Forest Service Department, which was promised on condition that the State of California gave an equal amount. With the help of the representatives of the three counties in the Legislature, $5000 was also secured from the State. With these two appropriations, in addition to funds from other sources, about $13,000 has been raised for the purpose of carrying on the work of the organization in preserving the forests.

Mr. Cuttle reported that 40,000 trees have been planted about the head waters of City Creek. The matter of establishing a nursery in the San Bernardino Mountains for the propagation of pine trees has several times been called to the attention of the Forest Service. It is understood that acting on this suggestion a site will soon be selected and a forest tree nursery started. It was reported by Mr. Cuttle that complete data is being compiled for the purpose of making a proper presentation of the reforestation question to Congress at its next session.

RIVERSIDE RIPPLES.

Riverside has a new publication, As You Find It, the first number of which has just been issued. Frank C. Welch is president of the company, Leonard Coop is manager and Frank C. Russell is editor.

Mrs. Harwood Hall entertained the Socorro Club this afternoon at her home at Sherman Institute. The club is studying famous artists this year, and the papers of the afternoon were presented by Mrs. E. S. Moulton on the subject of "Rembrandt," and by Mrs. Hall on the subject of "Vandyke."

Coronado for the best climate.

RUNAWAY AT HEMET.

HEMET, April 1.—Quite a serious accident occurred here Sunday afternoon. Milan Leffingwell, Miss Kirby and Miss Harmon were driving west of town when their horse became frightened and ran. The buggy was overturned and the occupants thrown to the ground. Miss Harmon sustained two fractured ribs and a number of bad bruises. Miss Kirby and Mr. Leffingwell were bruised, but no bones were broken.

The Rev. B. H. Jacques left Monday, after a stay of two months during which time he had charge of the Baptist Church here. For the last two weeks he has held special meetings, and as a result, there were several conversions among the prominent members of the congregation. On Easter eight were taken into the church.

At a meeting of prominent Republicans recently, J. F. Furguson was nominated as a candidate for school trustee.

LOMPOC.

LOMPOC, April 1.—Officers are searching for L. M. Dixon, who recently bought a 200-acre ranch from E. M. Sheraden. The man, so it is alleged, presented a check for $100 drawn on a San Bernardino bank, that was cashed at the Valley Bank, and also gave a draft for $1200 on a bank in Oregon. In due time a reply came from San Bernardino that the man had no funds there, and immediately a warrant was issued for his arrest. Dixon represented himself as a wealthy contractor of Oregon, and also posed as a friend of a highly respected man of this town. He was desirous, he said, of establishing a home in this valley and would return North for his family.

The report of the bank commissioners, who lately examined the banks of Lompoc, speaks a good word for the prosperity of this valley. The Bank of Lompoc's report showed that institution's total resources to be $421,400.17. The resources of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings Bank amount to $174,959.14. The resources of the Lompoc Valley Bank are $208,714.76, and of the Lompoc Valley Savings Bank, $160,075.90. The total resources of the banks of this city amount to $965,149.97.

EXPERT TESTIFIES.

Important Evidence Presented in Forgery Trial at Santa Ana—Chinamen Cross Border.

SANTA ANA, April 1.—This morning J. W. Lackey, of Los Angeles, a handwriting expert who was called as a witness in the forgery trial of W. A. Stafford, testified that the hand that wrote the name of Mrs. L. H. Field as indorsement to a $5100 certificate of deposit in the First National Bank of Santa Ana was not the same hand that wrote some ten or twelve confessedly genuine signatures of Mrs. L. H. Field. This was the most important piece of evidence presented by the prosecution today. Last week, Mrs. Field testified that she did not indorse the certificate and she did not know how Stafford came into possession of it as she had left it unindorsed in her trunk. Stafford was nursing Mrs. Field's brother, W. H. Rector, at the time the certificate of deposit is supposed to have disappeared.

CHINAMEN HALTED.

Two footsore Chinamen were arrested yesterday evening at San Juan Capistrano by Constable O. B. Cook, and today they were turned over to John Candell of San Diego, a government customs inspector. The two men had worked their way across the Mexican border and were tramping along the coast toward Los Angeles when they were seen by Justice of the Peace Jack Landell of the mission town.

CHARACTER FOR DOLLARS.

Edwin Ward, well-known here in social and business circles, was this morning sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail by Justice of the Peace Smithwick. Ward went here by the name of J. Edwin Ward. This morning he told the justice the J had been prefixed to his name on his arrival in Santa Ana after the San Francisco disaster, and that his real name is simply Edwin Ward. He confessed to having stolen $33 from his employer, Theodore Winbigler, who had befriended him when he came south from the ruined city.

"I am unable to understand," said the justice, "what could have induced you to barter your liberty, character and standing in the community for $33."

"I can't understand it myself," said Ward.

Mrs. Ella Brown, a well-known resident of this city, died suddenly yesterday morning. She was shelling peas when death came.

A marriage license has been issued to William H. Walton, aged 22, and Fern M. Smith, aged 18, both of Los Angeles.

A rain that will do no good and will do harm, has just commenced. Ranchers need clear weather for plowing. The frequency of rains has retarded general farm work greatly.

Law Clutches Anaheim Man Arrested in Fullerton for Violating Liquor Ordinance.

ANAHEIM, April 1.—H. E. Katzander of this city was arrested in Fullerton a few days ago on a charge of going to that city and taking orders for whisky and beer for the Los Angeles liquor house. He said he did not know he was violating the city ordinance. He pleaded guilty this morning and Justice Ford of Fullerton fined him $200 and sentenced him to serve twenty-five days in the County Jail.

Godfrey Stock returned yesterday from a month's visit to Michigan where he was called on account of the dangerous illness of his father who is now better.

Miss Joyce Littlefield, daughter of former Postmaster Littlefield, and R. E. Donaldson of Los Angeles, were married at the home of the bride here yesterday. Both are well-known young people; they will reside in Los Angeles.

MARCH BUILDING RECORD.

Permits Issued for More Than a Millions Dollars' Worth of New Structures.

The report of building operations in Los Angeles for the month of March has been compiled by Building Inspector Backus. Building permits for 669 structures were issued, having a valuation of $1,273,156, a considerable increase over all March records from 1899 to 1905. As compared with March, 1906, the per cent. of decrease in valuation is 41.2, last year's valuation reaching the enormous total of $2,165,307. Permits show a loss of 27.8 per cent. as compared with the same month, a total of 927 permits having been issued last March.

The record for this March, as compared with 1905, shows a gain in valuation of 7.6 per cent., and a loss in number of permits issued of 12.2 per cent.

One class A steel construction building to cost $188,850, and one class A reinforced concrete structure estimated to cost $100,000, help to swell last month's record.

The ending of March also marked the ending of the first quarter of 1907. Figures show that the value of buildings, completed or under way in the three months of January, February and March, reach a total of $3,387,465 divided among 1833 permits. This compares with a total of $4,552,538 and permits to a total of 2526 for the same time last year.

Buildings.	Permits.	Valuation.
Class A, steel frame	1	$188,850
Class A, reinforced concrete	1	100,000

BEGS FOR MERCY.

With all this activity stirred up, the lottery company began to cry for mercy. It promised to cease business if the government only would let up in its relentless pursuit. It is said they have conducted no drawing since last February. They practically are out of business, but the piper still is to be paid for their sins of the past.

What this payment shall be will be for the Federal grand jury to determine when it convenes at Mobile on the 8th inst. Witnesses from all over the country will be examined at that time.

If nothing more be gained, it is declared that the lottery company will be put out of business for the first time in forty years.

Armbrecht and Sauter, who have been on the trail since January 15, will leave Los Angeles today for Mobile, by way of San Francisco and Denver. They have been parties to one of the biggest jobs ever attempted by the Secret service of the government. That they have been successful already is a matter of history.

MEN ONLY
I Cure the Cases That Others Cannot Cure
A bold statement, but just as true as it is bold. Not all cases that others fail to cure are curable by my methods, but fully ninety per cent. of them are. The way to learn whether your case is curable is to consult me. I know exactly what can be done in every instance. I ought to know this, for I have done nothing else other than treat men's diseases for twenty-five years. If your case is curable I will treat you. If it isn't I will not. If I treat you, and if you so desire,
I Will Wait for My Fee Until You Are Well.
WEAKNESS
Weakness in men is comparatively a simple ailment and is but a symptom of local disorder, a congestion of an important nerve center. No stimulating treatment, whether internal or locally applied, can do more than excite temporary activity. By my system of local treatment I restore absolutely normal conditions throughout the organs involved, which promptly results in complete and permanent restoration of strength and vigor. This treatment is original with me, and is the only radical and certain cure yet devised.
VARICOCELE
Varicocele is a relaxation, knotting and twisting of the most vital blood vessels of the organic system. It stagnates the local circulation and interferes with the processes of waste and repair. Neglect brings derangement of functions and injury to the general health. Most physicians resort to surgical operations and hospital treatment. I cure Varicocele in one week without operation, pain or detention from business. My cures are absolutely permanent and no ill effects whatever can follow my treatment.
DR. TAYLOR

I also cure all special diseases of men such as Hydrocele, Nervous Debility, Blood Diseases, etc.
EXAMINATION FREE
I offer not only Free Consultation and Advice, but to every case that comes to me I will make a careful Examination and Diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about this trouble. If you cannot call, write for diagnosis chart. My offices are open all day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., and Sundays from 10 to 1.

We Make the Sick Well; We Make the Weak Strong; We Cure to Stay Cured
Inflammatory Cases
Modern methods of treatment for all diseases of inflammatory nature, whether accompanied by catarrhal symptoms or not. We never use the surgeon's knife if it can be avoided, and only then upon the expressed wish of the patient. We believe that appendicitis is better cured by medical means than by cutting out the veriform appendix. Enlargement of the prostate gland we cure by reducing it, not by removing it. Inflammation of the kidneys and bladder is speedily healed and the patient saved from fatal results which generally follow neglected cases of years' standing. We cure rectal diseases, piles, etc., without surgery, and render the cures permanent. We have extraordinary success with varicocele, which, under our superior treatment, quickly vanishes, the swelling subsiding, stagnant blood being absorbed and circulation restored with regainment of vigor and retainment of healthy functions.
Nervous troubles often have their seat in local causes where inflammation, swelling and pain have rendered the patient a wretched wreck, despairing of ever being a well man again. The gloom and despondency which attends those who are fearful that they never can be relieved of private diseases, will instantly vanish as soon as our treatment begins to take wholesome effect. Come to us as a friend. Advice free.
We hold out no false hopes. We fulfill every promise.
Hernia
Sufferers from Rupture will be glad to know that this dangerous and desperate affliction can be cured without resort to the surgeon's cruel knife. Our treatment is painless, harmless and we will fix the breach firmly and heal the wound without it being necessary to wear a truss all your life. We never operate unless the patient expresses preference for that method, and insists upon it. We cure cases of long standing, which have been mistreated by others.
Rectal Diseases
We cure Piles and Fistula scientifically and without discomfort or pain. Once discharged as cured from these offices, you never need fear recurrence of the affliction. If others have failed to benefit you, come to us. If we cannot benefit you, we will not take pay. We only charge for cures. Our methods of treatment avail where others fail. Have confidence in us. We can cite hundreds of cases where patients bless us for relief from trouble. Consultation free.

Every Man
Who Has Lost His Vigor and Vitality Can Regain It Now
Who Is Suffering From Any Ailment of Men Can Be Cured
Men suffer week in and month out because they know no better. Diseases of a private nature make them backward to tell of their condition. They many times take their case to those who have not had the necessary experience to treat intelligently those ailments peculiar to the male sex. That is where I have the advantage. I have made a study of men's diseases for years. It is my life-work—my specialty. I can cure you.
Examinations are strictly confidential and private. They are thorough and careful. I have every appliance needed to aid in treating complicated troubles.
A few days' treatment will prove to you the success of my methods. Medicines are free. Consultation costs you nothing.

Yesterday's Forecast and Report.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, April 1.—[Reported by A. B. Wollaber, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.96; at 5 p.m., 29.99. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 56 deg. and 61 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 98 per cent.; 5 p.m., 72 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., south, velocity 8 miles. Maximum temperature, 67 deg.; minimum, 56 deg. Rainfall past twenty-four hours, trace; rainfall for season, 18.90 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—During the last twenty-four hours, a moderate storm area has moved up from the Southwest, and together with a moderate disturbance over the Dakotas, now forms a trough of low pressure extending from Manitoba to Western Mexico. This development has caused considerable cloudy weather in California, but as yet no precipitation of consequence has occurred. Light showers fell yesterday in Northwest and Western Oregon, while considerable precipitation occurred along the Atlantic coast. Elsewhere, fair weather has prevailed. The eastward movement of the storm mentioned above is blocked by a slow-moving high area which covers the central portion of the United States, and until the storm moves east, the weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will continue more or less cloudy and unsettled, probably with showers at intervals.

San Luis Obispo	24.44	19.19
Los Angeles	18.90	15.42
San Diego	9.92	9.37

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The pressure is falling over all the Pacific Slope, except south of the Tehachepi, where there has been a sudden rise. A moderate depression is forming over Nevada, which may cause unsettled weather Tuesday, and possibly showers, throughout most of California. The temperature has fallen 10 deg. or more from Fresno to San Diego. There were traces of rain at Fresno, Los Angeles and San Luis Obispo.

Forecast:

ONLY OIL STOCKS TRADED ON 'CHANGE.

TRADING on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was confined to oil stocks exclusively, yesterday. Prices showed little change as compared with the closing quotations of Saturday.

Associated Oil was the leader. An even hundred shares changed hands on a rising scale of prices, with low at 40.50 and high at 41.25 cash, 42 buyer thirty days and 41.25 seller thirty days. The close was at 41.50, the bid showing a rise of ¾, while the holding price was up ½.

Olinda Land was the only other trader, 1000 shares changing hands at 19¾, showing a rise of ½ point as compared with the selling price of Saturday. The demand was rather weak, the close quoting the security at 19½ with none offered. Mexican petroleum closed at 1.30@1.34 without trading. Central Oil remained almost stationary at 1.13¼@1.15. Columbia Oil closed at 80½@82½. Globe Oil was bid for at 10½ and offered at 12½.

Union Oil came in for a considerable play on the bidding, but no trading resulted. The close was at 209@211.50. Rice Ranch was offered at 3.10 and bid for at 2.90.

Edison preferred was ex-divided yesterday and was offered at 90, closing without a bid. Home preferred closed with a bid at 63 and an offering at 66. The common stock of the same company shows a rise of 1½ on the bid, closing at 23.50@30. United States Long Distance was bid for at 50 and held at 53.

The session of the mining call was unmarked by any great amount of trading. Prices continued to weaken fractionally on almost every sale made.

Clark Copper sold down to a new low level at 23 yesterday, on transactions totaling 2500 shares only. The close was at 21¾@24. Johnnie also went down lower than it has been before, selling at 10. Trading amounted to 2000 shares. The closing bid was at 9½ with stock at 10. South Furnace Creek is on the sales sheet with a trade of 1000 shares at 4¾. Two thousand shares of Fair View Central were sold at 10@8. This is the first transaction in this stock made on the exchange since it was listed. Eldorado Cañon sold at 2¾, closing at 2¾@3. Nevada Searchlight changed hands at 3½.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Rice Ranch Oil Company yesterday afternoon, the regular monthly dividend of 3 per cent. was continued. This is the third month the Rice Ranch Oil Company has declared its dividend of 3 per cent. The direcotrs say it is their intention to continue this rate of payment throughout the year, making the stock on a 36 per cent. security, a showing no other security listed on the local Stock Exchange can make.

It is stated unofficially that the new preferred stock of the Mexican Petroleum Company will be issued on or before May 15, and will immediately be put on a 4 per cent. dividend-paying basis. This is in the same ratio as that paid by the present issue, which pays 8 per cent. at present, as two shares of the preferred stock of the Mexican Petroleum Company, Limited, will be exchanged for one share of the present company. The company hopes to put the new preferred stock on a 6 per cent. basis by June 1, and plans to have the stock paying its maximum dividend of 8 per cent. by November, at which time the $38,000,000 worth of common stock may also be paying about 2 per cent.

A rumor, which seems to be very well founded, has been heard to the effect that Union Oil may be put on an increased dividend-paying basis within two months. At present the stock is paying 9 per cent., which on the valuation of 212, about which the stock has ranged for several months, gives a return on the money invested of less than 4½ per cent. It may be raised to 12 per cent.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Trade was active in all lines yesterday morning, and the outlook for April for the continuance of business on the present basis is excellent. While changes in prices were few, the general tendency was toward steadiness.

There was little change in the egg situation. Receipts over Saturday and Sunday were 888 cases. A shipment of eastern offerings came in for storing. Surplus stocks of local eggs are being candied for storage. Butter was nominal. San Francisco is short of supplies.

Raspberries from Tropico were in the market and sold at 40c a basket. Loquats are in good demand at 8c per pound.

Potatoes were active and fancy stocks were firm. Prices on fancy goods are as previously quoted. Minnesotas were offered on 'Change at 1.75 per hundred, and Colorados at 1.70.

Better weather and better roads have caused an increased supply of vegetables.

Asparagus and rhubarb were more plentiful. Turnips glutted the market. Peas were in moderate supply.

M. D. McArthur, secretary of the San Francisco Produce Exchange, paid a visit to the local exchange session yesterday morning. McArthur gave a short talk on how business is transacted on 'Change in San Francisco.

Fish was equal to all demands.

The receipts of produce as reported for Saturday's and Sunday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 888 cases; butter, 22,907 lbs.; cheese, 2888 lbs.; potatoes, 3392 sacks; onions, none; beans, 75 sacks; sweet potatoes, none.

Prices Current.

Jumbo Extension was off 17½ points on the close; Combination Fraction, 15; St. Ives, 5, and Booth, 5. In the Bullfrog camp, Mayflower Consolidated continued to be the center of attraction, 9000 shares changing hands in the morning, closing strong at 52 bid. The Manhattans held steady at Saturday's prices, while the Tonopahs weakened a shade on the close. New York Cotton Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—There is no Liverpool market today and consequently no guide to opening prices. The week ending figures are susceptable of every construction and the surface must be regarded as a shade bearish. This is because spinners takings of American cotton last week were 237,265 against 315,029 last year. The heavy figures of last year are due to a minus correction the stock amounting to 92,000 bales, which was added to last year's spinners takings, leaving out this correction and considering the fact that spinners' takings are rapid for only part of a week this year the figures are likely to be considered bullish on close analysis. Exports last week 210,000.

PORT ITEMS.

WEATHER: Clear at 5 p.m.; wind southwest, velocity 12 miles.

The North Pacific Steamship Company's steamer Roanoke, Capt. Dunham, arrived this morning from Portland, via Eureka and San Francisco, with a good freight and passenger list. She is scheduled to clear on the return trip tomorrow night with freight and passengers.

The steamer Marshfield, Capt. Dettmers, arrived today from Hardy Creek, bringing 250,000 feet of lumber consigned to the San Pedro Lumber Company.

The schooner Lucy, Capt. Peterson, will sail tomorrow for the same point with cement.

The steamer Aberdeen, Capt. Ahlstrom, arrived this morning from Gray's Harbor, via San Francisco, bringing 550,000 feet of lumber consigned to various wholesalers at this port.

The barkentine James Tufts, Capt. Freeburg, thirteen days from Bellingham, is discharging 1,400,000 feet of lumber for the E. K. Wood Lumber Company.

The barkentine John Smith, Capt. Nelson, arrived fifteen days from Blaine with 650,000 feet of lumber consigned to the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company.

The schooner Marconi has loaded a lumber cargo at Knappton, near Tacoma, for Callao, Peru.

The five-masted schooner Crescent has arrived at Tacoma from San Pedro, and has been chartered to load a return cargo for this port.

The barkentine Lahaina, Capt. Carlsen, is loaded at Portland with 1,300,000 feet of lumber for San Pedro, but is unable to get a crew. Sailors are now asking $45 for the run from Portland to San Francisco.

It has been announced at Eureka that the steamers George W. Elder and Roanoke will make calls at Coos Bay on their trips to and from Portland and San Pedro in the future, in answer to an appeal from Portland, Eureka and Coos Bay merchants.

The passenger and freight steamer Bonita, Capt. Nicholson, is due to arrive tonight or tomorrow morning from San Francisco and way ports with cargo consigned to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

The steamship Ohio, Capt. Brown, which arrived yesterday from Honolulu with the excursionists of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, cleared tonight for Seattle with a cargo of freight and creosote roofing.

GENERAL MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—The stock market operated again today without London to serve as an index to the foreign attitude. There was a time today when this seemed to arouse misgivings over the extent to which prices were being carried away from the level ruling when London last traded in our securities on Thursday last. The rebound of Friday was materially extended by the gains which were added today. The resumption of trading in London tomorrow is awaited with interest to see what view will be taken of the rapidity of the recovery here. The drop in Canadian Pacific at the opening here was largely due to stock supplied from foreign sources as the extent of the short interest in that stock revealed on Friday last made it in eager demand still. The demand promptly reasserted its influence in the stock and it rebounded violently. The fact that Friday's rebound in that stock was sufficient to bring out large offerings to foreign holdings suggested a possibility of what might happen in the general list when London resumes tomorrow and led to the general reaction after the opening, wiping out practically all of the gains and establishing some striking losses from the closing level of last Friday. The movement of Great Northern preferred also acted as a damper upon the early strength of the market. The heaviness of this stock seemed to be connected with the official information by the company that the original terms for payment of subscriptions to the new stock would be unchanged by the delay in the issue caused by the litigation to enjoin it. This would call for the payment of four 10 per cent. installments, amounting to some $24,000,000 on April 5. The subscription rights were dealt in upon the stock exchange for the first time today and declined to a lower level than was touched upon the curb when the judicial decision in favor of the company was first announced. Another factor in the early reaction was the knowledge that a formal announcement was imminent from President Roosevelt on the subject of the governmental policy toward the railroads. Rumors were current upon the stock exchange anticipated the statement was to be in effect a retraction of former views and an expressed determination to continue in them. This version caused a distinct halt in the rise of prices, but the rise was actively renewed when reports got abroad that emphasis was to be laid by the executive of disapproval of any project that would invalidate railroad securities. Decided relief was felt over the improved money situation and at the first of April, fairly passed, it was believed that a relaxation would follow in the money market. Rates for time loans were marked down decisively. The subtreasury report showing a gain by the banks since Friday of nearly $9,000,000, demonstrated that the effects of the treasury relief measures were not to be confined to the bank statement of last week. Another decisively strengthening influence on the market was the better prospect reported of a settlement with a strike of the claims of western railroad employees for higher wages and a reduced working day. Most of the day's gains were retained to the last, although, the closing tone was rather feverish. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $1,924,000. United States bonds, the 2s coupon declined ⅛ per cent. on call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKET.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—Green bug reports and unfavorable weather for the growing crop caused firmness today in the wheat market. An active demand for wheat, especially for the May option caused reports of an increased area affected by the green bug and by statements of damage by frost in Indiana. About the middle of the day the market eased off because of the report of a crop which made the condition of wheat on April 1, 88-1 compared with 90.2 for the corresponding day last year. This report seemed to dispense with some of the fears raised by reports of green bug damage. The market rallied again near the close on buying by shorts. The close was steady. May wheat opened unchanged to ⅛ higher at 76¼@76⅜, sold up to 76⅞ and then declined to 76⅜. The close was at 76⅝@¾.

Trading in the corn pit was small and the tone of the market was easy. May opened unchanged at 46⅛, sold at 46¼ and then declined to 45⅝. Final quotations were at 45⅞. May oats at the opening sold at 43¼, the highest point of the season. May opened a shade to ⅛@⅜ higher at 43@43⅛, sold off to 42⅜ and closed at 42⅝@¾. Provisions were firm because of a 10@15c advance in the price of live hogs. At the close May pork was up 15c; lard was up 7½ and ribs were 10@12½ higher. The board of trade will be closed tomorrow, election day.

Liverpool Cotton Market

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

LIVERPOOL, April 1.—There was no session of the Liverpool Cotton Exchange today.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Liverpool was closed today and the local market exhibited a dull and featureless tone. Trading this morning was almost entirely professional and the range of prices was very narrow. Rains were reported in the southwest Texas and this caused some commission houses selling of new crop months but temperatures were entirely too low to encourage much selling. The movement shows a gradual falling off and the into sight for the present week is now estimated at about 190,000. Port receipts estimated 14,000; last year 12,000.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, April 1.—With the London market closed, metals were quiet today and with the exception of tin were generally unchanged. Tin was higher with spot quoted at 40.30@40.62½, an advance of a little over 20 points on the average. Copper unchanged, more or less nominal. Lake is quoted at 24.75@25.25; electrolytic, 24.25@25.00, and casting at 23.75@24.25. Exports for the month of March were 3906 tons. Lead was quiet and unchanged at 6.00@6.30 according to shipment. Spelter was dull at 6.80@6.90. Iron was unchanged.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, April 1.—The new Methodist Church opened its doors in honor of a double wedding yesterday. Miss Anna Harbour and Eugene Lighthall of Orange, and C. E. Bell and Miss Anna Alsback of Santa Ana were united in marriage by Rev. Woodward of the Methodist Church. Mr. Bell is an uncle of Mrs. Lighthall nee Harbour. The church was filled to overflowing with interested relatives, friends and spectators, probably 500 people being present, while many were unable to get in. The rostrum was beautifully decorated with palm leaves, festoons of smilax and white roses, with wedding bells hanging overhead and with banks of beautiful callas at the front and sides. Mr. and Mrs. Gleason sang "Flowerland" before the ceremony. Addison Lighthall and Glen Breeding acted as best men, while Mrs. Addison Lighthall and Mrs. Glen Breeding acted as matrons of honor. The brides were gowned just alike in clinging white silk, trimmed with applique and allover lace. The matrons of honor, themselves brides of but a few months, wore their wedding gowns. After the ceremony, the relatives and friends of the couples adjourned tothe Lighthall home, where supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Lighthall will live in Orange, while Mr. and Mrs. Bell will go to the groom's home in Inyo county.

When buying food you naturally patronize the grocer who previously sold you the best goods; when purchasing anything else the situation is the same. Then when buying an investment why not purchase it, too, of the firm that has the best. One trial will convince you of the honesty of this assertion. Notice of Sale

OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL LANDS AND BUILDINGS AT LOS ANGELES.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the State Normal School at Los Angeles, California, will sell the lands and buildings thereon of the State Normal School situate on the Southwest corner of Grand Avenue and West Fifth Streets in the City of Los Angeles, California, which said lands are particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point in the West line of Grand Avenue, formerly Charity Street, Three Hundred (300) feet Northerly from the intersection of the North line of Sixth Street with the West line of Grand Avenue; running thence Northerly following the West line of Grand Avenue, Three Hundred Ninety (390) feet; thence Westerly and parallel with Sixth Street, Five Hundred Seventy-eight (578) feet; thence Southerly at right angles to Sixth Street, Three Hundred Ninety (390) feet; thence Easterly parallel with Sixth Street, Five Hundred Seventy-eight (578) feet to the place of beginning, and being the property formerly known as the Bellevue Terrace, together with the buildings thereon, and known as the State Normal School Buildings and property.

Said sale will be made at Public Auction, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., on Saturday, the 6th day of April, A. D., 1907, at the Grand Avenue doorway (main entrance) of said State Normal School Building.

Said lands and buildings will be sold to the highest bidder and the terms of said sale will be cash, ten (10%) per cent. of amount of bid, to be paid immediately on acceptance of bid, and the balance within thirty (30) days on delivery of deed, and confirmation of sale by said Board, and no offer or bid will be accepted of less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars, and said Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids and offers therefor, and also reserves the right to continue the day of sale from time to time, and as many times as in their judgment may be necessary, and also to appoint another day or days of sale, and publish notice thereof, until the said lands and buildings shall have been sold, but said lands and buildings will be sold as a whole or as one lot and parcel, and at one price of not less than Five Hundred Thousand ($500,000.00) Dollars.

Said Board will furnish a certificate of title showing the title to be good and perfect, and will cause to be executed and delivered to the purchaser a good and sufficient deed of conveyance of said lands and buildings in the usual form of grant, bargain and sale.

And as further terms and conditions of said sale, said Board reserves the right of possession of said lands and buildings for the use of said Normal School until July 1, 1907, and the successful bidder will be required concurrently with the delivery of deed to execute and deliver to said Board of Trustees a lease of said lands and buildings for the use of said Normal School for the term of one year, commencing July 1, 1907, and ending July 1, 1908, at the monthly rent of Twenty-five Hundred ($2500.00) Dollars per month to be paid monthly during said term according to law.

Said sale will include only said lands and buildings, and said Board excepts and reserves from said sale all furnishings and fixtures, a list of which is included in the resolution and minutes of said Board directing this sale, and for further particulars regarding the details reference may be had thereto.

Said sale will be made pursuant to the Act of the Legislature of California authorizing and directing such sale.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the State Normal School at Los Angeles.

Attest:

JOHN WASSON,
President.
J. F. MILLSPAUGH,
Secretary.

All But One of Them Vote to Appropriate Ten Thousand Apiece from General Fund "Ford Lord's Service—The One Threatens Legal Proceedings if They Do It.

The Holiness Band is suffering from the woes of a plethoric purse. Too much money has been its undoing.

Between twenty and thirty years ago, when newcomers were casting about to see "where they were at" in the religious maelstrom of a budding city, and when down-town property was worth less than suburban property is today, the Holiness Band was formed, and purchased a lot on Fourth street, between Spring and Broadway. A building was erected and the ground floor rented for business purposes to pay expenses. The religious meetings were held on the second floor.

For some years the Holiness Band flourished, but as churches multiplied, the members drifted into other regular organizations and left the Fourth-street property in the hands of a few.

Worldly wisdom conquered the tenacity of the few who held the property in trust, and a few weeks ago they sold it for $110,000, the title being given by the trustees, Mrs. V. P. S. Zumwalt, F. E. Normandy, Mrs. Henrietta Normandy, Dr. C. Lane, James Hamilton, Mrs. R. H. Potts and Mrs. R. A. Hupp.

Everything was lovely until part of the money was in the bank. The holy trustees could not brook the idea of its lying idle, when it might be working for the Lord, but how to use it they could not agree.

That they took the easiest way out of the difficulty everybody will agree. They just voted to each trustee a snug $10,000, to spend as he, or she thought best.

They all thought that was a real nice way to do it, with the exception of Mrs. Hupp, who declined to accept the responsibility. The other six were about to take possession of the funds allotted to them, when Mrs. Hupp, through her son, who is an attorney, notified the bank that an injunction would be secured against the withdrawal of any of the money until the matter was properly adjusted by the courts.

Speaking for the trustees last night, F. E. Normandy said: "We do that for the Lord."

He explained that none of the trustees had any need of the money and that they meant to expend it solely in the Lord's business.

"Now see here," said Mr. Normandy, when told of the threatened injunction, "that's all a lie. I know they want to make some accusations, but there's nothing in it. We do that for the Lord. Everyone of the trustees has plenty for himself and does not need the Holiness money. Mrs. Hupp had a chance to come in like the rest, but she didn't do it, and then she got mad and threatened to make trouble.

"Some of the trustees thought we ought to spend the money one way and some thought we ought to spend it another way, so we divided it up, and each one will spend it for the Lord in the way he thinks best. Some will go to the poor, some to China and some to other places, but we will not use it for ourselves, and I hope you will not say anything bad about the Holiness Band."

After having carefully read the statement attributed to Mr. Hupp, to the effect that the trustees proposed to pocket the money, Mr. Normandy said:

"That's all foolishness the way he puts it. We'll fix that; there will be nothing to it; we'll hand it in all right."

HIS EFFECTS SUSPICIOUS.

In Room of Man Arrested for Vagrancy Are Found Opium Smokers' and Gamblers' Outfits.

Louis Nickerson was arrested yesterday and charged with vagrancy. His sweetheart, Gladys Williams, was also taken into custody on suspicion, but will probably be released today. Nickerson will be held, however, as a search of his rooms after his arrest leads the police to believe that other charges than vagrancy can be lodged against him.

A complete opium smoking outfit was found, the pipe, bowl and sticks showing the effects of much use. The room was gayly decorated with college pennants, pictures of actresses, and with trophies and souvenirs.

Among other things a complete card "sharp's" outfit was discovered. This consists of a peculiar device by which cards are worked into the hands by means of a spring attachment fastened to the forearm. With the aid of this device it was possible for Nickerson to provide himself with any card he desired.

Nickerson is said to be a confirmed "hop head." In a conspicuous place in his room was found a printed copy of the "Hop Head's Dream."

VICTORY FOR PATENTEE.

Injunction and Damages Granted Against Persons Who Have Made Solar Water Heaters.

After four days' argument in the United States Court Judge Wellborn yesterday decided the case of Charles L. Haskell vs. the Rice Manufacturing Company and M. J. Cunniff in favor of the plaintiff, granting him practically all that was asked in his complaint. The suit was a contest for certain patent rights to a solar water heater. Haskell claimed to own the patent and alleged in his complaint that the defendants were infringing upon his rights. He sued for a permanent injunction and for damages. He also demanded royalties from the defendants for their unsold stock of solar water heaters.

The court has granted all of his demands. The question of the amount of damages to be assessed will be decided by commissioners to be appointed by the court. The amount, according to Mr. Haskell, probably will exceed $5000.

ADMITS PRICE COMBINE.

CHICAGO, April 1.—F. A. Holbrook, secretary of the manufacturers' combination on school and church furniture, who was recently indicted by the Federal grand jury on the charge of conspiring to effect combines in prices in restraint of trade, today entered a plea of guilty before Judge Landis. Sentence was deferred. Holbrook, who was the only individual indicted, was the agent in Chicago and chairman of the Prudential Club, said to have been organized for the purpose of preventing competition in the sale of church and school furniture in the United States.

MILLIONAIRE DUNLAP MARRIES.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) April 1.—William A. Dunlap, the millionaire of New York City, and Miss Lavender Jane Byers were married here today. The couple, accompanied by Miss Byers's mother, reached the city yesterday and were married in the Plankington Hotel. Rev. G. A. Scott, a Methodist minister, performed the ceremony. It is said that the Dunlaps will spend their honeymoon in Salt Lake City, later going to Nevada.

BULLFROG ON THE JUMP.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD, (Nev.) March 30.—With the controller of the currency's approval of the application for a national bank at Rhyolite, the assurance of the immediate construction of a big custom mill, the completion of railway connections direct to the south, east and west, with the near approach of the line from the north, with a stock exchange of its own running full blast, and securities untouched by industrial strife that is vexing other Nevada camps, Bullfrog district is forging to the front as never before.

Applicants for the organization of the First National Bank of Rhyolite are Oscar J. Smith, Bert L. Smith, C. T. Bender, C. M. Mapes and S. H. Wheeler. The capitalization will be $50,000 and the new institution is intended to absorb the Southern Nevada Banking Company, which had announced that it was soon to remove from the town of Bullfrog to Rhyolite. This will be the first national bank organized in any Southern Nevada mining camp.

The custom mill, of fifty tons per day capacity, is being built by the Nevada Milling and Ore Purchasing Company, which has developed water enough for the treatment of 500 tons of ore daily and is estimated to be worth in this desert land at least $250,000. The mill will be of inestimable benefit to the district for the reason that within close range there are mountains of milling ore on the dumps and blocked out in the stopes, not rich enough to ship but carrying values that will mill here to big advantage. Officers of the company are W. H. Malone of Denver, president; E. H. Sanford of Goldfield, vice-president, and F. H. Stickney of Rhyolite, secretary and treasurer.

Bullfrog is now freighting to the smelters at Salt Lake and San Pedro harbor via the Clark road, which in a short time will also connect that camp with Goldfield and the main line of the Southern Pacific. The Brock system is hurrying construction of a parallel road between Goldfield and Rhyolite. The Tonopah and Tidewater is coming up from the Santa Fé on the south and there are two projected railways from the Ely and Austin country, to take in Manhattan, Tonopah and Goldfield en route and connect with the southern systems at Rhyolite.

PLANNING MORE WORK.

King's Daughters to Start Campaign for Building New Day Nursery. Anniversary Celebration.

The King's Daughters' Day Nursery is planning to celebrate its twelfth anniversary April 15 with a fine, large reception, to show the public just what has been done. A beautiful Easter service was held at the nursery, No. 132 Clarence street, the president, Mrs. M. E. Kimball, presiding. A feature was the singing by the children of Easter songs, and also recitations in keeping with the season. They all were splendid, and especially charming as sung by the sweet child voices. Mmes. Wuerker and Le Sage gave Easter solos, and little Miss Le Sage, aged 7, lisped an Easter song.

Mrs. Anna S. Averill gave an inspiring talk, and an offering was taken up which amounted to $4. This is to be sent to the famine sufferers in China. Lilies and marguerites decorated the rooms, and the children were presented with pretty pansy plants, much to their delight. There was a fine attendance of friends and relatives, who expressed much delight.

In a quiet way the people interested in the nursery are planning soon to commence their campaign for a building fund for a new nursery. Ten thousand dollars must be raised, and soon the appeal is to be made.

SHRINERS RUSHING.

Telegrams Yesterday Tell of Many New Entries—Nineteen Magnificent Patrols Now Assured.

Possibilities for the gorgeous Shrine pageant, at Fiesta time grow brighter every day. News received yesterday by Mr. Flint makes the coming of nineteen brilliant patrols an absolute certainty.

Minneapolis and St. Paul telegraphed yesterday that these twin cities had just united on a fine special train. The Minneapolis patrol will be on board.

El Zaribah, thriving temple at Phoenix, Ariz., will be represented by 100 Shriners and their wives, quartered at the Hollenbeck. Their patrol will number thirty-six.

Lulu Temple of Philadelphia has just telegraphed that it will bring another of the magnificent Pennsylvania specials.

Georgia, Florida and Alabama have just united on a big special train, and wired Mr. Flint to this effect last night.

Detroit telegraphed that it has been compelled to stop all further entries to its lits of excursionists.

Rajah Temple of Redding, Pa., is the latest on the list.

A special order for 10,000 lanterns has just been placed in Japan. These illuminants will be lettered "Al Malaikah, Los Angeles, 1907," and will be carried by the dress-suited line of march in the three great night parades.

COMING IN ROYAL STYLE.

Butte Shriners Will Bring Band and Five Autos and Spend Thousands for Fun.

E. H. Bremoter of Catalina, formerly a Montana cattleman, and who represented his district in the State Legislature, has had a "call to the wild." It comes in the shape of a telegram from his old Shriners' lodge at Butte, placing him in command of its organization for the contemplated trip to Los Angeles, and ordering him to report for duty on or about the 25th inst. The lodge has engaged the services of the Boston and Montana band of sixty pieces, and has chartered a special train of twelve Pullmans. The party will come by way of Tonopah and Beatty. An entire floor of one of the Spring street hotels has been engaged. The lodge has also had sent out from New York five big autos, with chauffeurs. Three of the autos have already arrived in Los Angeles, and the others are en route.

Mr. Brewster has been notified that the lodge has voted to place the sum of $5000 in his hands, to be used for the purpose of keeping them entertained, and he says if any one of "my wild and woolly friends from the sagebrush has a dull moment it will not be my fault."
